VALUE AND VARIETY.
VARIETY, according to Dr. South, is NOTHING else but CONTINUED NOVELTY, which, in the PHILOSOPHY of Ruskin, QUICKENS OBSERVATION. Anyhow, when VARIETY and NOVELTY are COMBINED with VALUE they become ATTRACTIONS that are IRRESISTIBLE to SHOPPERS who, in THESE days of KEEN buying, demand
TOP QUALITY AT BOTTOM PRICE.
IT would be DIFFICULT to find MORE EFFECTIVE examples of these DESIRABLE CONDITIONS than are PRESENTED in the MANCHESTER DEPARTMENT—one of the most POPULAR sections of the NEW PALACE EMPORIUM. There is VARIETY and NOVELTY that puts ALL competitive EFFORTS in the SHADE, while VALUE that is BEYOND COMPARISON is ASSURED by

In the production of "The Ironmaster" the Company did not hesitate to call upon Mme. Jane Hading to fill the role of the beautiful and high-spirited Clair, for she has played the part on the stage with the success that is known to the whole play-going public. And so this great Actress has followed the example of the Author himself, and has overcome her prejudices in regard to the cinematograph, appearing for the first time before the camera. To say that Mme. Jane Hading will be on the screen what she is on the stage—
SURELY THAT IS ENOUGH!

The FAHR Factory has been long established — since 1815. FAHR Pianos have been sold in Australia for more than 45 years. Over 42,000 are in use.

The tone of the FAHR PIANO is peculiar to itself, possessing the rare quality aimed for by many makers, but realised by few. It is pure, mellow, sympathetic, of much volume, and of the most pleasing and refined character.

The Action of the FAHR Piano possesses all the requisites demanded by the most exacting artist, and is the best that human ingenuity and skill have yet devised.

The Case Designs of the FAHR Piano are very artistic. The Cases are all doubly veneered. The Veneers used are the finest to be found in the markets of Europe.

FAHR Pianos are made in different Styles, and range in price from £48 upwards. The £48 Fahr Piano is 4ft 1in high, and has been proclaimed "The Ideal Piano for the Home."

FAHR Pianos can be purchased on very easy terms, a small deposit, and 20s per month.

CHAPTER III.—Continued.

Mademoiselle was even more delighted than I myself at the fortunate turn matters had taken, and I am afraid I was hypocrite enough not to tell her how very simply it had all been arranged.

"I was sure you would succeed," she said, as we were walking through the little town. "I had not even to open my lips."

"It was a simple enough matter," I replied airily.

"Because you are one of those men who get their own way. I think that inclines me to be rather afraid of you."

"Is 'afraid' precisely the word you mean?"

"Yes. Precisely. I should not fear your doing me an injury—not that sort of fear at all; but—there are such possibilities ahead when the leaves of this chapter have been turned down that——" She finished the sentence with a characteristic toss of the hands.

"Chapter, you call it; not preface?"

"No, no," she replied vigorously. "Do you know what I was nearly doing when you were with the inspector? I was left alone for a minute, and I got up, intending to leave the place, and—and disappear."

"And what stopped you?"

She disregarded the question. "It would have been for the best thing."

"And, being a woman, you stayed—because it was the best thing to go."

"You know why I stayed," she protested quickly. "If I had known that there was not to be any trouble I should have gone. I am not quite such an illogical person as you suggest."

"In my opinion you did far the best thing by not disappearing."

"Ah! you are thinking of the momentary difficulty of getting away. I am not. That is nothing—nothing at all. I am thinking of——" She spread her arms with a sigh of perplexity.

"I think I know," I said quietly. "You are thinking of the next chapter. Suppose we agree to leave that until this one is finished. Anyhow, here's the inspector," I broke off, as a dogcart approached.

Mademoiselle was very silent for some distance, and I was thinking closely of what she had said about "the next chapter." It was easy to gather that our views clashed about that. I was quite resolved that there should not be any such "disappearance" as she seemed to contemplate. I would act loyally in this first "chapter," but there should be others to follow; and I was only too willing to drop the subject, lest she should ask for some pledge which would hamper my actions in that respect.

What her reasons might be I could not guess; nor, if the truth be told, did I very much care. It was enough for me to know that she was not married; she herself had told me that; and as for the rest one could at least claim the same chances as any other man. Nor would I give any pledge not to seek for her. I would keep the promise I had already given to get her to London, to let her leave me when and where she would, and to go unquestioned. But it was not in human nature, at least it was not in mine, when every word she uttered charmed me, every look fascinated, and every touch thrilled me, to agree that there should be no next chapter. It was unthinkable.

I set down her silence to a strenuous attempt to think of some way of extracting the pledge from me, but before she could frame a question fate gave the wheel another side twist and we were once more in difficulties.

We had to pass over a level crossing, and as the gates were shut, I got down to stand by the horse's head until the train had passed. When I heard the train coming I suggested that Mademoiselle also got down, and she was in the act of doing so when the train thundered up and at the same instant a car came dashing round a bend in the road at a reckless speed, heading straight for the dogcart.

A smash was inevitable, and I realised instinctively that when the car dashed into our vehicle, Mademoiselle would be caught in it, driven against the heavy gates, and possibly through them under the train. There was not time even to shout a warning; so I sprang towards her, caught her in my arms and jumped back from the trap just as the car crashed into it.

Precisely what happened then I do not know. The instant my arms were around her, all other sensations were a blank. The realisation of her peril had so alarmed me, and the knowledge that I had saved her from it paralysed all other thoughts, save the ineffably sweet consciousness that I held her to my heart, and that for the moment she rested there a willing captive.

I knew then that I loved her as I had never loved in all my life before.

I was trembling like a child in the sheer delight of that knowledge, and the smash might have occurred a thousand miles away for all the heed I gave to it in those tumultuous fateful moments.

CHAPTER IV.
THE UNEXPECTED.

How long I held Mademoiselle locked in my arms I do not know. Some moments at most, probably, after the noise and racket of the smash; but I was heedless whether it was a moment or an hour or a day. At such a crisis in one's life time is not to be measured by seconds.

"I am not hurt," I heard her say with a little trembling sigh, as she drew gently away.

"Thank God. I thought you would be killed," I murmured; and then for the first time I knew that I was hurt. I stepped forward, when my leg seemed to crumple under me, and I went down like a log.

With a cry of alarm, she bent over me. "It's nothing," I assured her. "Nothing serious, that is. My leg pains a bit, that's all," and I struggled into a sitting posture.

Then came some oaths and abuse from the drunken fools who had caused the trouble. The gates were swung open, and the car started and was soon out of sight.

"What cowards!" she cried indignantly.

"I know that sort of road hog," I replied. "My surprise is not that they've bolted to get out of trouble, but that their car wasn't too badly smashed to travel at all."

But the reason for this was clear. Our dogcart, which was smashed to splinters, had acted as a buffer, had broken their rush, and had probably saved their lives. The horse had been hurled into the hedge, but not hurt, and, being a preternaturally quiet beast, had risen and was nibbling the grass near the ruins of the cart.

Our plight seemed even worse than ever. My leg from knee to ankle pained abominably, and when I managed to scramble up, I could not trust an ounce of my weight on it. To think of continuing the journey on foot was absolutely hopeless.

"You must lean on my arm," insisted Mademoiselle in great concern.

"I'm rather too lumpy for that, I'm afraid," I said, with a wry grin. "I think I'd better just rest a minute or two;" and she helped me to flop down again.

"I'm sure you are more hurt than you will admit. Do you feel much pain?"

"My chief feeling at the moment is that I ought to apologise for being such a helpless crock."

"How can you say anything so ridiculous at such a moment! When you were hurt in saving me, too!"

"We won't quarrel over it, anyhow; but I'm very much afraid we must face the fact that I can't get along any further. The question is what you're to do next. May I make a suggestion?"

"Do you think your leg is broken?"

"Never mind about that. I shall be all right. I'm like our War Office, and generally manage to worry through somehow. My suggestion is that I resign my post as chauffeur. If you can forage out one of the rugs, I can stop here comfortably enough until some one comes along."

"I dare say I can find the rug," she said, standing back a pace and looking down at me. "That wouldn't be very difficult. And then?"

"I'll tuck myself up in it. That's all."

"And then?" she asked again.

"Well, I don't think it's more than a couple of miles' walk to Guildford."

"But how would the rug help you to walk?"

"You'll do the walking; and if you get a chance, can send some one out to me."

"Oh, you mean that I had better go on alone? I am to think only of myself and to leave you here to be picked up by haphazard; to desert you, in fact, when you have been hurt in saving me? You must have a high opinion of me, to class me with those road hogs, as you called them!"

"I didn't mean——"

"I beg your pardon," she broke in impetuously. "You not only meant it, you said it in almost so many words."

"Well, but——"

"I won't listen to another word. After all you have done for me to-night to believe that I am capable of playing the coward in such a way! How dare you?" she cried indignantly, with a stamp of the foot.

"I wish I could stamp my gammy foot with half that force. We'd soon be out of this mess," I said with a smile.

"I'm not smiling," she declared; but she was the next moment. "I am desperately angry. That you should dare to make such a suggestion."

"It doesn't seem to have been a very happy one, I admit. Suppose I change it, and propose that we see this little bother out together."

"That's better. But when I think that you——"

GREATER SYDNEY.

OPPOSITION BY KURING-GAI.

The request from the Glebe Council for co-operation in securing the opposition of Parliamentary representatives to any scheme for a unified Greater Sydney came before the Kuring-gai Shire Council at its meeting on Thursday, and after discussion it was decided to join in the agitation against the scheme. The president (Councillor Clipsham) was deputed to give evidence before the Commission, and point out how the proposal would affect the Kuring-gai Shire financially.

KILLED BY ELECTRICITY.

INSPECTOR'S DEATH AT SURRY HILLS.

A City Council electric-light inspector, Walter Pollock, 30, was killed by electricity in Surry Hills on Saturday morning.

Just before noon some workmen passed near the electric switch-board which had been installed in a new building at the corner of Marlborough and Goodlet streets, Surry Hills. On the ground, lying at full length, they discovered the inspector. He appeared to be dead.

The Civil Ambulance motor was summoned, and the brigade men did all that was possible to resuscitate life. Failing, however, they hurried down to Sydney Hospital, where the casualty surgeon pronounced life extinct.

DREADFUL ERUPTION ON HANDS AND FEET.
88 Wilson-street, Redfern, N.S.W.—"About three years ago my little girl, aged seven years, had dreadful eruptions on the hands and feet, also the head. The sores came out in small white blisters which in a day or two would break and spread, and eventually become quite raw. Her hands were one mass of sores and dreadfully itchy, and at times very painful. She got quite thin and miserable looking, and nothing we could do did her a bit of good.
"I at last tried a set of Cuticura Remedies, and in a week's time she was wonderfully improved, and by the time I had used the second set of Cuticura Remedies the eruptions had almost disappeared, and only left a red mark, which wore away gradually, and now quite disappeared. Since then she has not had a return of the complaint, and she is now ten years old." (Signed) Mrs. Elvira Leonard, April, 1912.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS.
COMMON-SENSE ADVICE BY A DISTINGUISHED SPECIALIST.
"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Medicines and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralised, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is half a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralises the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause greatest distress can be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained of any chemist, and should always be kept handy.

FERRY CHARGES.

INCREASE OF 133 PER CENT.

LORD MAYOR'S PROPOSAL.

A FREE SERVICE.

The increase made in some of the charges on the vehicle ferry service across the harbour was the cause of an indignation meeting held in the Masonic Hall, North Sydney, on Saturday night, when strong protests were made against the action of the Ferry Company. There was a very large attendance, Mr. T. Carleton presiding.

The first resolution was moved by Mr. G. M. Down, as follows:—

> "That this meeting of citizens enters its emphatic protest against the increased ferry rates imposed by the Sydney Ferries, Ltd., which are unwarranted, and constitute an unfair tax on a defenceless community; and that the resolution be conveyed to the Minister by a deputation of delegates representing the carriers, traders and general public."

Mr. Down said that the increases concerned every resident more or less, for they were bound to be passed on, and so the prices of commodities in the northern suburbs would be affected. The small trader, with his two-wheeled cart, had been able to take it across in the ferry for 3d, and he could have a boy with him without any extra fare. Now he had to pay 6d for the cart and a penny for the boy, which was an increase of 133 per cent. The only justification the company had given for making the increases was that the tariff previously was too low. It had taken the company a long time to find that out. The company had said that the tariff charged on the Birkenhead ferry in England was higher. It was of no use making such comparisons. The tariff that had been in operation here had earned big profits for the company, and they were going to protest against it being raised without any justification whatever. If the company was going to continue raising the rates, where was it going to end?

A Voice: And you voted "Yes" on the referendum. (Laughter.)

Mr. Down said they had to do something more than vote now. He referred to the secret manner in which the increases were made. They should demand protection by the Government from a monopoly which to a large exent controlled the destinies of the district. They had one remedy, and that was the bridge. (Hear, hear.) But that could not be done in a day. Meanwhile they must ask the Government to intercede. (Hear, hear.) He proposed that the Government be asked to insert a provision in the ferry leases by which the company would be compelled to publish a balance-sheet when increased charges were contemplated in order to show that they were warranted. The growth of the district necessitated another vehicle service, and they must insist, moreover, on the company maintaining efficient services, for there might be a tendency on their part to cease construction in view of the building of the bridge. It was the small traders who felt the increases most, but in the long run it was the general public who would have to pay.

Alderman E. M. Clark said the people of the northern suburbs were in the grip of a powerful monopoly. Originally the company had started with 20000 shares. Now, having watered their stock repeatedly, they decided to increase the shares, which had now reached 400,000, to 800,000.

Alderman A. C. Cocks, M.L.A., Lord Mayor of Sydney, said the Government had wiped out the ferry dues for vehicle services throughout the country, and it was only the magnitude of the proposition to make the harbour vehicle service free that prevented Sydney remaining an exception to the rule. He maintained that it would only be consistent, as well as fair and reasonable, for the Government to say, "Until we give you a bridge we will give you free vehicle ferries." That might involve the payment of a subsidy of £10,000 or £12,000 a year to the company till the bridge was built. Well that should not prevent them from doing the right thing. In regard to the increased charges, he took it that the meeting wished to be guided by the spirit of fair play. (Hear, hear.) In that spirit he had written to the company, and asked them to explain the amended tariff from their point of view. The company had replied that most of the charges remained the same, while some had been reduced. The increase applying to the vehicles of small traders was certainly inadvisable. The public objected to the way the new tariff had been brought into operation. The comparison with Birkenhead was no good at all. However, he believed in conciliation. A deputation should go first to the ferry company and reason with them, and if they could not get satisfaction from the company they could then go to the Government. But let them try conciliation first. (Hear, hear.) Mr. Garlick, the local government officer, had informed him that as matters stood now, they were in a position, if they chose, to resume the ferries.

A Voice: That's socialism.

Alderman Cocks replied that it was not socialism, because if they resumed they would pay the company, like honest men. If they could not get satisfaction either from the company or from the Government, then the City Council and the councils of the northern suburbs might have a talk about the matter, and see what could be done.

Alderman Cole, representing the Master Carriers' Association, said that if the northern suburbs were to be penalised by high transit charges it followed that the growth of the districts must be retarded. Not only were the people on the northern side of the harbour affected, but those on the other side too.

The motion was carried, after it had been amended by tacking on the suggestion that the Lord Mayor had made with regard to a deputation first interviewing the directors of the Sydney Ferries, Ltd.

A BAD ROAD.

One of the city's most important arteries is the Parramatta-road, which runs through the western suburbs to Parramatta, and at present is one of the worst main roads in the State. At a conference held at the council-chambers, Homebush, recently, representatives were present from Homebush, Concord, Burwood, Rookwood, Auburn, and Granville, and the Mayor of Homebush (Alderman W. F. Stewart) presided. Alderman Lidbury moved,—"That the conference make representations to the Minister for Works regarding the bad state of the road, and that he be asked to make a substantial grant to the municipalities concerned for the purpose of placing it in a proper state of repair." This was seconded by Alderman West, Mayor of Granville, and adopted.

RENWICK HOSPITAL CONCERT.

A successful concert, under the direction of Mr. George S. Holburn, was given at the Repertory Theatre on Saturday evening in aid of the Renwick Hospital for Babies. The theatre was crowded, and the enthusiasm of the audience unbounded. An interesting event was the debut of Miss Maggie Ross. Miss Ross, who was evidently suffering from nervousness, has a very dainty voice. For her first number, Hayde Wood's "Bird of Love, Divine," she was warmly encored, and responded with "I Sometimes Wander." During the latter half of the evening she sang Monckton's "Pipes of Pan." Among the best items on the programme were those of Mr. H. J. Ratcliffe. His first number was Anderson's "Song of Triumph." As an encore Berthold Tom's setting of Kipling's "Mother of Mine" was given. Mr. Ratcliffe's renderings are infused with depth of feeling. Not the least interesting number was Mr. Charles Philip's rendering of one of Liszt's Hungarian rhapsodies. Miss Millie Gallagher gave violin solos, Bohm's "Bolero," and the encore number Raff's "Cava tina." Others contributing to the success of the evening were:—Misses Daisy Sweet, Hilda Thorndike, Messrs. Sid MacDonald, Charles Walsh, Tom Middleton, and the students of the Austral Orchestral College.

PUPILS' CONCERT.

The advanced pupils of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. E. Pople, Miss [illegible] Baker, and Mrs. Evan Lewis gave a recital on Saturday evening in St. James's Hall. The programme was a lengthy one, and consisted of excellent vocal, instrumental, and elocutionary numbers. The principal performers were Miss Gladys Lomas, Miss Elma Hubbard, Miss Beatrice Nichol, and Harold Wood. These pupils have been very successful at various competitions, and their performance on Saturday evening was very creditable. The other performers were Emma Lucock, Elvira Sciacchitano, Marjorie Soden, Pearl Nathan, Una Cabel, Bettie Crawford, Dulcie Jude, Bert Pople, Maurice M'Grath, Harold Yaff, and G. Day.

"THE GRAFTERS" AT THE PALACE.

The American Musical Burlesque Company's production of "The Grafters" provided three hours of solid fun at the Palace Theatre on Saturday, when the dialogue was interspersed with vaudeville songs, bright action-choruses, and every possible kind of dance. The whole constituted a vaudeville entertainment closely resembling that of the American Travesty Stars, at the same house some years ago, when Kolb and Dill, and Barney Bernard formed a "play-baby bank," and their passwords, "Good mornink!" Good eveniņk!" passed into the street vernacular of the hour. On the comic side the new combination is as clever as the other on the same slowly deliberate lines; from a musical standpoint it is weaker, not possessing any singers of the calibre of those favourite comic opera artists, Maud Amber and Mr. Blake.

The new vaudeville sketch revolves round the idea of separate attempts by well-dressed swindlers, and by three outrageous tramps to acquire the entire township of Watts, which has been built upon the property of one Watts, who has neither been seen nor heard of for many years. Both groups, the swindlers with forged deeds and the tramps with nothing more tangible than bluff, come into collision with a hard-headed Yankee constable, and sustain a severe fall, whilst a little rustic freak, who turns out to be a relative of the deceased, scoops the pool.

Besides the unconsidered odds and ends of songs and specialties, which delay the consummation of the story, there are the three tramps, who occupy the stage for twenty-minute turns, during which they quarrel, plot, and argue with a deliberate humour that convulsed the audience, though now and again it was much overdone. Mr. Bert la Blanc, the new Hebrew comedian, comes on in rags and the remains of an awful peaked-cap, and delivers himself of many droll ideas only half-clothed in a truly horrible lingo, which is doubtless the dialect of the typical Russian Jew. "I explanation you," or "I ask you simplicity," are his usual forms of address, and in confidence, (he has a voice like a fog-horn!) he reveals that "his horrible-scope tells him that some day in the near future he is going to die in his infancy." Besides this, he is in the habit of "asking a flavour," and one of these "flavours" was an inquiry of Mike, the German tramp, as to the name of the village they are in. Mike replies, "As a favour I tell you Watts the name of the place!" and Ike, much puzzled, retorts, "If I ask you an answer, don't you dare give me a back-question!" The confusion between "Watts" and "What's" lasted over 10 minutes, during which time the audience choked and screamed with laughter, and the people who had long before smiled at the joke, and wearied of it, were in a minority of about 1000 to 20! Mr. Frank Vack appeared as Mike, a stout Dutchman, with a formidable figure, a rosy, smiling face, and a barely intelligible dialect. However, Mike was a severe grammarian, and reminded one of his companions that "when a pronoun follows a verb the semi-colon is silent!" The third humourist, and they really are artists in their excruciating line, is Mr. Dave Nowlin as Pete, a ragged hobo, or tough, a stalwart ruffian with a deep voice, and the accent of one who has seen better days. Pete's drollest effort was an assumption of girlish bashfulness incongruously out of place from such a beer-sodden gaol-bird, and the house responded to it with roars of laughter. Miss Gertrude St. Clair, a vaudeville soprano, with a sweet voice, besides her solos with a harmoniously trained chorus, joins with Mr. Nowlin in the duet "On the Wild, Wild Farm." Herein both artists cleverly imitate a dozen different animals and insects, and their talent galvanised a familiar specialty into one of the liveliest events of the evening.

Quite suddenly Ike, Smike, and Pete come on disguised as Redskin Indians, Ike as a chief with feathers and a red blanket, Smike as a squaw with her baby on her back, and Pete as an interrogator. A group of smart chorus-girls attired as squaws are seated on the floor in a circle, and accompany the song with wild gestures and cries. This specialty "caught on" tremendously, but the hit was made between each verse when Pete asked, "Big Chief, do you take heap many scalps! and he haughtily replied with a sneer that would have done credit to a camel, "Oof!" Could anything be more idiotically "unfunny" in the coldly critical light of next morning? However, the present writer laughed at it with other people on Saturday night—unfortunately, without their advantage of forgetting it all on the way home!

"The Grafters" is cheaply staged, and the tableaux of all nations celebrating "San Francisco, 1915, as the World's Fair Town, formed a poor sort of show, though the lively music, with light baritone Carlton Chase agreeably in place as soloist, went well enough. A genuine Yankee humourist was introduced in Mr. Harry Burgess as the lanky, loose-limbed Constable, Rube Skaggs. His song, "Constable" (with chorus), was encored again and again for the sake of his clever eccentric dance. The star step-dancer of the combination is Miss Eugenie La Blanc, whose wonderful clog dance after "Heaven Will Protect a Working Girl" was an entertainment in itself. The song presented a more or less humorous imitation of a child trying to sing, and should be cut short. Two verses would be sufficient. Incidentally, Miss La Blanc created a type new to this country as Mazie Fogg, an uncouth rustic of 14 years, from some remote backblocks settlement. Mr. W. R. Hughes and Mr. H. Frankel produced "The Grafters," and Mr. R. H. MacAnally directed the music.

Mr. William Anderson announces the first matinee for Wednesday next.

BISPHAM OPERATIC RECITAL.

A WAGNERIAN SUCCESS.

It was a somewhat hazardous proceeding on the part of Mr. David Bispham to place Wagnerian opera recitals before a Saturday-night audience at the Town Hall; but while the varied excerpts from the "Meistersinger," "Valkyrie," and "Rheingold," doubtless proved unfamiliar to many in the audience, it cannot be gainsaid that Mr. Bispham's masterly rendering of the Wagner music was greatly appreciated. The American baritone was in splendid voice, and encores were the order of the evening.

In his first group Mr. Bispham sang in the Italian in "Non piu Andrai" from Mozart's "Nozze di Figaro," which was bracketed with the Serenade which Don Giovanni sings to Zerlina in the second act of Mozart's immortal opera. Returning to English the American baritone once again sang "I'm A Roamer," which was given with such success at his opening concert at the Town Hall. His fine singing in this number was much enjoyed, and the artist generously added as an encore his inimitable Page's song from "Falstaffe."

The second part of the programme comprised selections from Wagner's music drama, the "Meistersinger," including Pogner's Address, Hans Sachs' Monologue, and Beckmesser's Serenade—Der Tag ist erschienen. In the lastnamed number Mr. Bispham cleverly simulated the shrill quavering voice of the old singer, who hopes to win the hand of Pogner's daughter in the song-contest. These were sung in German, and the varying interpretations—the self-satisfied dignity of the wealthy Pogner, the ruminations of the cobbler, Hans Sachs, on the vanity of all things, "Mad, mad; everybody's mad," and the servile flattery of Beckmesser—were cleverly given. The baritone repeated part of the Serenade, and added as a double encore, "Ein Ton" (Cornelius). In the second part of the programme Mr. Bispham gave Wotan's "Farewell," to Brunhilde ("Valkyrie"), and herein he displayed refinement of method and pathos, the rendering being perhaps as one of the artistic successes of the evening; but it was in the succeeding excerpt, Alberich's Curse (Rheingold") that the enthusiasm of the audience was the most marked in the Wagnerian numbers on the programme. Mr. Bispham's acting of the part contributed in a great measure to enhance the general effect.

The last group of songs consisted of more popular numbers. The "Infelice" (Ernani"), "Toreador" ("Carmen"), and "Di Possente" ("Faust"), undoubtedly proved highly acceptable to the audience, and the triumph of the evening, judging by the storm of applause which greeted the number, was the prologue from "Pagliacci." Mr. Bispham explained how the prologue came to be written by Leoncavallo, and mentioned that when playing the part in London it was his custom to sing the prologue before the curtain in evening dress, retire behind the scenes, and by a lightning change assume his part in the opera. Mr. Bispham sang the popular number in fine style, and added as the encore, which could not be denied, a spirited item from Sullivan's "Ivanhoe."

The American pianist, Mr. Harry M. Gilbert, shared with Mr. Bispham in the honours of the evening. He gave an admirable rendering of Liszt's arrangement of the "Liebestod" from "Tristan and Isolde," and added as an encore the "Octave Intermezzo" of Leschetizky. The audience applauded heartily, and clamouring for more, the pianist added as a double encore the "Reverie" by Schutt. Mention should also be made of the important part filled by Mr. Gilbert in playing the difficult accompaniments to the baritone's Wagnerian recitals.

Mr. David Bispham and Mr. Gilbert left by last night's express for Melbourne, where they give series of recitals.

OZONIA

For Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Sprains, Sore Eyes, Nasal Catarrh, Neuralgia, Sore Throat, etc.

"OZONIA" is not a new remedy. For some years it has been in regular use in the first-aid rooms of every important Factory, Mine, Government Workshop, and Ambulance Brigade in this State. Over 3000 of Australia's biggest Manufacturing Works keep "Ozonia" ready for those accidents that must happen from time to time wherever workmen are employed.

The fact that so many workshops seek the aid of "Ozonia" in cases of emergency provides striking and unique testimony of the value of this preparation in the treatment of Wounds, Cuts, Bruises, Scalds, Sprains, Insect Bites, Sores, Ulcers, Nasal Catarrh, Neuralgia, Skin Troubles, Sore Throats, etc., etc.

Because this remedy has been so successful in those places where serious accidents happen most frequently, hundreds of workmen who have good reasons for acknowledging the merit of "Ozonia" have tried to buy it from their Chemists. It is in response to the rapidly growing demand that "Ozonia" makes its first public appearance to-day.

The Superintendent of the Newtown District Ambulance Brigade says:—"We have now been using "Ozonia Antiseptic" for the past eighteen months in our Ambulance Room. After repeated trials, we have found same to give absolute satisfaction, and cure inflamed and Sore Eyes, Sandy Blight, Granulation of the Eye, Cuts, Burns, Bruises, Toothache, Neuralgia, etc. When applied to any cut or burn it has been found to stop the pain, and shock to the nerves, and to heal very rapidly. It acts alike in every case. We have proved "Ozonia" to do more than you as manufacturers claim, and we can honestly recommend it as being a most valuable preparation for use in the home or factory. We consider "Ozonia" should be in every home."

This safe, beneficial, and absolutely trustworthy remedy should be in every home—just as it is in every workshop—ready for use when the "unexpected" happens. Get a bottle from your Chemist to-day. The price is 2/ per bottle.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA.

The Sydney Symphony Orchestra exchanged a classic atmosphere for one of romance at their concert at the Town Hall on Saturday afternoon, the first performance in Australia of Rimsky-Korsakakoff's symphonic ode, "Scheherazade," revealing music that represented Slav impressionism. The ode was divided into four movements linked together by the reappearance of the Sultana's motive and the sea-motive, but otherwise as a first hearing apparently independent. Mr. Joseph Bradley conducted the professional band of fourscore players so as to accentuate the gorgeous colouring and the love of contrast which mark the Russian composer's style. The opening of the work (the Sea motive) wonderfully conveyed a sense of profundity, largeness, and even terror, but the general scope of the ode did not sustain this idea. The leader of the orchestra, Mr. Cyril Monk, made fine use of the special opportunity afforded by the composer, for to him fell the brilliant arabesques of the fantastic Scheherazade solo-theme to harp accompaniment. A grand fortissimo ensemble, with the mysterious thunder of the kettledrum rolling thorugh it, admitted of pauses during which touchingly sympathetic phrases for 'cello to a "pizzicato" support fell upon the ear. All this was admirably played. "The Tale of the Kalendar Prince" was remarkable for its dreamlike, Oriental character, more especially in the interruptions of the rhythm, and in the effect of trumpet passages echoed with a suggestion of remote horror and alarm by the same instrument "stopped." The Young Prince and the Young Princess" was entirely surrendered to the charm of love with a violin theme of great beauty in flowing curves of sound. The other lover's response formed a delightful melody, in which the 'cellos and 'basa reeds mingled richly. The conductor had his players perfectly in hand throughout this movement, and they have never been heard to more advantage. A peculiar figure was heard in which the flute and clarionet (separately) ran up and down the octave very swiftly in chromatics. Finally, there was "The Festival at Bagdad, and the Shipwreck," in which the first violin played the Sultanas' motive more brilliantly than ever in double-stopping, followed by an ensemble which grew faster and faster as in a Tarantella, as if Dervishes were dancing. The whole concluded with the storm and shipwreck, a terribly formidable and noisy business. There was a great deal of enthusiasm at the close, and it may be added that it came from a large audience.

Camille Saint-Saens' "Concerto for Pianoforte and Orchestra in F Major" (No. 5) was introduced, with Miss Doris Madden, a Victorian pianist last heard here a year ago, as soloist. The work opens with a tranquil but definite theme for the pianist, which, when repeated by the violins is supported by a rhythmically rigid utterance by the soloist, who, during the quaint and curious third orchestral theme, galops up and down the instrument so as to rejoin the ensemble at the right moment with exhilarating effect. The work generally is slightly tinged with a foreign colouring analogous to that of the cast. The fifth theme (in the Andante) exhibits this strangeness of individuality, and here the composer allots the soloist a deliberately simple part in his scheme, so that it contributes its quota of tone-colour just in the way a flute might do. The last movement is very animated and attractive, with a sparkling piano part, to which the soloist did full justice. Miss Madden's style is that of a pianist with a fund of natural energy and an especial neatness of technique, and these qualities chiefly carried her to success in the interpretation. There was no lack of applause.

Raff's "Cavatina" for piano, so familiar also as a violin solo, had been arranged for this concert by Joseph Bradley as an orchestral number, and proved captivating in its new form. The violins bowed and phrased as one man, and, exhibiting alike purity both of tone and expression, contributed a popular item to the programme. Percy Grainger, a brilliant Australian pianist, who is becoming known also as a composer was introduced for the first time in the latter capacity in his "Mock Morris" for strings, a piece which has been performed with acceptance at Queen's Hall by the Henry Wood Orchestra, and also in Berlin and elsewhere. The "Mock Morris" entomised all the grace and vivacity of an old English rustic dance, and was enthusiastically appreciated. Mis Eva Gauthier made a farewell appearance, singing first Lia's aria of lament from Debussy's opera "L'Enfant Prodigue," with genuine dramatic expression, and then adding, in response to insistent recalls, Godard's tender love-pastoral, "Chanson de Florian." Later the brilliant high-mezzo sang the romance, "Depuis le jour" from Charpentier's opera "Louise," which was thus heard for the first time with orchestra. The extreme delicacy of the orchestral colouring proved all-important in enabling the soloist to realise the atmosphere of dreamful ecstasy which gives the whole its peculiar charm. The audience endeavoured to secure a repetition until Mr. Bradley explained that the Franco-Canadian artist had to catch the 5.10 p.m. train for Brisbane, when the house subsided before the inevitable.

AMUSEMENTS.

LITTLE THEATRE.—"ROBERT BURNIT."

"Robert Burnit," the new play by the author of "Brewster's Millions," will be produced for the first time in Australia at the Little Theatre to-night, by the Buckler management, with Mr. Arthur Cornell as producer. The cast will be as follows:—David Applerod, Mr. Bristowe; Second Office Boy, Mr. Godfrey; Daniel Johnson, Mr. Kay Souper; First Office Boy, Mr. Hunter; Biff Baks, Mr. Kenneth Brampton; Nellie Platt, Miss Lilian Lloyd; Clarence Smythe, Mr. Alfred Scarlett; Sam Stone, Mr. Reynolds Denniston; Robert Burnit, Mr. Hugh C. Buckler; Agnes Elliston, Miss Violet Paget; Harry Chalmers, Mr. Charles Lawrence; Silas Trimmer, Mr. Arthur Cornell; Weldon, Mr. Richard Kean; Harvey, Mr. Hewitt; and A Young Woman, Miss Tempe Pigott.

THEATRE ROYAL.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream," with which Mr. Oscar Asche and Miss Lily Brayton have entered upon the farewell three weeks of their 15 months' stay in Australia, was graced on Saturday by the presence of his Excellency the Governor, Lady Strickland, and suite, and a large audience. There will be a matinee on Wednesday.

HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE.

At Her Majesty's Theatre on Saturday night a crowded house enjoyed the beautifully-scored valse airs and vivacious ensembles of "The Count of Luxembourg," and the droll situations of Lehar's operetta caused uproarious laughter. There will be another matinee on Wednesday.

CRITERION THEATRE.

"Excuse Me" has caught on with the laughter-loving section of playgoers at the Criterion Theatre as decidedly as "The Fortune Hunter," and on Saturday a crowded house enjoyed the embarrassment of the lovers as depicted by Mr. Fred Niblo and Miss Beatrice Terry as much as ever. There will be a third matinee on Wednesday.

NATIONAL AMPHITHEATRE.

The National Amphitheatre is disproving the "Peril of the East." For several weeks the Banzai troupe of Japanese equilibrists have been declaring "entente cordiale" with people of Sydney and suburbs by their mysteriously wonderful exhibitions. On Saturday a Chinese conjuring diplomat, Wong Toy Sun, entered into a compact with the Australian public, by which on his part he gave a most meritorious performance in return for a liberal reward in form of cordial applause.

Toy Sun made his appearance in a riot of clashing colour-dashes. In his tricks he presents improvements on all the conjuring fraternity's stock-in-trade. He certainly displays originality. His silent, nonchalant movements, for instance, introduce a more intense suggestion of magic than the usual glib, active conjurer. His first device consists in the unaccountable transference of a mass of luscious fruit. In another act an empty, spacious basket is wheeled to the stage. One waited curiously to see the result. Perhaps Falstaff himself would emerge! One, two, the gong sounded and, behold, assorted knick-knacks were produced, followed by a full-grown lady of China. Such another creation is effected from an uninhabited pagoda. But even as strange is the improvised kettledrum, which, at the master's will, disgorges abundant articles of dazzling splendour and variety. Another new turn was provided by the Four Stagpooles, of whom Ted is "the one." He, indeed, is a loose-jointed acrobat of wonderful ability. A Scotchman and an English tourist advance upon a charming riverside kiosk, in which they do many curious tricks, that so influence the waiters and a corpulent caller that they all become finally a happy family of acrobats. The novelty of another newcomer's performance, George Murphy, lies in his knack of telling Yankee yarns and juggling simultaneously.

There were a host of other clever vaudeville items presented. Ruby Tointon, an exceptional toe dancer, reappeared in the bill. "Souza," of the National Duo, convulsed the audience; Little Verlie's contortions amazed; and Klimo and Clifton, Myra Gale and Little Sadie, Hart and Kenny, Kathleen and Hence, and George Drayton came in for their share of the general approbation. The performance is altogether of a most enjoyable kind.

ADELPHI THEATRE.

"The Girl Who Knew a Bit" was witnessed by a great audience at the Adelphi Theatre on Saturday, when the shipwreck scene was especially applauded. The last five nights are now notified, as on Saturday next Mr. William Anderson will produce the new drama "Life's Shop Window," a story of passionate love.

GERMAN LIFE AND IDEALS.

At the Y.M.C.A. Hall to-night, Herr Heinrich Hemmer, a German author and satirist, will lecture in his lively and interesting fashion from "German Life and Ideals." His remarks will be copiously illustrated with pictures of high life in the army and other social aspects of the country. The plan is at Angus and Robertson's.

LYCEUM THEATRE.

Spencer's magnificent spectacular feature, "Quo Vadis?" continues to attract large audiences to the Lyceum. Besides appealing to all classes of theatregoers, the picture draws large numbers of students. In a sense "Quo Vadis?" obliterates time, and brings back to life the Rome of Nero's day. The perfect projection of the picture and the pleasing instrumental and vocal accompaniment add to the interest of the story. Booking for a week in advance can be effected at Paling's.

OLYMPIA THEATRE.

The entire change of programme to be made at the Olympia to-night will introduce Madame Jane Hading, the great French actress in "The Ironmaster," the star picture of the bill. The appearance of Madame Hading in itself is sufficient to draw large audiences, for her fame is world-wide. "The Ironmaster" is a great production, and she and her excellent company should do thorough justice to it. She will undertake the role of Claire de Bailleu, the beautiful and high-spirited heroine.

CRYSTAL PALACE THEATRE.

The production of "Cleopatra," with Helen Gardner, the great American actress in the title role, at the Crystal Palace Theatre, has proved so successful that the management cannot hazard an opinion as to when the film will be withdrawn. All six daily screenings are largely attended. So great has the demand for seats been that a box plan has been opened, and those desirous of witnessing this play may book their seats at the theatre.

LYRIC THEATRE.

There will be an entire change of programme at the Lyric Theatre to-day, the star picture of which will be entitled "Satan." This is an intensely dramatic film, and the management feels sure that it will be very popular. Both comedy and instructive pictures will support the feature film.

COLONIAL.

The feature picture of to-day's new programme at the Colonial Theatre will be "The Battle of Bloody Ford." The title will indicate the possibilities of such a picture. The scenes are well acted, and the film should prove interesting. The pictures showing the mosques of Central Asia should also be well received.

EMPRESS THEATRE.

"The Three Artists" is the title of the feature film in the new programme to be introduced to-day at the Empress Theatre. This is a Nordisk drama, with plenty of thrilling situations. It will be supported by the Australian Gazette and some comic and scenic subjects.

EDISON'S TALKING PICTURES.

Mr. A. M. Wilson, a member of the Thomas A. Edison laboratory staff, is at present engaged in installing at Spencer's Lyceum Theatre his chief's latest invention, the kinetophone, by which sound and action are synchronised. In Mr. Wilson's opinion the new scheme of picture presentation will prove the same signal success here that it did in the United States.

IMPERIAL SKATING RINK.

The popularity of the Imperial Hyde Park Skating Rink among enthusiasts has in no way diminished, judging by the large attendances. Preparations for the second carnival are already in hand, and the management promises something worth seeing in the way of decorations and original features. It will be styled "An Imperial Cinderella," and will take place shortly. An "evening dress and white night" will be held on July 17.

THE GLACIARIUM.

With the return of finer weather the attendances at the Glaciarium have shown large increases. Particularly was this noticeable on Saturday night, when Professor Witte gave an interesting exhibition of his skill upon the skates. The management has in hand preparations for some attractions in the near future, the exact nature of which will be announced in due course. The annual carnival will be held in August.

CENTENNIAL SKATING PALACE.

Preparations are now going on for the huge harlequinade to be held at the Centennial Skating Palace, Bondi Junction, on the Prince of Wales' Birthday, June 23. Judging by the interest that patrons are taking in the event, the carnival should be a thorough success from every point of view. The prize-list is a valuable one, for the sum of £100 has been set aside for trophies for the winners of the various competitions, and £20 in cash will be disbursed among the winners of the team competition.

ROYAL ROLLER-RINK.

The Royal Roller Rink, in the Agricultural Grounds, Moore Park, gets a fair share of the patronage of the skating population of the city and suburbs. The attendance at each session is always large. A feature of this large rink is the free instruction given by a capable staff of instructors on a rink especially set aside for beginners.

NEW RINK AT DRUMMOYNE.

Sutton's Skating Rink, which is situated opposite the Drummoyne Post-office, will be officially opened to-morrow night, when an excellent programme will be submitted to celebrate the event. The management has installed a separate rink for beginners, a feature that will be appreciated both by learners and proficient skaters.

COLISEUM ROLLER RINK.

Large attendances still continue to rule at the Coliseum Roller Rink, North Sydney, where the patrons are catered for with an excellent orchestra and a perfect floor. Some novel features are introduced by the enterprising management from time to time.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELLERS' REUNION.

The first of two entertainments given during the winter months by the Commercial Travellers' Association exclusively for members' wives and lady friends took place at the clubrooms on Saturday evening, and was attended by about 300 ladies. The banqueting hall was brilliantly illuminated with coloured electric globes gleaming from ropes of foliage. At the close of the concert refreshments were served to the ladies in the dining-room. Mr. R. T. Kelly, vice-president, presided over the gathering.

THE CLARA BUTT-RUMFORD CONCERTS.

This morning at Nicholson's the box plans for the Clara Butt-Rumford concerts will open at 9 o'clock. Before that hour coupons will be issued entitling holders to book their seats in numerical order. The concerts take place on Saturday next, 21st inst., Tuesday, 24th, Thursday, 26th, Saturday, 28th, Tuesday, 1st, and Saturday, 5th July, and a matinee has been arranged for Thursday, July 3rd. Madame Butt and Mr. Rumford complete their Adelaide season to-day with a matinee, and they then come direct to Sydney by rail, arriving here on Wednesday morning. So far, the distinguished singers have had a triumphant tour. Different programmes are to be given at each of the Sydney concerts.

SYDNEY REPERTORY THEATRE.

Mr. George S. Holborn announced during the interval at the Renwick Hospital concert on Saturday evening, that Messrs. Alfred Hill and Downs Johnson were about to have the Repertory Theatre altered and renovated. The next time the audience visited the theatre they would be considerably surprised at its altered appearance. It was intended to present a series of operas, and the first of these would be Mr. Alfred Hill's "Moorish Maid."

CONCERT AT NORTH SYDNEY.

A smoke concert was held in the Friendly Societies' Hall, North Sydney, on Saturday night, and was largely attended. During the evening Mr. W. H. Kennedy, who has been connected with the police force in the northern suburb for the past 19 years, was presented with a gold watch and chain and a case of pipes, with a silver tea and coffee set for Mrs. Kennedy, in recognition of his services to the district. Alderman Walker, Mayor of North Sydney, presided. Mr. Kennedy has been transferred to Ashfield.

VICTORIA PALACE.

A film 3700ft long will present the ever-popular story of Dickens's "Oliver Twist" at the Pitt-st Victoria Picture Hall to-day. It is assured of general patronage for a week or two. Other new introductions will include the dramas, "With the Enemy's Help," "A Timely Rescue," and "The Moving Finger."

GRAND THEATRE.

Until Wednesday evening next the Grand Picture Theatre management will screen the scenic film, "In the Western Pyrenees," and the dramas entitled "The Japanese Dagger," "Saved from Alcohol," "The Honesty System," and "The Girl I Left Behind Me," interspersed with the comic subjects "Sweep, Sweep" and "Boob's Inheritance."

AMERICAN PICTURE HALL.

An adventurer's evil machinations in the domestic scheme of a baron's house, as depicted in "A Gambler's Clutches," will attract many crowds to the American Picture Hall within the next few days. The villain dies in true modern fashion by means of accidental electrocution, and the final scene shows the beautiful daughter rescuing her father, the baron, from inexorable flames of fire. "The Orchid" and "With the Eyes of the Blind" and "Italian Blood" are three other melodramatic draws to be screened for the first time to-day, with a sprinkling of comic plays.

THE ALHAMBRA.

The matinee and evening show at the Haymarket Alhambra attracted good audiences on Saturday. A well varied programme of obvious popularity brought forward the Anderson Trio, H. Court, the Lyell Sisters, The Radnors, Molly King, W. [illegible], E. Miller, Vera Gould, Fred Gould, Joe Charles, the Two Levartos, and H. Collins.

PRINCESS THEATRE.

Among an array of clever vaudeville performers the public at the Railway Princess show on Saturday discriminated with unstinted appreciation the merits of certain favourites. Bain's Company always provides a refreshing variety of singers, dancers, acrobats, conjurers, and freak turns warranted to please a majority of vaudeville patrons.

A MAGISTRATE AND JUSTICE OF THE PEACE WRITES OF CLEMENTS TONIC FROM QUEENSLAND.

"I was fortunate enough in getting Clements Tonic. I am restored to perfect health again."

Mr. Thomas King, J.P., is very well known in commerce and legal circles. He is a member of the Bench of Magistrates of the northern State, and his opinion carries weight wherever expressed. He writes of Clements Tonic after he had experienced its value in a personal sense:

Eastholme, Pittsworth,
Queensland, 15.5.12.

"CLEMENTS TONIC LTD.

"The last few summers affected my health, the hot weather bringing on languor and weariness, no inclination to exert myself, and my nervous system out of order. I was fortunate enough in having Clements Tonic recommended. Procuring a bottle, I was pleased at the rapid improvement it made in me. I used three bottles straight away. Since then I always keep a bottle on hand, and if I feel out of sorts a few doses put me right. In fact, it has restored me to perfect health again. You may make what use you wish of this letter.

"(Signed) THOS KING, J.P."

People run down, easily tired, with poor appetite, bad nerves, melancholic thoughts, or bad memory, suffer from debility. When closely allied with anaemia, CLEMENTS TONIC should be used to regain health. Purify the blood, and the foundation of health is laid. This is fully proved by the testimony published here. Sick persons should read this letter. It contains good tidings. ALL CHEMISTS AND STORES SELL CLEMENTS TONIC.—Advt.

FOOTBALL.

PLAY IN MUD.

EASTERN SUBURBS UNDEFEATED IN UNION AND LEAGUE.

22,000 PEOPLE AT THE CRICKET GROUND.

The southerly rainstorm which swept over Sydney during the week had the effect of transforming the various football grounds into veritable quagmires. In the prevailing circumstances, brilliant play was not anticipated, and practically none was shown, though the various games lacked nothing in spiritedness and endeavour.

It is a coincidence that, after six and seven matches have been played respectively, Eastern Suburbs are the only unbeaten teams in both Rugby Union and Rugby League competitions. The Union team has scored 14 competition points, and the League team 12, and each has a lead of 4 points over the next club on the list.

At the Sydney Cricket Ground 22,000 spectators viewed the Eastern Suburbs-South Sydney game, £582 being taken at the gate. At Wentworth Park 7000 people were present, and at Birchgrove about 4000. The attendance at the University Oval, where Newtown and Eastern Suburbs met in the Rugby Union competition, was 1200.

RUGBY UNION.

EASTERN SUBURBS STILL WINNING.

Eastern Suburbs defeated Newtown by 10 points to 3.
University defeated Balmain by 24 points to 3.
Glebe defeated Manly by 6 points to nil.
North Sydney defeated Western Suburbs by 3 points to nil.
South Sydney defeated St. George by 10 points to 6.

All the grounds were in a sloppy condition on Saturday, and dribbling and footwork were the order of the day. Some very fine wet weather football was shown, the pace of some of the games being very fast.

Newtown were the first to score at the University Oval against Eastern Suburbs, but for the remainder of the first half the tricolours were the better side, and, taking advantage of the weakness of the Blue backs in going down on the ball, scored ten points in three. In the second spell Newtown's forwards were better than those of their opponents, and frequently failed to score by inches only. However, the Eastern defence was sound, and they kept them out, with the result that no further scoring took place. The game was a splendid one, the two full-backs playing exceptionally well.

University proved too good for Balmain both forward and back. Metters' ground was in good condition, and the handling, both forward and back, by University was too quick and clever for Balmain. L. S. Reynolds showed fine form, both as a player and goal-kick, whilst the inside backs of the winners gave their best display of the season.

At Manly the premiers were shorthanded on account of injuries, still they finished ahead of the local team. The ball was kept on the ground during the greater part of the time, but one of Glebe's tries came from a long run by Bowen. Glebe deserved their win. Veteran Wood was a tower of strength to his side, and the pack played in better form than previously. On the other hand, Manly were not as good as previously, the forwards not playing determinedly enough in the loose.

North Sydney and Western Suburbs had a very hard, even game at St. Luke's Park, Concord, wherein the visitors triumphed by a try by Mayo, who thus kept up his record of scoring in every game. The art of dribbling played an important part in the attack on both sides. North Sydney's defence was particularly sound. Towards the finish the losers tried hard to equalise, but the winners proved equal to the occasion, and thus the game went to North Sydney through the opportunism of Mayo.

Yet another case of the field goal winning a game has to be recorded. In the match at Hurstville, between South Sydney and St. George, a neat effort by Nicholson gave South Sydney the victory; otherwise each side scored two tries. The home team started off at a great pace, and scored two tries early in the game. However, the scores were quickly equalised, and stood at "6 all" during the greater part of the game. The rushing tactics of both sets of forwards made the game very lively, and in this phase of play the visitors were slightly the better lot.

As a result of the games, Eastern Suburbs now leads by 4 points in the first grade. Randwick is also unbeaten in the second grade. North Sydney III. met with their first reverse at the hands of Darlinghurst, and Glebe are now the only undefeated teams in this grade.

NEWTOWN v EASTERN SUBURBS.

Played at University Oval, and won by Eastern Suburbs by 10 points to 3. Teams:—

Newtown:—Full-back, A. McDowell; three-quarters, T. Lee, P. Ferguson, W. Foote, J. Parry; five-eighth, W. G. Tasker; half, L. Newman; forwards: R. Roberts, F. Ryan, P. Gillroy, A. Cooper, R. B. Hill (captain), H. Quartley, T. Cooper, W. T. Watson.

Eastern Suburbs:—Full-back, E. E. Booth; three-quarters, J. Burton, C. Wallach, E. Bolden, J. Newman; five-eighth, R. W. Adamson; half, S. Doyle; forwards, H. Hardwick, J. Thompson, J. Duffy, E. J. Fahey, W. Cody, H. George, H. Cameron, S. Barnes.

Referee, Mr. C. Butt.

In the early stages Newtown attacked, their forwards dribbling to the line; but Booth saved with a fine kick. The Blue forwards again advanced, dribbling the ball over the line; but Bolden forced. Even work in line-outs at half way followed, with both sets of forwards dribbling well. However, the Blue forwards again came away, and, kicking over the line, Lee scored five yards from the post. Tasker failed at goal. Newtown, 3 points to nil after seven minutes' play.

Dropped out, the Easterners showed fine form in the forwards, and finding some of the Blue backs disinclined to go down on the ball in the rushes were very dangerous. In one of these rushes Foote failed to field the ball, which went over the line and Adamson scored near the posts. Booth converted, and Eastern Suburbs led by 5 to 3. Kicked out, play was in neutral territory for some time, with the Easterners prevailing on the line-out and occasionally coming through the Blue forwards, who were not heeling sufficiently. The Tricolours' weight was telling in the rucks, and they were dangerous for some time. Newtown broke away from half-way from a centred kick by Tasker, and looked like scoring; but Newman stopped them with a good line kick. From the ensuing line-out the Eastern forwards broke through, and, dribbling past McDowell, Cody secured and forced his way across though tackled. Booth again converted. Pulling themselves together, the Blues attacked by dribbling rushes, but their backs were endeavouring to field the ball too much, instead of using their feet, like the forwards. At half-time the scores were unaltered.

On resuming, Newtown attacked, and, keeping up the pressure, they continuously broke through from the scrums and line-outs. The Tricolour backs, however, were splendid in defence. The Blues were failing a weak link in Foote, who repeatedly neglected the ball to watch his opponent. The Blues dribbled from a scrum at the 25 to the line, where several players dived at the ball, and Watson appeared to score; but a five-yards scrum was ordered, and Booth kicked clear. From a scrum Newman passed to Tasker, who cross-kicked to Parry, who allowed the ball to bounce into touch. So far the half had been all Newtown's; but their opponents now took a hand, and Adamson, securing from a line-out, kicked to Burton, on the left wing. The fast three-quarter dribbling past Parry, kicked in field, and McDowell slipping, the Tricolour looked dangerous when Lee swooped across from the far wing and found touch at the half-way. The Eastern forwards again swarmed up and dribbled to the five-yards line, where McDowell sent them back. Here Newtown broke away, P. Gillroy dribbling the length of the field. At the goal-line, when threatened by Booth, he cleverly foot-passed to Roberts, who, through delaying his dive, allowed the ball to roll into touch in goal. From the drop-out, Tasker centred; but Adamson marked beautifully, and found touch at the half-way. The Blue forwards were now in a very good, and attacked from the loose scrums; but the bounce of the ball beat them repeatedly, and allowed their opponents to force. However, the Tricolours responded, and Adamson, again kicking across Bolden, foot-passed to Wallach, who dribbled over the line. Diving, he was just beaten by McDowell, who forced just in time. A close thing. The remainder of the play proved interesting, first one side having the advantage, then the other; but Newtown attacked the oftener. However, there was no further scoring, and the game resulted in a victory for Eastern Suburbs by 10 points to 3.

NORTH SYDNEY v WESTERN SUBURBS.

Played at St. Luke's Park, Concord, and won by North Sydney by 3 points to nil. Teams:—

North Sydney.—Full-back, G. Henderson; three-quarters, L. R. Mayo, L. O'Neill, G. O'Neill; W. Gregory; half-backs, O. Humphreys, A. M'Donald; forwards, F. de Azcona, B. D. Hughes, J. Batchelor, M. Hughes, E. Geddes, N. Graham, T. S. Griffen, T. Britton.

Western Suburbs.—Full-back, A. White; three-quarters, F. Postle, A. Prentice, W. C. Prentice, A. Findley; half-backs, W. S. Prentice, A. Miller; forwards, A. Arnold, C. W. Prentice, R. Barker, A. Anderson, A. Durham, R. Mercer, R. Tremain, D. Reid.

Referee, G. Ferguson.

On account of the heavy nature of the ground clever handling of the ball was out of the question and both sides settled down to dribbling. The Westerners had the better of the first few minutes' play. The Prentice brothers carried the ball into the visitors' territory, but a misjudged kick spoilt the effort. The centre of the ground was the worst part of the field, and this spot drew the play like a magnet. The mud made the players almost unrecognisable. Through the agency of Arnold and Tremain the home side renewed the attack, and the lastnamed seemed to score, but the ball was recalled, and from the ensuing five yards' scrum the visitors screwed and dribbled out of danger. North Sydney attacked for a time, and White forced. However, the visitors kept up the pressure, and the forwards, dribbling over the line, gave Mayo a chance which he availed himself of. Henderson failed at goal. North Sydney, 3 to nil.

The balance of the first half was in favour of Western Suburbs, whose forwards proved much stronger than the visiting backs. On a few occasions the pace of the Northerners back division enabled them to force, but no score could be registered, and the first half ended without any alteration in the score.

The second spell opened with the Shoremen hard put to it. They were penned into a corner for some time, but the Westerners' play lacked finish. A long kick by O'Neill brought relief for a time, but back came the rushing suburbs' forwards and tested the defence of the visitors for some time. From one of the attacks C. W. Prentice got over and grounded the ball, but the referee recalled him. The game went on, with the home side doing most of the attacking, North Sydney forcing time after time. They were always too quick for the onrushing vanguard of Western Suburbs. Added to this the home backs used the line a great deal too much. However, they were distinctly unlucky in not scoring on a number of occasions, but North Sydney held them out successfully until half time arrived. Reid, Barker, Arnold, Durham, and Prentice were always on the ball, but lacked the ability to impart finish to their effort. North Sydney thus won by 3 points to nil.

MANLY v GLEBE.

Played at Manly Oval, and won by Glebe, by 6 points to nil. There was an attendance of 500. Teams:—

Manly.—Full-back, B. Quinn; three-quarters, E. Carr, S. Perry, J. Cooney, C. Kirke; half-backs, H. Kirke, E. Duffy; forwards, A. Buckley, S. Riddington, R. Campbell, E. Wright, D. Jackson, R. Farnell, T. Gunning, R. Parnell.

Glebe.—Full-back, F. Buckle; three-quarters, C. M'Carthy, L. Grimes, G. Messenger, Prenderville; half-backs, F. Wood, C. O'Donnell; forwards, O. Campbell, J. O'Donohoe, N. Cooper, Cunningham, G. Bowen, G. Walters.

Referee, Mr. F. W. Dunn.

The playing area was slippery, the centre especially being treacherous. Glebe had only 12 men on the field, but the number was increased to 13 when play had been in progress for a few minutes. The Reds pressed hard, and Manly were continually in trouble, but Cooney and Carr relieved time after time with long kicks. Manly then attacked. Buckley broke away from mid-field, and dribbled the ball to within a few yards of the goal line, where, from the scrum which followed, Glebe forced. A rally by the visitors looked dangerous, but a knock-on saved Manly. The latter's vanguard took a hand at attacking, but Wood and Buckle defended ably. Half-time arrived without any score being registered.

Glebe resumed with a deficiency of two men, as in the first spell. However, they had the better of matters, and Manly were compelled to force twice. Only at rare intervals would the play be in Glebe's 25, Buckley and Farnell being conspicuous in the movements initiated by the Manly forwards. The Reds repeatedly drove the enemy back. The visitors scored the try of the match, through the agency of Bowen, who secured in the ruck near Manly's line, and raced over. Wood failed to add the extras. Glebe quickly added another three points. From a penalty a few yards inside half-way, Buckle had a kick for goal, but the ball fell short. O'Donnell followed on, and beat Kirke, who mulled, and scored. Glebe, 6; Manly, nil. Uninteresting play followed, and there was no further scoring.

BALMAIN v UNIVERSITY.

Played at Metters' Ground, and won by University by 24 points to 3. Teams:—

University.—Full-back, J. M. Beith; three-quarters, Hall, A. C. Jeckyll, J. M'Lennan, G. Harden; half-backs, Hamilton, R. Aspinall; forwards, T. Cooney, L. D. Heath, G. Allen, D. Russell, L. S. Reynolds, Arnold, Irving, Henry.

Balmain.—Full-back, H. Grose; three-quarters, F. Plumb, A. H. Grimsley, A. Brett, Walker; half-backs, R. Roberts, A. Jonas; forwards, Reid, W. Sutcliffe, Kayser, P. Morgan, F. Ballerum, R. Nelson, D. Christensen, R. Featherstone.

Referee, Mr. C. H. Harding.

University at once attacked, and Balmain forced, a performance University repeated shortly afterwards. Aspinall was getting the ball out smartly to his backs, but little headway was made for a time, the Balmain forwards tackling very soundly. However, Hamilton scored for 'Varsity after some close passing on the left wing. Cooney failed to convert. Hall made a very fast dash along the line, but was forced into touch when a score seemed a possibility. 'Varsity were obtaining the ball from almost every scrum, but the backs made little headway for some time. However they moved to some purpose in one rush, in which Aspinall, Hamilton, Jeckyll, M'Lennan, and Jeckyll again handled the ball, the lastnamed scoring a fine try between the posts. Aspinall failed at goal. University, 6 to nil. On resuming, Balmain lost a good chance through their inability to pick up the ball with few opponents in front of them. University, however, did better. From a scrum outside the 25, Aspinall set M'Lennan going at his top, and the latter, after running Harden into position, transferred, and the winger scored between the posts. Reynolds converted, and University led 11 to nil. Balmain were again hard pressed, but there was no further scoring before half-time.

On resuming, Balmain attacked, but Reynolds dived on the ball and saved the situation. Then 'Varsity scored from a loose kick at midfield, Aspinall, M'Lennan, Harden, and Reynolds handling the ball, the lastnamed running in unopposed, but he failed to convert it. Play became now very fast, with Balmain attacking. 'Varsity relieved the pressure, but Balmain came again, and Ballerum, picking up near the line, passed to Morgan, who scored. Brett failed to goal. University 14, Balmain 3. Next, Balmain were awarded a free, but the shot for goal was unsuccessful, and University initiated another onslaught in Balmain's territory. Reynolds short-punted, and, following up, secured again, and passed to Aspinall, who crossed wide out, but, going on, scored behind the posts. Reynolds kicked the goal. University 19 to 3. Balmain carried play to University's quarters, and a weak kick by Beath nearly caused a score. However, play was soon removed from the danger zone, and Cooney, picking up in the loose, passed to M'Lennan, who lost the ball, Balmain touching down. Heath got over the line, but dropped the ball when tackled, and a five-yards scrum was ordered, from which Aspinall secured and dived over. Reynolds converted it. University 24, Balmain 3. Full time.

SOUTH SYDNEY v ST. GEORGE.

Played at Hurstville Oval, in the presence of a large crowd, and won by South Sydney by 10 points to 6. F. P. Cody, referee.

South Sydney—Full-back, J. Fraser; three-quarters, W. Buist, R. Fusedale, P. Cruise, W. Wall; half-backs, J. Nicholson, J. Barry; forwards, T. G. Radcliffe, H. Morris, M. Maloney, J. Bond, J. Pagani, W. Lawrence, E. Pengelly, W. Lenton. St. George: Full-back, J. Fleming; three-quarters, R. Mullarkey, H. McIllmurray, C. Hatchman, G. Hughes; half-backs, W. J. Bowen, H. West; forward, H. Billingham, R. Freeman, C. Moore, N. Gates, J. McLaughlin, R. Sadler, G. Ness.

South Sydney won the toss and defended the southern goal. Shortly after the start Nicholson took a neat mark in St. George 25; but the attempt at goal failed. It was not long before the sloppy nature of the ground made itself felt; but fast play up and down the field followed for some time. McIllmurray started a fast passing rush, but he was not supported. From a scrambling rush Maloney went dangerously near scoring for South Sydney, but knocked-on near the line. At last McIllmurray secured from the throw-in and scrambled over. Freeman's attempt at goal failed. St. George 3, South Sydney 0. There was some fast play for a time, and Sadler kicked from the centre of the field to Billingham, who, with a fine run registered the second try for the home team. Freeman again missed at goal. St. George 6, South Sydney 0. Play having been transferred to St. George 25, Bond started a rush, and the ball being secured by Buist he scored a try in the corner for the visitors. Fraser's kick at goal failed. St. George 6, South Sydney 3. The game continued fast, and Nicholson made a good break, then Cruise had the satisfaction of securing the ball from the scrum and getting over. Fraser's kick fell short, and the half-time whistle sounded with the scores 6 all.

On resuming, St. George were soon on the defensive, and free kicks and scrums were only too frequent. The first conspicuous play was on the part of Mullarkey, who made a splendid run, but was brought down near the line. From a free kick Freeman again had a shot at goal; but it went wide. The lack of combination in St. George back division was apparent; with a run across field started by McIllmurray, who, unsupported, had to find the line. Nicholson and Maloney made a forward move on the toe, and in the scramble that resulted Nicholson picked up in front of the posts and kicked a clean field-goal for the visitors, making the score South Sydney 10, St. George 6. This seemed to produce a determination on the part of the home team to equalise matters, and the play for this part of the game was decidedly vigorous. Still pressing, St. George had a shot at goal from a free, but Fleming's attempt failed. South Sydney found the line on numerous occasions, and a magnificent rush by St. George forwards almost ended in a score. The whistle went with St. George still pressing, and the score, South Sydney 10, St. George 6.

For the winners Fraser was always cool and sure in his line-kicking; Nicholson, at half-back, and the forwards Maloney, Bond, and Pengelly, were conspicuous. The losers, who were four men short of the original selection, had to rely on lower grade men, made a splendid showing in the circumstances.

SECOND GRADE.

MANLY v RANDWICK.

Played at Manly Oval, and won by Randwick by 8 to 6. Moore scored a try for winners, which was converted by Grace, who also kicked a penalty goal. Randell kicked a goal from a mark and a penalty goal for Manly. During the progress of the game a Manly player, G. M'Donald, sustained a broken nose. In the second half the play was very rough, and the referee (Mr. Thornton) ordered a player from each side off the field.

SOUTH SYDNEY v SYDNEY TRAINING COLLEGE.

Played at Metters' Ground, and won by Sydney Training College by 6 to 3. Keller scored a try, and Tonking kicked a penalty goal for winners. Kerr scored a try for the losers. W. Jordan, of South Sydney, had his collarbone fractured during the first half.

QUEENSLAND BEATS THE MAORIS.

BRISBANE, Sunday.

At the Exhibition Ground on Saturday some 5000 spectators witnessed an excellent display of football under Rugby Union rules between Queensland and the Maoris. The visiting team scored early, as a result of a drop kick by Grace; then Queensland secured a clever try through the agency of Miebusch, but Willcocks failed to convert. Before half-time Cunningham scored two extra tries for Queensland, Flynn adding the extra points each time. At the interval the home team led by 13 to 4.

In the second half Foote scored a try, and Willcocks kicked a penalty goal for Queensland. Woods scored a try, which he converted, for the Maoris. The final scores were:—Queensland, 19; Maoris, 9.

RUGBY LEAGUE.

EASTERN SUBURBS UNBEATEN.

Eastern Suburbs defeated South Sydney by 12 points to nil.
Newtown defeated Glebe by 7 points to 3.
Western Suburbs defeated Annandale by 11 points to 6.
Balmain and North Sydney played a draw—4 points all.

The grade matches were resumed on Saturday, and, though the weather broke fine, the grounds were in a very treacherous condition after the heavy rain, and consequently spectacular football was only witnessed at rare intervals. However, the games attracted very large attendances.

Eastern Suburbs' success over South Sydney at the Cricket Ground gives the Tricolours a commanding lead in this year's championship. The reappearance of H. H. Messenger has toned up their back division to such an extent that they are now playing with all last year's determination, whilst their vanguard is playing well to a man. South Sydney's form on Saturday was somewhat disappointing, especially in view of their excellent form in their contest with Glebe. They were beaten all round, with one exception, and that was at full-back. Hallett gave a remarkable display of superb fielding and kicking of the sodden and greasy ball. His rival, Kinghorn, also did well, and was reliable.

At Wentworth Park Newtown demonstrated that their brilliant victory over South Sydney was a reflection of the greatness which they are now revealing. They played grandly, and adapted themselves to the style of football which best suited the rain-sodden ground. In the scrummages and in the loose they figured with greater prominence than their opponents, and the work of their six was most meritorious, especially in view of the fact that the forwards were without the services of P. A. M'Cue.

Annandale and Western Suburbs provided a splendid game at Pratten Park, and the defeat of Annandale relegates that club to the last position on the competition list, and provided Western Suburbs with their first victory. The win was well deserved, as the Westerners played the more skilful football, and were much more aggressive than their opponents.

Fully 4000 spectators witnessed the meeting of North Sydney and Balmain at Birchgrove, and, after a very strenuous and exciting game, honours were even. North Sydney were the cleverer side in attack, but this was counterbalanced by the dash and persistency of the opposing forwards, who played an admirable heavy-ground game. A distinctive feature of the game was the complete absence of points other than through the medium of goals, of which each side scored two. This dearth of tries was due to the sound defensive tactics displayed by both teams. In this department Balmain put up a very fine performance in the concluding stages, when they staved off repeated attacks.

EASTERN v SOUTH SYDNEY.

Played at the Sydney Cricket Ground, and won by Eastern Suburbs by 12 points to nil. Teams:—

Eastern Suburbs.—Full-back, F. Kinghorn; three-quarters, D. Frawley, H. H. Messenger (captain), W. Messenger, R. Tidyman; half-backs, L. Cubitt, A. Halloway; forwards, C. Nicholson, J. Watkins, C. Lees, R. Williams, S. Pearce, L. O'Malley.

South Sydney.—Full-back, H. Hallett; three-quarters, H. Horder, H. Thompson, W. Hilliard, O. Brown; half-backs, A. J. M'Cabe, A. Butler (captain) (retired injured, and place filled by J. Leveson); forwards, W. A. Cann, W. Lewis, H. R. Thompson, E. Hilliard, H. Butler, W. Spence.

Referee, Mr. C. Hedley.

The game, which was keenly contested, was not a brilliant one, scrambling, vigorous play taking the place of science. The playing area was in a very sloppy condition, particularly at centre, where the players found it difficult to keep their feet. In such circumstances it was not surprising that the Eastern Suburbs forwards dominated their lighter opponents, and made victory look comparatively easy. The scrummagers put in a lot of good sound work in the open, and at times their footwork was much more than the Southern backs relished. South Sydney were unfortunate in losing the services of their captain, A. Butler, so early in the struggle. He sustained a wrench to his back, and retired a few minutes after the game had started. Referee Hedley controlled the game with much credit, though on occasions he did not interpret the advantage rule correctly.

Soon after the kick-off Kinghorn marked, but H. Messenger's kick at goal failed. Eastern Suburbs were packing a solid six, but their opponents were only working a five scrummage, with the result that Pearce had no difficulty in gaining possession. Halloway came away from a scrum cleverly, and served Cubitt, who was foiled. A penalty relieved the Southerners. H. Messenger early in the game was showing great generalship, and his admirable line-kicking gained the Tricolours much valuable ground. Once from a rush of opponents he cleverly extricated himself, only to find Hallett in the way. He recovered himself after the bump, but lost possession. South Sydney were penalised for off-side. Messenger landed a goal after 22 minutes' play. South Sydney now stormed the Easterners' goal. Touch-judge Poulton witnessed an interference against M'Cabe, and play had to be transferred from the Southerners' goal line to a position directly in front of the Tricolours' posts. Hallett failed badly at goal from the easiest of positions. Frawley made a resolute dash along touch, but the defence was great, Hack Thompson and Hallett particularly shining. H. Messenger was using the line to great advantage; in fact, both sides were kicking with sound judgment, but Eastern Suburbs were the most effective.

South Sydney now came with a burst that threatened danger, but a badly-judged pass at the critical moment by Thompson to Brown nullified the effort. Horder failed at goal badly from a penalty, and play hovered round neutral territory till the Southerners were penalised for off-side, and H. Messenger landed a magnificent goal from the wing. Eastern Suburbs led by 4 to nil at half-time.

Play reopened with strenuous forward rallies, O'Malley, Watkins, and Williams being conspicuous. Watkins and Frawley came through, but superb defence kept them out. The Easterners were persistently aggressive, and threatened danger any moment, but the Southerners were playing as if their lives depended upon the result. Walter Messenger went very near to bumping his way over, but lost the ball; but a little later Lees scored from some scrambling play, in which the stalwart Pearce was very prominent. Messenger goaled from a difficult angle. Eastern Suburbs 9 points to nil. The Southerners now brightened, and H. Thompson, M'Cabe, and Leveson joined forces, but Kinghorn checked the movement splendidly.

After Hallett had made several unsuccessful kicks from penalties the Easterners completely dominated the game. So successful were they in the scrummages that on several occasions they only packed three forwards, and still Pearce was able to beat his vis-a-vis. The Messenger brothers were now prominent in a passing bout, but the younger knocked on, and Hallett relieved by a superb line kick. Just before the close W. Messenger scored after a splendid run along touch, during which he bumped off several opponents. No goal. Eastern Suburbs winners after a keen struggle, with the fruits of victory resting with the superior all-round combination. In the second half H. H. Messenger had his hand badly cut to the bone near the knuckles, the gash being about an inch long.

NEWTOWN v GLEBE.

Played at Wentworth Oval before an attendance of 7500 people, and won by Newtown by 7 points to 3.

Glebe.—Full-back, D. McGregor; three-quarters, R. Algie, T. Leggo, Roy Norman, A. Wright; halves, C. H. McKivat and P. Regan; forwards, F. Burge, S. Griffiths, B. Gray, D. Kelly, J. Redmond, J. Davis.

Newtown.—Full-back, E. D. Griffiths; three-quarters, C. Russell, G. Bain, H. T. Belt, W. Collins; halves, W. Green and R. Farnsworth; forwards, W. Haddock, J. McCue, J. Murray, D. Grundie, T. Barnett, J. Woolan.

Referee, Mr. E. Shaw.

Glebe owe their defeat to their weak forward division. The Glebe pack seldom gained possession of the ball in the scrummages, and in the open play they were listless and heavy in their movements. As the condition of the ground limited play to the forwards, Newtown's victory is easily understood, and although the margin of points in their favour was small, it does not denote the actual difference between the two teams, as Newtown were much the better side from start to finish.

Glebe, as usual, opened the game by attacking vigorously. They worked their way down field into Newtown's territory, and twice from scrums, Regan, working the "blind" side, gave Algie excellent opportunities. Russell's determined tackling, however, on each occasion interfered with Algie's progress. From now onwards the Newtown pack began to assert their superiority in the scrummages, Haddock, the Newtown "rake," beating Griffiths, his vis-a-vis, for the ball. Newtown, by a series of passing bouts, brought the ball to the Glebe 25, and from there registered their first score. McCue, Barnett, and Murray dribbled through Glebe's defence, and when near the line Murray kicked too hard. In the rush for the ball McCue was successful and Russell converted from an easy position. Newtown 5, Glebe 0. Play now quickened considerably, the ball travelling up and down the field without either side gaining any advantage. Regan, playing behind the Glebe six in place of McKivat, who had reverted to his old position of stand-off half, was keeping Algie well served. The speedy Glebe three-quarter was making desperate, but fruitless, efforts to break through Russell's defence. The attack and defensive play of these two players was a feature of the game. On one occasion too much vim was put into a tackle by Algie, and Newtown were awarded a penalty kick, from which Russell again goaled, leaving Newtown leading at half-time by 7 points to nil.

After the interval Glebe for a time played with great resolution, and again and again they pressed closely, and it was only the strong defence of Newtown's rearguard that prevented a score. Glebe's effort, however, was not sustained. Newtown again took command of the game. The play became uninteresting and uneventful, save for Algie's try, which was Glebe's only score. Wright, on Glebe's left wing, cross-kicked; Algie and Leggo raced along the line, and just as Griffiths, the Newtown full-back, jumped for the ball, Leggo knocked it over to Algie. The latter then went ahead at a great pace, closely pursued by several Newtown men, and running around from the corner scored behind the posts. Leggo failed badly with his kick. Newtown were storming Glebe's line when the "no-side" whistle sounded, and the former gained a well-merited victory.

NORTH SYDNEY v BALMAIN.

Played at Birchgrove Oval, and resulted in a draw—4 points all. Teams:—

North Sydney.—Full-back, T. More; three-quarters, A. Broomham, J. Taplin, O. Deane, W. Thomas; half-backs, S. Deane, S. M'Farlane; forwards, C. Sullivan, J. Baker, J. Gosper (retired injured, place filled by V. Green), W. Maher, A. B. Burge, R. Wilkinson.

Balmain.—Full-back, C. Fraser; three-quarters, G. Wheatley, P. Burns, A. Harrington, E. Hucker; half-backs, G. Potter, A. Johnson; forwards, J. Woodward, H. Baulkwell, R. Graves, W. Noble, G. Cummins, R. R. Craig.

Referee, A. Farrow.

These sides were splendidly matched, and if North Sydney passed better than the men of Birchgrove, this was counterbalanced by keen tackling and resolute play. There was little to choose between the teams all the way through, and owing to their stirring defence Balmain were fully entitled to share the spoils. Balmain's forwards, particularly Craig and Baulkwell, played splendidly. The lastnamed was a very successful "rake," and provided ample opportunity for the rear division to distinguish itself; but the alertness of Sid. Deane and his colleagues was too much for the Balmain attacking machinery, and although many combined rushes were initiated nothing in the way of points resulted. The Shoremen were very aggressive in the second half, and stormed Balmain's citadel time and again, but, owing to faulty handling, nothing occurred. The greasy ball greatly troubled Broomham, and one attempt at scoring presented a rare chance of bringing his side victory, but a knock-on called him back after he had crossed over.

From the start the game was keenly waged between the two packs, with temporary bursts of individual brilliancy keeping the spectators interested. O. Deane in particular delighted them with a magnificent run from his own 25, and he seemed a certain scorer when he served Thomas with a badly-placed pass, and the effort ended. At half-time Balmain led by 2 to nil—a penalty goal kicked by Fraser. After the interval the Shoremen got into their stride, and the ball was handled in delightful fashion, but splendid tackling kept them out. Maher equalised the scores by kicking a penalty goal. The home team rallied, and by clever footwork stormed their opponents' line. Balmain received a penalty kick, and Cummins made no mistake. Balmain, 4 points to 2. The Shoremen started out determinedly to wipe off the deficit. The backs played finely, but two beautifully executed passing movements were frustrated through faulty handling by Thomas and Broomham. However, North Sydney were awarded a penalty, and Maher kicked a goal: 4 points all. The Shoremen tried desperately to gain the lead, but the defence rose to the occasion and kept them out. It was a stirring close, with both teams exerting themselves right up to the no-side whistle.

WESTERN SUBURBS v ANNANDALE.

Played at Pratten Park, and won by Western Suburbs by 11 points to 6. Teams:—

Western Suburbs.—Full-back, H. Clark; three-quarters, C. M'Fadyen, H. Naylor, H. V. Bissett, C. Rothwell; half-backs, R. Steward, T. Gagin; forwards, E. Courtney (captain), W. Easterbrook, A. Burdus, A. Gillett, W. Joass, O. Foord.

Annandale.—Full-back, G. Challis; three-quarters, G. Reynolds, L. Wall, Rex Norman, J. Leonard; half-backs, Ray Norman (captain), T. Knight; forwards, G. Munce, James, Woodward, W. Kyle, W. Palmer, R. Lennon, T. Perry.

Referee, Mr. H. Millington.

By losing to Western Suburbs Annandale have been relegated to the lowest rung in the competition ladder. That Western Suburbs emerged victorious is to their credit. They played the more finished game, but Annandale's bustle and keenness went a long way towards meeting this. Wall, who lately played for Balmain, played his first game with Annandale, and signalised his debut by kicking a fine penalty goal soon after the start. However, Rex Norman immediately afterwards got his side into trouble for off-side, and Foord equalised by landing a goal. Two all.

Western Suburbs were playing well together, but the spoiling tactics of the opposition kept them out for some time. However, they were not to be denied, as a neat piece of concerted play, which was initiated by Gagin from the back of the scrum, resulted in Bissett crossing near the corner after Steward and Naylor had participated in the rush. Clark failed at goal. Western Suburbs, 5 to 2.

The Westerners were appreciably the better side, and were playing with a thorough understanding. Just before the interval Steward gathered from ruck play, and registered Western Suburbs' second try. No goal. Western Suburbs, 8 to 2, at half-time.

The Westerners again set the pace on reopening, but striking defence by Challis and Leonard kept them out. Soon after this Wall kick a superb goal from a penalty. Western Suburbs, 8 to 4. The pace was brisk, with both sets of forwards working very hard. A burst by Rothwell along touch looked like bringing his side points, but a knock-on upset calculations. The Westerners were now storming their opponents' line, and from some hard ruck work Easterbrook dived over and scored. Western Suburbs, 11 to 4. Play became rather strenuous after this, and there were several mix ups, but the referee was watchful and restored a calm by sending an Annandale player off the field. Wall again came into prominence, and landed his third goal from a penalty. Annandale now pulled themselves together, and worked play to the Westerners' line, Ray Norman being prominent. A strong defence, however, kept the score unaltered to the final whistle. Western Suburbs winners by 11 points to 6.

SECOND GRADE.

The final scores were: New Zealand, 30 points; Queensland, 5.

AUSTRALIAN.

SATURDAY'S GAMES.

The result of Saturday's league competition matches place Sydney in the leading position. Paddington was beaten by North Sydney.

The incessant rains during the week spoiled the playing areas at the Australian Football Ground, and North Sydney Oval No. 2; but Hampden Oval, except for a slippery patch in the centre, was in splendid order, and Sydney and South Sydney, at the last-named ground, gave a good exhibition. At North Sydney Oval No. 2, the home team beat Paddington. East Sydney refused to meet Newtown at the Australian Football Ground, which was in parts submerged by water. Newtown entered the field, and put the ball between the goal posts, and claim the winning points. The matter will come before the match committee of the league to-night.

Paddington, on the previous Saturday were the unbeaten leaders in the competition, but have lost to South and North Sydney. There are already signs of a marked revival of interest in the game.

COMPETITION TABLE.

	W.	L.	Bye.	Comp. Points.
Sydney	6	1	1	28
Paddington	5	2	1	24
South Sydney	3	4	1	16
North Sydney	3	4	1	16
Balmain	2	4	2	16
Newtown	3	4	1	16
East Sydney	2	5	1	12

PADDINGTON v NORTH SYDNEY.

Played at North Sydney Oval, No. 2, and won by North Sydney by 68 points to 47. Gerah, Wise, Havrahan, and Rolleston were absent from Paddington's ranks, but North Sydney played their best team of the season. North Sydney secured at the bounce, but the ball was brought back through Goldsmith over-carrying, and a behind was registered by Paddington, and their score was added to by M'Phail kicking a goal. A long punt went on to Robinson, who passed on to Goldsmith, who goaled for North Sydney. Even play followed, till just on the close of the quarter, when two more goals were added by North Sydney, and the term ended: North Sydney 3-2; Paddington, 1-4.

Paddington forced the game. Chapman marked well, and goaled, but North Sydney carried the ball into their opponents' territory, and scored their fourth goal. North Sydney were displaying a tendency to hang on, and they were frequently penalised. A dash by Mahoney gave Paddington their third goal. Three behinds followed, and then Goldsmith with a brilliant run put North Sydney once more in the lead, a position they were unable to retain for long, as Watts kicked another goal, and at half-time the scores were even: North Sydney, 5-8; Paddington, 4-8, or 38 points all.

The teams did not leave the field for the usual half-time interval, owing to a late start. North Sydney began aggressively, but Payne, in goal, prevented North Sydney getting well ahead, though the quarter closed all in their favour, by obtaining 3 goals 3 behinds to Paddington's 1 goal 1 behind. The quarter was strenuously fought, neither side retaining the ball. North Sydney gained a point advantage in the final term, and the full-time scores were:—North Sydney, 9-6 (60 points); Paddington, 6-11 (47 points).

Goldsmith for North Sydney was the most prominent, and was responsible for four out of the nine goals scored by his side. L. Davidson, field umpire.

SYDNEY v SOUTH SYDNEY.

Played at Hampden Oval, and won by Sydney by 49 points to 18. After defeating Paddington on Monday, South Sydney entered upon the contest with confidence, but though they played vigorously, and at times skilfully, they never appeared to have a winning chance. The premiers were without the services of their captain (Eastment), A. Barry, and Hume, but South Sydney had their strongest team afield. The opening play was in favour of South Sydney. Main sent the ball up to Sydney's goal; the ball was mulled through over-eagerness. Hyett kicked the ball back to the centre, where Sydney overpowered their opponents. O'Grady scored a goal for Sydney with a nice running kick. Sydney were now forcing matters, and persistent and well combined attacks brought goals by Grant and O'Grady. Quarter-time, Sydney 3.2 (20 points) to nil. Sydney led off in the second quarter, and a goal by Mumford was added to their score. South's were fighting strongly against their more clever opponents, and a long spell of even play ensued. Good work by the Southern ruck was spoiled by the forwards, who failed to keep possession of the ball or turn opportunities into account. Just before half-time Sydney forced the ball up field, and O'Grady kicked their fifth goal. Half-time, Sydney 36 points, South Sydney 4 points.

The third quarter found both teams at their best, and some exciting play was witnessed. The scoring during the quarter was small, due to the excellent defensive play shown by both sides. Three-quarter time, Sydney 44 points, South Sydney 6 points. The final bounce found Sydney quickest on the ball, and a single point was added to their score. By skilful and determined effort the South Sydney, with Marritt in the van, broke through Sydney's lines, and Main registered their first goal. The same player added another goal before the final bell rang, leaving Sydney winners of a good game by 6.13 (49 points) to 2.6 (18 points). T. Richardson, field umpire.

SECOND GRADE.

At the Australian Football Ground, Sydney beat Newtown by 6.5 (41 points) to 3.3 (21 points).

At Moore Park, Paddington beat East Sydney by 16.8 (104 points) to 2.3 (15 points).

Northern Districts received a forfeit from South Sydney.

YOUNG AUSTRALIA LEAGUE.

Botany 4.7 (31 points), beat Sydney III., 0.6 (6 points). Newtown III. 9.13 (67 points) beat Newtown Continuation School (3 points). Both matches were played at Erskineville Park.

BRITISH ASSOCIATION.

SATURDAY'S MATCHES.

Sydney continues to occupy premier position in the competition. A very interesting game at Epping on Saturday resulted in their favour. Canterbury's run of success received a sharp check at Sydenham, where Newtown registered the highest first-league scores to date. The recent rain affected a number of the grounds, especially at Sydenham and Botany. At Federal Park the late game, Northern Suburbs v Annandale, was abandoned.

FIRST LEAGUE.

NEWTOWN v CANTERBURY.

Played at Sydenham, and won by Newtown by 7 goals to 1.

Newtown.—Mitchell, Dennis, Blakeley, Bywater, Carmichael, Newton, Grummett, Masters, Bruce, M'Anish, and Blake. Canterbury: Geering, Lane, Bannister, Haigh, Piggott, M'Beth, Musgrave, Smith (2), Edge, and Billett. Referee, J. M'Donald.

The sloppy condition of the ground was against the visitors, who were the lighter team. Newtown were admirably suited, and their short passing bouts completely nonplussed Canterbury, for whom Geering and Lane played sturdily. Newtown were 2 to 0 at the interval, and added five to Canterbury's one in the second half. Bruce and M'Anish (2), Masters, Grummett, and Blakeley (from a penalty) scored for the victors, and Musgrave for the losers.

GRANVILLE v SYDNEY.

Played at Epping, and won by Sydney by 5 to 3. Sydney: Le Lean, Hughes, Kirkpatrick, Higby, Davies, Mill, Burroughes, Gallagher, Willingham, Herron, and Holt. Granville: Mobbs, Pearson, Gill, Doherty, Hilder, Peaty, Allen, Hoffmann, Watkins, Barrell, and Smith. Referee, O. Read.

Sydney had the better of the first half, in which Hilder played well for Granville. Mobbs was not in his best form, and the greasy ball tricked Granville's defence. Consequently Sydney were 4 to 0 at the interval. Granville put quite an open aspect on the game in the second half, scoring three goals in quick succession, but Sydney ran out winners. Gallagher (3), Herron, and Willingham scored for Sydney; and Allen (2) and Hoffmann for Granville.

Royal Navy beat Canterbury at Campsie 2 to 0, Lough scoring both goals.

Burns Club and The Glebe played a very even game at Moore Park, the former winning 3 to 2. M'Kenzie, Fleming and Cox for the winners, and Hill (2) for the losers scored. Mr. H. T. Moore refereed.

Y.M.C.A. and Annandale met at Federal Park, and the former won an interesting game 3 to 1. Oldham, Bessie, Sheffield, and M'Intosh scored.

AMATEUR GOLF CHAMPION.

MR. W. C. STURROCK.

W. C. STURROCK BEATS E. L. APPERLY

IN FINAL OF STATE AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP.

This year's amateur golf championship of the State has been played under adverse conditions from the qualifying round on Saturday week to the final, which was played on Saturday, when W. C. Sturrock defeated E. L. Apperly by five up and four to play.

Rain, wind, and hail has been the portion of participants in the event, with a soggy, water-logged course on which to play. Not that this is a criticism on the Rose Bay links as a course, for it stood the severe test very well, and all that the club could possibly do for the comfort of the players was done. But few courses could present a playable appearance through the almost unprecedented wet weather that has lately been experienced, and that Rose Bay, for the most part low-lying country, was in fit condition for play at all during the last week is a tribute to the able management of the course.

The preliminary rounds were played off during the week, and left E. L. Apperly, of the Australian Club, and W. C. Sturrock, a golfer not long from England, but now a member of the Dobroyde Club, to fight it out for the coveted honour of being amateur champion of New South Wales. The weather was a little better than had been experienced in the preceding rounds, though rain and wind were experienced at times in the morning round. The afternoon, however, was fine, though the course was very soft in places.

Sturrock played in splendid form in the first half of the morning round, and Apperly, who did not seem quite as certain as usual, lost ground from the start. Sturrock won the first three holes, as also the sixth, seventh, and ninth, and at the turn was 6 up—a big lead, which Apperly, on the way home, reduced by 2 holes, thus finishing the morning round 4 down.

Going out in the afternoon a "gallery" of several hundred enthusiasts followed the match, and saw Sturrock gradually increase his lead, until at the seventh—the 25th of the match—he was 7 up, and appeared to be quite safe. Apperly, however, making a brave effort, won three holes in succession, and was then 4 down, with 8 holes still to play. However, he could only halve the next three holes, and Sturrock, by easily winning the 14th in 3, won a good match by 5 up and 4 to play.

Throughout the day Sturrock drove a very long ball with a low trajectory, and when he failed, which was seldom, it was through half topping his ball. The features of his game were, after his drive, a long, high-pitched approach, a short approach from about 30 yards, with which he was very accurate, and his long approach putts, the strength of which he gauged splendidly. On the other hand, his weakness appeared to be in negotiating putts of about four feet, which he frequently missed. Apperly drove a long, high ball, played his long irons well, but was not at his best on the greens.

THE PLAY.

At the first hole both men got good drives, Sturrock slightly socketing his second shot to the right of the green. Apperly duffed his second shot nearly into the bunker, and again duffed his third, the ball finding the small bunker across the green, from where he failed to get out, and picked up his ball. Sturrock had a certain five and probable four here. He got a long drive at the second, to the left of the fairway, Apperly being imbedded in soft ground near the waterholes. The latter got out with a beautiful second, carrying the bunker in the face of wind and rain. Sturrock's second was pushed out to the right, but he made a very good approach, and holed in five, whereas Apperly missed a short putt and took six.

Sturrock was on the green with is tee shot at the short third, while Apperly's shot was pushed out beyond the flooded bunker on the right. He made a good approach, but missed a short putt, and became three down. At the fourth hole Apperly outdrove his opponent, and played a good second to the green. Sturrock also got in a good second shot, and the hole was well halved in fours, each man nearly running down a long putt for three. Sturrock topped his drive at the next hole, but the ball ran through to the fairway, and he played a good second near to the bunker guarding the green on the right. Apperly played his second shot badly, and ran about 11 yards past the hole with his third. Sturrock laid his short approach dead, and Apperly ran down a long putt for a half.

At the sixth hole Sturrock's tee shot lobbed beside the pin, and ran five yards beyond, Apperly being short. Sturrock ran down a good putt for a two, and became four up. The latter played perfect golf at the next hole, and secured a five, Apperly had played two long shots too close to the bunker before the green, but weak play cost six for the hole. Sturrock drove a very long ball against the wind and rain at the eighth, but missed a short putt, the hole costing five. Apperly over-ran the green with his second, and found a bad lie, but secured a half. The ninth went to Sturrock, who, by means of a long drive, an iron shot, and an approach to the pin, secured a four to his opponent's five, and thus turned for home with the comfortable lead of six holes.

Coming home, Sturrock pulled his tee shot at the tenth into the drain, while Apperly sliced into a bunker, and a half in five's resulted. At the next hole Apperly met with his first success, Sturrock topping his drive, which, however, ran into the fairway. His second found the sand bunker, but he got well out, and laid his short approach nearly dead, but missed a short putt. Apperly was just off the green with his second, and overran the hole with his next shot, but holed a good putt for a four. At the twelfth Sturrock laid Apperly a stymie, and a half in four was the result. Each player got in two good shots at the next hole, Apperly laying his third almost dead, while Sturrock ran across the green. Apperly missed his putt, but won the hole in 5 to 6. Both were on the green with their tee shots at the fourteenth, Apperly being hole high, while Sturrock was 15 yards short. The latter almost holed his putt, while Apperly, putting too strongly, ran halfway up the bank of the hummock, and was unfortunate enough to stop there, and he lost the hole by 4 and 3.

At the fifteenth Sturrock was on the green in two good shots, Apperly being a little short, but the latter laid his third dead, and got a four. Sturrock, in trying for a three, overran the hole, and missed the return putt. He was then four up. Each man got two good shots at the next hole, and Sturrock missing another four-foot putt lost the hole. The seventeenth was halved in fives, both men playing indifferently, while the last hole went to Sturrock, who, with a good drive and a splendid second, nearly had a three, but holed for four against Apperly's five. Sturrock thus finished the morning round with a lead of four holes.

Going out in the afternoon the first hole was halved in fours, Apperly holing a good putt for a half. Apperly pulled his drive at the second into the rough, and was still in the rough with his second, Sturrock's second being fortunate in stopping only inches off a ditch. The latter was nicely on the green with his next, while Apperly was off to the right, and Sturrock won the hole in 5 to 6. Each man took three putts on the next green, and a half in fours resulted, while at the fourth hole two very good shots by each player reached the green, and another half in four was scored. At the fifth Sturrock pulled his second into the rough, but Apperly did not take advantage of this, as he did the same, and, taking three putts on the green, Sturrock won in 5 to 6. On the next green Sturrock laid Apperly a difficult stymie, which the latter failed to negotiate, and Sturrock became seven up.

The seventh hole was well halved in fives, Sturrock playing a nice third to the green, while Apperly ran down a good putt. At the eighth Sturrock pulled into the rough, and had to play out left-handed. He foozled his third into the bunker and picked up, while at the ninth Apperly had a nice four, Sturrock overrunning the green with his second, and requiring five. Sturrock was now five up, and his lead was reduced to four up, when Apperly obtained a splendid three at the tenth. Sturrock again driving into the ditch on the left. The eleventh was well halved in fours, and at the twelfth a good approach gave Sturrock a half when the hole looked like going to Apperly. The latter's third shot at the thirteenth ran through the green, but a very good putt gave him a half in five. Sturrock was now four up and five to go, and the end came at the next hole, where Apperly's tee shot was on the wrong side of the hummock, while Sturrock was nicely on the green. The former endeavoured to toss over the mound, but failed, and Sturrock won the championship by five up and four to play. The scores were:—

GROWING TRADE.

MORE CARGO-CARRIERS.

The steady growth of Australia's oversea trade shows no signs of diminishing, and ship owners are taking an optimistic view of its future by crowding in new steamers as soon as they can get orders completed by the already overworked shipbuilding yards in England.

Builders on the Continent are also busy on steamers destined to visit these shores and engage regularly in the trade between foreign ports and Australia. Amongst the latter are two fine new steamers, which will augment the cargo-carrying fleet of the Norddeutscher-Lloyd Company.

These vessels are to be named the Pommern and Posen. The former has already been launched, and will leave Bremen for Australian ports some time during the present month. The Posen, which is to be somewhat similar to the Pommern in construction will follow her in the Australian trade later on.

Particulars of the Pommern which have come to hand show that she will be in many respects similar to the company's cargo steamer Kiasse, one of the most recent additions to the fleet. She is 8090 tons gross, and her principal dimensions are:—Length 470ft, breadth 59ft, and depth 36.7ft, and she will have a carrying capacity of 12,000 tons. She is to be fitted with electric light, and a large portion of her cargo space will be insulated for the carriage of frozen meat, butter, etc.

Wednesday, the 18th instant, will be the last day on which payment of Federal land tax for the current year, 1912-13, will be received without penalty.

NOMENCLATURE OF CRUISERS.

It has been decided to discontinue the use of the terms "armoured cruiser," "protected cruiser, first-class," "protected cruiser, second class," "protected cruiser, third class," "unarmoured cruiser," and "Scout" in the Australian Navy.

In future cruisers will be officially divided into three classes, namely, "battle cruisers," "cruisers," and "light cruisers." The term "battle cruiser" will continue to be used as at present. The term "cruiser" will be used to designate all vessels at present classified as "armoured cruisers" and "protected cruisers, first class;" and the term "light cruiser" to designate the remaining cruisers and the vessels hitherto classified as "scouts." Ships of the Melbourne class and Pioneer will accordingly be designated "light cruisers." The Protector is to be designated a gunboat.

The Australian flag is to be the saluting flag at all reviews and ceremonial parades on shore. The Union Jack is also to be flown at the saluting point on all occasions when representatives of his Majesty the King review the Commonwealth forces.

HOUSING OF CONSUMPTIVES.

Alderman F. Lidbury, Mayor of Rookwood, is moving in the direction of obtaining the signatures of Mayors of municipal councils chiefly concerned to a petition to the Chief Secretary against the practice of housing and treating consumptives at the Rookwood Asylum, which is within a stone's throw of Potts Hill Reservoir, on the amplification of which the Government is expending a quarter of a million of money. There is strong feeling in Rookwood and the surrounding districts against a home for consumptives being established so close to a numerous population. There are over 60 people suffering from the disease now being housed and treated within the grounds of the asylum.

NEW SOUTH WALES MUNICIPALITIES.

PLEASE NOTE.

THAT A LIGHTING FEAT WITHOUT A PARALLEL IN HISTORY has been accomplished by the COLT DUPLEX CARBIDE-FEED TOWN GENERATOR at Healesville, Victoria.

165,000 feet of the new safety acetylene, equal to upwards of 8,000,000 candle-power, have been supplied by the local council through meters, as required, for lighting, heating, and cooking, without costing a penny for a burner or anything in connection with the whole plant.

One electrician's expenses per annum would more than pay for the fifteen tons of carbide that were used in the above plant, and two years' up-keep and general expenses per annum on an electrical plant to provide the same candle-power would pay for the Healesville plant, including 17,000 feet of street mains, carbide, street lighting, lamplighter, and caretaker's expenses.

We are prepared to take over the upkeep, including burner renewals on any COLT PLANT for 1 per cent. per annum on the cost of the plant.

REFRIGERATION.

The development of refrigeration in relation to Australian produce is one of the most important phases of commercial expansion. Its application to meat, butter, fruit, etc., has made it possible to utilise at a profit the wonderful productiveness of our country and has opened up industries which, without its aid, would never have existed. Perishable surplus produce, which would otherwise have been valueless, has been converted into a sound commercial asset, and Australia has consequently benefited to the extent of millions of pounds. Notwithstanding, there is an extraordinary lack of knowledge on the part of the public regarding refrigeration and what it means to Australia. In America the Government and numerous associations are constantly engaged in conducting investigations into the various uses to which refrigeration may be put in the interests of commerce and domestic economy. The results of those investigations are not pigeonholed for the information of scientists, but are carefully distributed for the guidance of the general public. Take, for instance, the lengthy investigations that have been carried on in the United States during the past two or three years upon the preparation of poultry and game for cold storage. Every detail of that large industry has been carefully examined and reported upon by a staff of scientists, from the mode of killing, bleeding, and plucking, right up to the defrosting immediately preceding consumption. It has been shown to those engaged in the business that defective methods in any of the stages of the operations mean deterioration and considerable loss. Not so many years ago the ignorance that prevailed regarding all these matters by the very people who should have known was extraordinary. Businesses which should have been carried on at a good profit were hopelessly ruined for want of that knowledge. The interposition of the Government and of the scientific associations made it possible for people to get a grasp of the salient points which would make refrigeration the huge success it has since become. As with poultry, so with eggs, meat, fruit, and the numerous other things which now figure in the refrigerated chambers of the United States. Refrigeration, however, is practically in its infancy, and great as have been its achievements during the past quarter of a century, the future promises for it a development still more astonishing. It is perhaps because the scientists of the United States realise this, that that country is now the home of so much research in connection with refrigeration as applied to commercial undertakings.

It is not too much to say that Australia will find that refrigeration means infinitely more to her than it does to the United States. Our geographical position would render our large surplus produce of no value were it not for the science of refrigeration, which enables us to place that surplus on the markets of the world. Yet we do practically nothing in the direction of research. There is even a lack of ordinary associations for the consideration of matters connected with the frozen produce export trade. Almost every month there are subjects cropping up requiring discussion and concerted action in the interests of the trade, but there is no direct association here to handle them. In New Zealand there are at least two live organisations which are doing excellent work, and these are not confined wholly to local considerations, for they are also represented in London, and find much to attend to there in furthering the interests of the Dominion's refrigerated industries. In the Argentine the industry is expanding hugely, and those identified with it have found it to their advantage to keep in touch with the developments that are taking place in the United States. In Australia we find no research work, no associations, no organisations whatever, that have for their direct object the furtherance of interests of the refrigerated industries. Each firm carries on its operations regardless of what other firms are doing. There are indeed, rumours that in no other business is there to be found so much secretiveness, so much jealousy, so much hostility as in the cold storage trade. While such a state of affairs continues, how is it possible for Australia to derive the fullest benefit from the wonderful developments that are taking place in the science of refrigeration?

TRAVELLING STOCK RESERVES.

The proposal of the Dubbo Pastures Protection Board for the leasing of the travelling stock reserves is one that will doubtless evoke much conflicting opinion. Whether it would have the effect of improving the existing conditions is certainly a doubtful point. In the first place, the leases would hardly be attractive to possible lessees, because the condition conserving the rights of travelling stock would make them of little value to the holder. If the land is fit for cultivation, and the lessee is to be permitted to cultivate a portion of the holding, that portion might as well be cultivated by a permanent settler as by the lessee. If the land is only suited for pastoral purposes, then it will be of little use to the lessee when it is liable to invasion at any moment by a mob of hungry cattle or a flock of starving sheep. And the interests of travelling stock will not be appreciably promoted by the change. If a man leases the land he may be trusted to take good care that the needs of his own stock shall have preference over the requirements of the travelling animals. The object aimed at is to make these reserves of value for the purpose for which they were created, which is not the case now. They want clearing up, and protected for legitimate use of travelling stock. To that end stockowners have expressed willingness to pay a charge to meet the necessary expenditure. A practical plan that has been suggested is the enclosure of certain blocks at a distance of, say, eight or ten miles from each other. These blocks might be improved, and kept clear of vermin, by a paid caretaker, permitted to keep no live stock, save, perhaps, a couple of milking cows. Thus protected, the reserves would be of practical value, and stockowners would hardly object to payment of a small fee for the accommodation afforded. The intervening land might then with advantage be thrown open to settlement, and it would go at least some small way to meet the growing demand for country for this purpose. At present the reserves are practically useless as resting and feeding places for the travelling stock. They are indeed worse than useless, because they form a breeding-place and nursery for rabbits. Treated in the manner suggested, a certain proportion would in every way justify their permanent reservation, whilst the remainder of the area, made available for selection, would help to further the cause of settlement, by increasing the population and prosperity of the districts traversed by these vast reserves.

GROWING GOOSEBERRIES.

The growing of gooseberries, and other small fruit, should develop into a considerable industry on the Blue Mountains. Great quantities of gooseberries are imported from Tasmania each season; when at the very doors of Sydney there is plenty of country suitable for their culture. They are easily grown, and it is amazing how they thrive in the sandy soil that predominates on the mountains. There are few large areas under crop, but those that have a few dozen bushes find them very profitable. The fruit sells readily at fourpence and sixpence a quart. This is cheap, compared to the prices obtained for them in Sydney. The most favoured method of obtaining the bushes is by means of cuttings, which "strike" very easily, and those put in this year will bear fruit next.

THE WESTERN DISTRICT.

A GOOD SEASON.

The season in the Western district is proving highly satisfactory, and the generous falls of rain that have taken place are reflected in the condition of the paddocks. There has been a comparative absence of cold weather, with the result that grass and herbage are growing luxuriantly. In many parts, the grass is four and five inches high, while clover and crowsfoot are growing in abundance. Farmers are busy ploughing and sowing, and while a large area has already been planted with wheat, there should be a heavy late sowing. Outside the wheat belts, prospects could not be improved upon, and the lambing is expected to be the highest experienced for some years. It will be the means of restocking much of the country that was bereft of sheep during the dry spell last year. Generally, farmers and pastoralists expect good results this season, and everything points in this direction. Some of the old pioneers say that the verdant green of the country side is reminiscent of the "good old days."

FRUIT EXPORT TRADE.

AUSTRALIAN APPLES.

An English Exchange writes:—"Although Australian and Tasmanian apples are arriving in increasing quantities, the samples, so far, leave plenty room for improvement. It is somewhat remarkable, however, that every year the Antipodean season makes a bad start, for first consignments have never turned out entirely satisfactory. There are various reasons which might account for this, such as want of size and colour, appearance, and troubles in transit. It would be much to the advantage of growers if they allowed more time for the fruit to properly mature before packing, and thus gain the confidence of buyers right from the beginning."

TUBERCULIN TEST.

The action of the Berry farmers in passing a resolution condemning the tuberculin test for cattle was warmly criticised last week by a leading expert. The old idea that it communicates tuberculosis to a healthy beast, he said, was a fallacy, as was proved by the fact that all operations performed on children for glands had been superseded, medical men relying upon the tuberculin serum almost entirely. The farmers of Berry had also passed a resolution asking that the scheme of establishing veterinary classes in the district should be gone on with, not realising, apparently, that the tuberculin test was one of the things that the veterinary people took a special pride in as an almost infallible method of determining whether disease existed or not.

DAIRY CATTLE BREEDS.

ILLAWARRA AND MILKING SHORTHORN

KIAMA.—Some members of the committee of the Kiama Agricultural Society are moving in the matter of bringing about the amalgamation of the Illawarra Dairy Cattle and Milking Shorthorn Associations, their contention being that both are one and the same breed, and either the Illawarra or the milking shorthorn section should be eliminated from future schedules. Speaking on the merits of the two breeds, a well-known authority said:—"The Illawarra and milking shorthorn cattle advocates are busy just now trying to formulate a scheme which will tide them over a serious difficulty with which they are each and all confronted. For years past no difficulty was observed, and things moved on without protest. But as soon as the Illawarra breed was brought into prominence as a breed, and it became recognised as a breed by the pure-bred cattle associations, the men on the land began to make inquiries as to the difference between the two breeds. That inquiry may go on generation after generation without result, so long as things are allowed to drift as they have been drifting, viz., without any control or supervision worth a moment's consideration. Things are at present very mixed. If an animal looks more like a shorthorn than an Ayrshire, it is dubbed a milking shorthorn. If another animal, perhaps bred on similar lines, shows more Ayrshire than Shorthorn blood, it is put down as Illawarra; and if a third animal, also bred on the same lines, shows both characteristics, it is booked at once a crossbred. In order, therefore, to cope with this difficulty, the several South Coast agricultural societies, following the lead of the Kiama Society, have so arranged their schedules that champions of both breeds should be pleased. Hence we have prizes offered for both milking shorthorn, Illawarra, and miscellaneous cattle, which latter includes all crossbreds. This has caused much confusion, and must lead to disastrous results sooner or later. Now the question arises, how is this state of chaos going to be remedied?

"It is quite plain that our agricultural societies cannot bring about a system that is likely to uplift the type and quality of our Illawarra dairy herds, as every dairyman on those committees is too deeply interested in arranging prizes for the animals on his own or his friend's farm. As for pure breeding of cattle, this seems to be either passed over or not very well understood. For example, any man who calls himself a breeder of dairy cattle ought to be able to breed at least 20 head of cattle each year of the same colour, type, and dairy quality, whereas, our show display of dairy cattle, coming from the herds of our oldest exhibitors, are so variegated that a stranger would naturally conclude that such cattle must be pronounced mongrels. It would, therefore, appear that the only remedy lies in having one herd of cattle defined by the Department of Agriculture that will be recognised as an Illawarra breed. Let all our South Coast agricultural societies aim at furthering the best interests of this breed by awarding prizes to this breed and no other off-shoots of the breed in future. In fact, the Department of Agriculture, if its interests are in a colonial breed of dairy cattle of any type, colour, or quality whatsoever, should insist on this being done. The colour of an animal, according to no less an authority than Charles Darwin, is a fleeting characteristic. Therefore, as so many of our calves have to be destroyed annually, it would be an easy matter indeed to adopt one colour and stick to it. This matter of one colour would clear up many nasty disputes as to the purity of blood in most of our pedigreed cattle. For instance, when we see a red cow with a white blaze on her flanks, whose sire and dam and grandsire and grand-dam were of lighter roan colour most of us have opinions which we do not care to express, especially so when we see no other animals of the same colour, type, and quality coming from the same breeder."

BOTS AND TAPE WORMS.

CASINO.—The result of a post mortem held on a horse owned by Mr. D. M'Intosh, of Kyogle, will prove of considerable interest to owners in this district, disproving, as it does, the theory that a necessary condition of the effects of bot-fly is emaciation and general poorness. The horse in question was one of a very handsome pair of greys which Mr. M'Intosh employed on the mail run between Casino and Kyogle. The driver of the mail coach noticed that the horse was not too well, but managed to complete the trip. The horse was in the pink of condition, but died in great agony half an hour after being released. Examination showed that in the stomach thousands of "bots" were attached to the lower wall, which was perforated in many places, while a large number of tapeworms were also found. Some of the worms were two feet long, and as thick as a man's small finger. The "bots" were a little larger than blowflies, and a pickle-bottle full were gathered.

THE SEASON.

The Commonwealth Meteorologist has supplied the following summary of the condition of stock, crops, pastures, etc., during the month of May, gleaned from the reports furnished by meteorological observers throughout the State of New South Wales:—

With the exception of the western half of the Western division, the whole of the State experienced a rainfall well above normal. These good rains, accompanied as they were by mild temperatures and followed by very few frosts, were of inestimable value to the State generally, and favoured a most bountiful season.

In the coastal districts such unusually heavy rains occurred that in many places not only was a record total for May established, but a record for any previous month. Most of the coastal rivers were flooded, but only in the Hunter district was much damage done. Here the rivers covered the lowlying lands, and the grass and crops suffered in consequence. The flood in the Hunter was reported to be the highest since 1893, and great destruction of property was wrought in Singleton and Maitland by it. In the metropolitan area the heavy rains made work on orchards impossible for the time, and greatly interfered with the harvesting of the citrus crops. Maize garnering was also difficult in the North Coast through the sodden state of the ground, and there was a decrease in the milk and cream supply. In parts of the South Coast another wet month proved hard on stock and detrimental to growth.

In the interior the bountiful rains made the season all that could be desired, and the prospects were considered almost entirely satisfactory. Some sudden rises were experienced in the creeks and small rivers, but little damage was done. Increases took place in the larger rivers towards the end of the month.

Agricultural operations were somewhat delayed, not only on account of the rains, but because fallow land had to be reworked before sowing on account of the growth of weeds. The growth of grass and crops was extremely good, crops being well forward. Grass several feet high was reported at Gundagai, and at Burren Junction clover was fully 10in. and as thick as a well-sown lucerne patch. Stock were all improving, and generally in good condition. There was a good demand to furnish a supply for holdings in the north-western slope, and throughout the State no losses were anticipated during the coming winter.

In the pastoral districts the rains at the beginning and end of the month improved the prospects for the lambing season, and, so far, the results were considered satisfactory. Good maize and potato crops were harvested in the central tablelands, and many observers in this district, as well as in the central western slope, pronounced the season one of the best for many years.

In the extreme west the rainfall was below normal, and more was needed to make the season a good one.

One very heavy frost, on the 28th, and several falls of snow were reported, those at Kosciusko being exceptionally early.

Pastoralists reported flies to be more than usually harmful, and foxes proved troublesome. In the south-west the appearance of shell parrots was considered to augur a good season. In the Central districts birds were observed nesting, and at Ballina peaches were in full bloom. Mosquitoes were plentiful in the Hunter district, and near Delegate small white grubs, which have not been seen in the ground for some years, were remarked.

CLOSER SETTLEMENT.

URANA.—In the Urana district there is some 50,000 acres of fertile Crown land adjoining the Lockhart to Clear Hills railway, which was constructed last year. For seven years the local people have agitated to have it made available, as it would provide homes for 50 to 100 families around the town. Now an area of 7000 acres (to settle four families) has been thrown open to attempt to satisfy the land hunger. When applications close for these blocks, on July 5, there will, from present inquiries—mostly Victorian—be more than 100 times the number of applications than blocks available. Why should the Government delay in throwing open all other Crown lands available? When the Government took office a special commission was appointed to report upon all lands suitable for settlement. So far as the Urana district is concerned, it has not benefited up to the present. The Government has still a chance to show its earnestness in encouraging settlement by throwing open all available lands, and a good start could be made with the Lake Urana country, 25,000 acres, and other Crown lands, at present largely held under pastoral lease at low rentals, along the railway from Lockhart to Clear Hills.

SUGAR PROSPECTS.

BRISBANE.—The Minister for Railways (Mr. Paget), during his recent tour of the north made an inspection of the new sugar mill at Inkerman Mill. It is being erected by Drysdale Bros., at a cost of £100,000, and when completed will be capable of putting through 15,000 tons of sugar per season. It will be the biggest privately owned factory in Australia, and already 3000 acres of cane land have been planted on Inkerman estate. Mr. Paget said the sugar prospects were excellent, and as evidence of this he quoted the fact that one grower was selling cane plants at £3 per ton bagged.

DAIRYING.

LISMORE.—The Lismore Co-operative Dairy Company manufactured 96 tons of butter last month, paying 9 1-8d for first-class. Foley Bros.' Central Creamery here also paid the same price. Although the heavy rains experienced in the south have not fallen here, still the week has been a wet one. The weather has been very bleak and cold, cutting up the dairy stock severely, and causing a big shrinkage in cream supplies.

UNANDERRA.—At a meeting of farmers it was unanimously decided to ask for an advance in the price of milk from 8d to 1s per gallon.

JERSEY HERD ASSOCIATION.

LISMORE.—At a meeting of the Lismore Branch of the Jersey Herd Association, Mr. J. T. Junor was elected president, and Mr. A. Clark secretary.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETIES.

LISMORE.—At a meeting of delegates of the North Coast Agricultural Societies' Association yesterday, it was decided not to send an exhibit to Brisbane Show this year. The matter of organising for next Sydney Royal Show is to be taken in hand immediately, and a meeting of all societies within the area will be held to consider the matter.

CONDITIONS ON THE MANNING.

WINGHAM.—The Manning district has, during the past couple of months, been subjected to a veritable deluge. Only a week or so ago the Manning and its tributaries were in high flood, and scarcely had the various watercourses attained their ordinary levels than soaking rains again set in. On Monday morning heavy rain commenced to fall, and it has continued, with brief breaks, up to Thursday night. On the Upper River most of the "crossings" have been uncrossable, and considerable inconvenience has been caused thereby. The continued wet weather is doing more harm than good. The grass, though green, grows but little, and farmers are unable to get on their land. Winter fodder crops make but small growth, and those who have dry feed for their stock are now reaping the benefit of their forethought. Weather like we are now experiencing emphasises the need for bridging the Wallamba and Wang Wank rivers, the "fords" of which are dangerous for man and beast.

P.P. BOARDS.

BATHURST.—The Bathurst P.P. Board has decided in favour of asking the Minister for Lands to take steps to do away with the incessant tinkering with the stock routes and reserves throughout New South Wales. The desirableness of permanently leasing all such routes and reserves under strict improvement conditions was also affirmed.

FARMERS AND SETTLERS' ASSOCIATION.

WINGHAM.—Mr. J. C. L. Fitzpatrick, M.L.A., on the occasion of his recent visit to Wingham, was requested by various members of the local Farmers and Settlers' Association to deliver an address on State politics in the near future. He consented to do so, and the members of the body in question purpose selecting a date, and submitting it to the member for Orange.

DISTRICT ITEMS

BATHURST.—Mr. E. G. Lynch, rabbit inspector for the district, stated that only in a few places are green crops being damaged by rabbits. This season last year they had done considerable damage. Although the few rabbits had been running about during the month, the burrows and warrens examined showed that there were many under the ground all over the district. The present was the time for attacking rabbits in the burrows by digging out, carbonising, or fumigation. Where this was not done swarms of rabbits would come out of the ground about October. Rabbits not only harboured, but sometimes bred in hollow logs, either to escape the wet ground or to get away from the foxes. It would be advisable for landholders to burn all hollow logs on their holdings.

DAPTO.—At a meeting of the Dapto Agricultural Society it was decided to write to the stock branch of the Agricultural Department, pointing out that as veterinary surgeons were not permitted under the regulations to publicly announce the result of their examination of stallions for stud duty, the present system of inspection was valueless so far as breeders were concerned, and that the only way to put the matter on a satisfactory basis was to make an examination of all stud horses compulsory.

NARROMINE.—Mr. G. T. Burrell, the American bulk handling of wheat expert, spent yesterday here. He was met by a large number of the growers, and strongly criticised and condemned the present system. He pointed out growers had everything to gain by the speedy introduction of the bulk handling system. The growers present agreed with Mr. Burrell that bulk handling was a quicker way of removing grain than the bag system, and they also considered the cost would be less. The mild, wet season now being experienced is having a bad effect on the early sown wheat, which is beginning to spindle and break prematurely into ear. Several growers intend cutting their early sown paddocks for silage. Sheep, and even heavy stock, have been turned in on the late sown crops in an effort to retard the abnormal growth.

SALES OF STATION PROPERTIES.

ST. GEORGE (Q.).—The sale of Rookwood station, on the Maranoa, is reported. The property has an area of 200 square miles, with 6000 cattle and 160 horses. The purchaser is D. A. Cameron, of East Woodlands. The adjoining property, Binda holding, in Bollon district, has been purchased by C. H. Wippell from W. B. Hamilton. The area is 74,000 acres, and the stock consists of 9000 sheep. There are two artesian bores on the property, which is otherwise well improved. The sale is also reported, on behalf of Mr. Thomas Macnamara, of Koongadhu station (Thargomindah) and sheep, to Sydney Kidman at a satisfactory figure.

CITY COUNCIL INQUIRY.

A motion has been put by Alderman Meagher on the business paper of the City Council for to-morrow night's meeting that a special committee be appointed to investigate in reference to the Crecy Hotel property in the Oxford-street resumed area—if any alderman professionally has given advice or prepared plans for any of the tenderers; if any such alderman sat upon the finance committee and took part in the proceedings of such committee; and if any such alderman interviewed any officer in the employ of the Town Hall in reference to the Crecy Hotel.

Daimler
King George's
Oft-repeated Choice

BY APPOINTMENT TO H.M. THE KING

"Daimler" Features:

The flexible and smooth-running engine, remarkably silent under light or heavy loads, is steadfastly reliable, owing to the fewness and perfection of its parts. Fine bodywork, absence of vibration, high power, fine speed and hill-climbing ability, simplicity and ease of handling, a splendidly cool motor, and low petrol consumption, combine to create the Daimler personality.

ROYALTY is unhampered by considerations of cost, and has the benefit of the most expert advice. Therefore, the choice of Royalty is, in itself, a high expression of the merits of a car.

A repeat order is at once an expression of approval and a testimonial to efficiency. And when an order is often repeated, it confers on the subject of selection the hall-mark of quality. The British Royal Garage has, from time to time, housed upwards of EIGHT models of the Daimler.

The Daimler, in addition to mechanical excellence and fine riding comfort, is individualised by a distinguished appearance.

PROBLEMS OF COMMERCE.

The city is rapidly being filled with commercial men from the uttermost parts of the continent, for to-morrow the congress of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Commonwealth holds its first session. Never before, perhaps, has this body met at a more interesting, we might almost add at a more critical period. Though last year's trade was heavier than in any earlier twelve months since Federation, or before—whether this is measured by way of imports or exports, or by the output of our local factories—money has been tighter than at any time since the untoward events of '93. Industrial unrest has never been so acute since the great maritime upheaval, and never before has the necessity for cool heads among our business men, as well as among our politicians, been more essential to our continued well-being. Those who meet at the Chamber of Commerce Congress represent one of the three great wealth-producing forces of the States. It is they who trade with countries overseas, whether by way of getting merchandise and raw products from abroad, or of shipping to the most remunerative markets the surplus products of the soil. They, together with our producers and our manufacturers, represent the greatest activities of our people. So it is well that they, with their business knowlege and experience, should give serious consideration to the somewhat unsatisfactory state in which we, as a community, find ourselves.

The present position is somewhat paradoxical. Trade has been sound, yet unsound, progressive yet unprogressive, buoyant yet depressed. In so far as there has been a marked expansion in our oversea commerce, there are elements of soundness, progression, and buoyancy. In so far as there has been a marked alteration in the character of our trade, there are also clearly discernable elements of unsoundness, retrogression, and depression. Whereas till quite recently the imports and exports of the Commonwealth bore a relation, which in view of our external indebtedness was regarded as natural, namely, a continuous excess of exports, we have now reached a period in which the equilibrium has been disturbed and imports have begun to bear an unduly disproportionate ratio. As it is the men of commerce who are primarily responsible for these imports, and as they well know that imports can only be paid for by exports, it may not be out of place for us to ask them in conference assembled what they mean by it, and how they hope to restore the balance. An excess of imports is apt to create what is known as "an adverse balance," this being a debtor country. Let us examine the position in the light of the oversea trade returns for last year. The official figures show that the Commonwealth's imports of merchandise for that period were valued at £76,491,000, whereas the deep-sea exports of produce in the same period did not exceed £66,786,000, leaving a balance of roughly ten millions to be settled in some other way. Were that the whole story the year's trading would have left us in that unsatisfactory position of finding on stock-taking and balancing that we were ten millions sterling on the wrong side of the ledger as the result of our twelve months' collective operations. But it is not the whole story. Beside ordinary produce, such as wool, wheat, butter, and the industrial metals, there is gold to be taken account of. Our production of this precious metal, the ultimate solvent of all international obligations, amounts at present to somewhere about nine millions sterling per annum. Last year we sent away the whole of the gold we produced, or its equivalent, and another million and a half as well. Here again we may pause and consider the position. Up to this point our obligations appear to be satisfactorily settled. Though we allowed ourselves to get some ten millions to the bad by buying abroad motor cars, pianos, champagne, silks, and satins of a greater value than we had wool, wheat, and the rest to pay for them with, the difference was squared up by the gold shipments. At first blush that seems all right. It appears that some of us got motor cars only for our more prosaic wheat and butter, but that we, as a community, at least managed to pay our way. This is scarcely so, for the whole story has not even now been told. Our public and private indebtedness involves an annual interest and dividend bill to be squared up of some fifteen to twenty millions sterling—no one can say exactly how much. As far as we have gone, then, it would seem that we have allowed ourselves to get on the wrong side by this large, though indefinite, amount. Even now there still remains another factor to be considered. When any of our Governments raises a loan abroad it, in effect, increases imports by the amount raised. It ships away valuable securities, which, when they come back some day, will take the form of imports. Owing to statistics of loans being kept in financial instead of in calendar years, as is the case with the trade figures, it is not possible to give the exact amount of new loans raised abroad in 1912, but we know that these did not far depart from twenty millions sterling for the Commonwealth as a whole. During the current year they will be still greater. It is thus that we, as a community, have paid for our excess of imports, which, of course, were themselves stimulated by our borrowings.

It is rather in regard to the future than to the past, however, that we should like our commercial men to give their best thoughts. There can be no doubt that if our Governments can get their way, borrowings will be heavy during the next few years. In both political spheres there are heavy commitments. There are duplication works crying out to be completed, there are new lines urgently needed to open up lands at present inaccessible, there are water conservation and harbour works, transcontinental railways, to mention but a few of the projects now in view, with many more in the background. All these demand money for their consummation. Local accumulations are less heavy than they were, and are being quickly mopped up by joint stock undertakings and mining speculations. It is then to London that we will have to look, London, which to-day seems so unpropitious. Heavy borrowings involve heavy imports. The one is correlative of the other. May it not then be that we shall for a time at least get into the same position in which Canada finds herself in having, though a debtor country, a large excess of imports till the borrowing slackens down and normality is once more reached? The events of last year would suggest that this may be so, and we should like our banking and commercial men to consider the position, and let us get clear ideas as to whither we are trending. These are problems of vital importance to enable us to formulate an intelligent and intelligible policy, and none should be better able to solve them than these self same men of commerce.

THE GERMAN EMPEROR.

There could hardly be a better test of the German Emperor's character than the shock of surprise with which many people will have learnt that he has been twenty-five years on the throne. Until a few years ago the quality in his actions which had made the most marked impression on his contemporaries was that of extreme youth. The world outside the German Empire was continually hearing of acts or speeches which seemed to be the outcome of an exuberant vitality, and of an ability of a high order, untempered by a knowledge of its own limitations. This impression was heightened by the circumstances which surrounded the beginning of the Emperor's reign. In the eyes of the world it was not really his father, but Bismarck, whom he succeeded. The contrast was between youth and age. He was compared not with his father, remembered as the Crown Prince of the Franco-Prussian war, nor even with the Emperor William, but with the statesman who had controlled the destinies of Prussia in all her most serious crises from the time of the Parliament of Frankfort until she had become the head of a consolidated Empire. In dismissing Bismarck the Emperor took the only course possible to a man who was determined to govern as well as to reign. But just because he could not be treated as either a colleague or a servant, it was tolerably certain that Bismarck would have no one who could take his place. Since his retirement the burden of government has fallen more heavily on the German Emperor than on any other European monarch. Although he has been well served by a succession of Ministers, and although he has been faced with a strong and growing opposition, his has been by far the most potent influence in moulding the recent history of the German people.

The failure of British people to understand the Emperor's character may be in part attributed to the Germans themselves. His flamboyant speeches, his personal vanity, and his readiness to dabble in the arts, made him the inevitable butt of those satirists whose aim it is to carry on an incessant war with the Philistines. His persistent invocation of the military spirit made him the despair of the growing body of reformers who see in the competition of armaments the most dangerous obstacle to progress of any kind. But the Kaiser's great hold on his people can only be explained by the fact that he appeals to the most deeply-rooted German ideals, ideals and qualities which, though they are so nearly allied to those of the British, the British people refuse to understand. Of these the most characteristic was illustrated by the celebration this year of the hundredth anniversary of 1813, and by the consecration of yesterday to the memory of Frederick the Great. The memory of the battles fought for independence is used to exhort the people to continued exertions, and to united obedience to a single head as the only safe preservative of liberty. In all his addresses, whether their subject is politics, literature, or religion, the Kaiser appeals to the conservative instinct in his countrymen, as the instinct which has led them to their present greatness. It was inevitable tuat a policy of expansion which could be ensured only by a great navy should bring about a state of rivalry with the first colonial and the first sea power. It was natural that the methods of German statesmen who seek the interests of their own country exclusively and persistently should arouse the hostility of a nation which has always looked for safety in the balance of power. The belief that the Kaiser would one day bring about an Anglo-German war was a well-justified inference from the belief that Britain was in the way wherever Germany wished to advance. Happily it has been established by the last few years that in the minds of German as well as of English statesmen no interest is so important as peace. There is abundant evidence of the conviction that points of difference formerly regarded as irreconcileable can and ought to be adjusted by mutual concessions. Probably there is so much similarity between the British and German character that neither is likely ever to regard the other with great cordiality. But the Kaiser, as the chief of German statesmen, has given proof of the sincerity of his belief that the two peoples can live at peace, and that the greater the progress of one the greater the prosperity of the other.

QUARANTINE.

For some time past the inhabitants of Sydney have felt a legitimate grievance on account of the manner in which the quarantine regulations affected this city. Pre-eminence in some things is all very well, but the possession of the chief quarantine station in the Commonwealth was rather an invidious distinction, which we would fain have foregone. Under the old regime a ship from the East which had the misfortune to develop infectious disease on board, came straight on to Sydney, omitting intermediate ports, and underwent the necessary processes of detention and fumigation at North Head. Now, happily, that is a thing of the past. A new quarantine ground has been authorised at Thursday Island, and another is being built at Townsville, which do away with the necessity of disease-stricken ships hurrying on to Port Jackson. It is highly satisfactory that the authorities should have recognised the importance of this step, for the previous regulations were not only inconvenient, but inhuman. Under the old system everyone had to put up with a lot of unnecessary annoyance. Passengers and cargo were carried beyond their destinations, and had to be shipped back. Passengers and crew were exposed to risks of infection which under a more rational arrangement might have been avoided, and last, but by no means least, the victims of the illness at the bottom of it all were liable to have their sufferings aggravated and their very lives imperilled by continuing on ship board, where stormy seas and insufficient hospital accommodation alike made recovery more difficult.

This, however, is past. In future ships coming from the East (and that is the quarter from which epidemics are most to be feared) will be able to quarantine soon after they reach Australian waters. None of those on board will be any the worse off; many of them will be much the better off, and Sydney will have reason to congratulate herself because the danger of infection reaching the city, remote though it be, is completely avoided. Of course, North Head will still have duties to perform. It will presumably continue to be the station for ships coming from elsewhere than the East, and for ships on which disease may have appeared after leaving Thursday Island. The new stations are a step in the right direction, but we shall not be completely satisfied until North Head ceases to be used for quarantine at all. In the first place the land is far too valuable for that purpose. It would make a public reserve unequalled anywhere; it would be enjoyed by thousands, instead of, in favourable circumstances, by no one, and in less favourable, by the occupants of a disease-stricken ship. A quarantine ground must have two qualifications, it must be conveniently near the city it is designed to protect; it must be far enough away to avoid any possible risk of an epidemic spreading. North Head is the former; it certainly is not the latter, and it is rather an extraordinary thing that it should have been allowed to remain so long. When it was first established Sydney was a much smaller place, and North Head was remote from everywhere; to-day an important suburb has spread up to its very boundary. And yet we suffer this large area to be idle, and the risk to remain, although a few miles north in Broken Bay we have an ideal site for a quarantine ground.

SYDNEY'S URGENT PROBLEM.

There are really two separate questions in the Greater Sydney problem of quite different importance. We do not know if the Commission which is inquiring into the subject, or most of the witnesses, have shown signs of clearly distinguishing between these two questions; but they are so distinct that if any clear thinking is to be done on the subject they should always be kept separate, and should properly be dealt with in two main divisions of the Commission's report. The Commission has been engaged of late in taking evidence as to the powers which should be given to the Greater Sydney authority; whether it should have control of the trams and the police; whether it should take over the work of the Metropolitan Water and Sewerage Board, and supply other services to suburbs outside its present range. Those are all important questions, but they are quite separate from the problem which makes Greater Sydney urgent. It may be that the Greater Sydney authority ought to have control of the trams, or it may not. But it cannot be said that it makes any very important difference whether it takes over the trams next year or ten years later. If the trams were transferred to the council in 1914 it would have to pay for them by taking over liability for a portion of the State debt representing their cost; and it would only have to do the same if it took them over in 1924. It may or may not be that Sydney ought to control its own police; but in either case the police are there, and would be performing their duties whether they were taken over by the city or not. Even if the question as affecting the police were not decided for ten years or more, we do not suppose that anyone would greatly be harmed.

But what cannot afford to wait is the other main function of the Greater Sydney authority. The police and the trams are there now, and the State is responsible for them if the city is not. But the new streets and lanes of the Sydney of ten years hence, its parks, playgrounds, railway stations, public buildings, are not there; and nobody is looking after them because there is nobody whose special duty it is to look after them. In the case of this function, the Greater Sydney authority is needed first to make a plan and secondly to enforce that plan when made—which is a duty of quite a different order from that of administering the police or the trams or the water supply. The function of planning the lines on which Sydney shall grow cannot be deferred with indifference for ten years, because ten years of Sydney will have grown in the meantime unplanned, and nothing but the most meagre semblance of a plan can afterwards be introduced into that portion of it. Ten years' growth in Sydney means a city of between 300,000 and 400,000 people. The parks, playgrounds, and sites of stations and public offices in that city, which would be selected to-day, will probably not be selected at all if it is left till ten years hence, because the roads will have been made, and the land will be covered with buildings. In the case of this function of the Greater Sydney authority, the situation is not the same now as it is next year, or next month. The planning of the outskirts is more urgent than the remodelling of old streets in the city. In the city it is only a question of whether the resumption shall be made sooner or later, probably at no great difference in the cost. But on the outskirts it is a question whether the need for the resumption is to be incurred at all. And that is all a question of a plan. The scope of the Greater Sydney authority must clearly be wide enough to make and carry out that plan. Provided it is given power sufficient to carry out that object, the main need, at any rate, will have been satisfied; the question of its other functions is not of the same class of urgency.

"Blame Mr. Johnson."—The Minister for Labour (Mr. Carmichael) had arranged to receive a deputation from the Northern miners at 11 o'clock last Friday morning. Ministers frequently have to keep members of deputations waiting on the doormat, but it is an almost unheard of proceeding for a deputation to keep a busy Minister waiting. Consequently, when representatives of the Northern miners had not arrived at the schedule time, some interest was aroused at the delay. At half-past 11 Messrs. Lewis and Brennan arrived at the Education Department in hot haste, having "bought" a cab from the station. Their first words were "Blame Mr. Johnson;" while in the next breath they asked for the whereabouts of the president (Mr. Watson). Mr. Watson, however, could not be found, so it was decided to proceed with the deputation in his absence. The two members present explained that they had left Newcastle by train, which, according to the time-table should have arrived at a quarter to 11, thus giving them ample time to fulfil their appointment. The train, however, ran late and this was the cause of the delay. At 12 o'clock Mr. Watson arrived somewhat breathlessly and expressed considerable astonishment at the presence of his colleagues. "Why," he said, "I left Newcastle long before you did and have only just arrived, you must blame Mr. Johnson." It appeared that, while the president left by an earlier train, owing to some of the mysterious actions of the railway officials, the early train, which should have arrived in Sydney considerably before the other train was run into a siding, and did not arrive in Sydney for some considerable time after the train which had started much later. After these extensive explanations, and a few general remarks upon the train services, the deputation proceeded with the ordinary business.

Suburban Sydney.—The members of the Greater Sydney Commission made a visit of inspection on Saturday to the municipalities in the neighbourhood of Botany Bay, going through Rockdale and Brighton-le-Sands, and thence along a new road that has been made around the foreshores to George's River. In a launch they visited the various reaches of George's River, as far as the big "salt pan," which is practically opposite Bankstown. The Lord Mayor, who is chairman of the commission, said that there were indications of development along the water's edge, not only in the form of week-end cottages, but in some cases there were very handsome structures, with boat-sheds attached. It was, he said, quite evident that the new road that some of the municipalities were endeavouring to have made, and which would really be a continuation of Elizabeth-street, right out to Botany Bay, would form a magnificent avenue. On leaving the launch the party took a route which brought them through Hurstville and Kogarah. Some of the roads in those districts were very bad, the condition of the one opposite the Kogarah station being unspeakable. "If the local enterprise," concluded the Lord Mayor, "can't do more in the direction of providing decent roads it certainly seems that a Greater Sydney Council is very much needed."

The Thoughtless Crowd.—At about a quarter past 11 o'clock on Saturday night a fire was discovered in a building in course of erection in George-street, between Goulburn and Liverpool streets, to be occupied by Messrs. Ball and Walch. The fire must have been going on for some time before Fireman Featherstone, of the headquarter's station, who was at the time on leave, happened to pass and noticed a crowd gathered in front of the premises watching the fire. He at once ran to a street alarm, and rang up the station, and was surprised to find that no word had been given, and that, though upwards of 50 people had seen the fire ten minutes before, not one had thought of giving the alarm. The brigade at once turned out, and were on the scene less than three minutes after receiving the call, but the crowd received them with ironical cheers and hoots at their delay, shouting that they had been 20 minutes getting there. Chief-officer Sparks at once took charge of the men from headquarters and George-street West, and, with the aid of the motor-turbine, succeeded in checking the outbreak after a tough fight of upwards of an hour, but not before extensive damage had been done to the rear of the premises, the ceilings and floors of two storys being practically burnt out.

One of Cook's Companions.—A cutting from a Hertfordshire newspaper, referring to the tombstone of Captain Wm. Harvey, R.N., who accompanied Captain Cook on his three voyages, has been forwarded by Mr. Arthur Andrews, of Albury, to Mr. C. T. Burfitt, secretary of the Australian Historical Society. The paragraph states that the lettering of the epitaph on the gravestone which is in the Little Hadham churchyard has just been recut in order that it may be more easily read. In the original edition of "Cook's Voyages," published in 1784 Harvey's name does not appear in the list of officers, as he was then only a midshipman. He became an officer directly after Cook's murder by the natives at Hawaii, when "the command of the expedition having devolved on Captain Clerke he moved on board of the Resolution, appointed Lieutenant Gore to be captain of the Discovery, and Mr. Harvey, a midshipman, who had been with Captain Cook on his two last voyages, to the vacant lieutenancy." Captain Harvey died in 1807, in his 55th year.

Spiders' Webs as Styptics.—Spiders have their uses, and some of these were explained in a lecture delivered by Mr. W. J. Rainbow at the Australian Museum the other evening. Spiders were sometimes, Mr. Rainbow said, kept for their silk, which was used as cross wires for the finest astronomical telescopes and surveying instruments. Their webs had also been used for ages as a styptic—that was for checking hemorrhage in the case of contused wounds. They were applied with this purpose in Shakespeare's time, in proof of which he quoted the line from "Midsummer Night's Dream," "I shall desire of you further acquaintance, good Master Cobweb, and if I cut my finger I shall make bold with you!" Cobwebs, nevertheless, should never be used as a styptic, he said, because the habit was both dirty and dangerous. Spiders' webs, owing to their sticky nature, arrested and gathered any impurities that might be wafted in their direction. As a matter of fact, death had resulted from the use of cobwebs for this purpose. Evidence to this effect had been given at a coroner's inquest in England a few years ago. A man cut his hand, and applied some spider's web he found close by in order to check the bleeding, and blood poisoning, with fatal results, ensued.

Butter Further Advances.—The wholesale quotation for butter will be advanced again this morning, when grocers will find it impossible to secure the choicest brands under 120s per cwt on the store floor, or 122s per cwt delivered in boxes. This movement represents an increase of 8s per cwt compared with the rates ruling on Saturday.

A CABLE POST.

FOR THE MILLION.

FORTY REASONS.

BY SIR HENNIKER HEATON.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Your generous leading article in regard to my efforts on the question of cheap cable communication—that is, twelve words for a shilling throughout the sixty colonies and dependencies of the British Empire—encourages me to place before your readers a number of important reasons showing why the reform is urgent and imperative. Like the "Times," in supporting the proposal you advocate caution, and point out the wisdom of bringing about success gradually. I will endeavour to show the necessity of prompt action in these hastily put together arguments.

1. We want to secure for our countrymen cheap and perfect communication with all parts of the world.

2. The electric telegraph has annihilated time and space, and enabled us to crowd the previous operations of a year into the space of a few hours.

3. Cheap cabling is the key to all the really momentous problems that confront our statesmen. It annihilates distance, abolishes delay, bridges the ocean, laughs at the storm, creates trade, nourishes individual and racial sympathies and multiplies our strength.

4. I wish to impress on the Australian people that ours will never be a great Empire until we in London can speak to the people of New Zealand as cheaply as we now can speak to the people of Ireland.

5. To-day it takes nearly three months for a Londoner to write and receive a reply from an Australian. It is "like writing for posterity," said Charles Lamb.

6. To-day the Heaven-sent gift of electricity has been appropriated by a long-headed "trust," just as whisky, beer, and other good things have been appropriated.

7. The poor man knows that this subtle force of electricity pervades all nature, even to his own body.

8. But if he would avail himself of the marvellous power of the ubiquitous fluid to send a message of life and death he is promptly reminded that such luxuries are not for the like of him.

9. The analogy between the Imperial cable system and the human nervous system must have struck everybody. The brain is the nerve centre of the human body. London is the nerve centre of the British Empire. It is of supreme importance that the ramifications of the nerves shall not be interfered with.

10. The cable trusts and the cable kings and rings of Old Broad-street, London, now control the world's cable communications.

11. These cable kings practically throttle the communications of the people of the Empire. A beneficent invention, the common heritage of our race, that might enable all Christendom to assemble, as it were, under one roof, there to talk, laugh, and weep together, has been selfishly appropriated by a few.

12. The cable rates are so high that only one message in one hundred is a social or family message.

13. As a mater of fact, the cable that girdles the earth is of no more use to the masses of the King's subjects than it would be if they resided on another planet.

14. The remedy for the present state of affairs is the buying out at the market price of the day the cables, by the civilised Governments of the world. Should this fail we can construct land lines and short cables throughout Europe, Asia, and Africa, and to Australia.

15. The cables to-day are for the millionaires, and not for the millions.

16. Millions of years of time would be saved by the people of the Empire by electric communication being made general to the Southern Hemisphere alone.

17. The people to-day, by high charges, are paying for abandoned cables, superfluous cables, watered stock, and all the blundering and plundering of past years in the cable rings.

18. If the whole of the cables belonging to the telegraph monopolists of the world were melted and destroyed to-morrow, we could reconstruct them at a third of the cost.

19. The people of the British Empire now pay from four to five million pounds sterling in cable messages annually, and only £500,000 in postage between their respective dominions, colonies, and dependencies.

20. The Governments of the United Kingdom and the overseas dominions pay more than £250,000 annually in official cables. This would pay a great deal of the interest in buying out the cable rings. The amounts paid by Australasian Agents-General are formidable items of necessary expenditure.

21. The present state of affairs ought not to be tolerated. A telegram from St. Petersburg to Vladivostock, 7000 miles, is charged about 4d a word.

22. A telegram from London to India, also overland, 4000 miles, is charged 2s per word.

23. A telegram of 16 words from extreme Western Australia to Cape York, via Adelaide and Melbourne, 7200 miles, is charged one shilling.

24. A telegram from London to India of 16 words, for 4000 miles only, is charged 32s, or 2s a word.

25. The most striking fact is that the cables of the world are mostly idle, and can carry five to 50 times the present number of words.

26. Under the new inventions telegraph cables can carry as many words as land lines. The lines from England to America are capable of carrying from 300 to 1200 million words annually, and yet they only carry 24 millions of words.

27. The lines to Australia are capable of carrying from 50 to 150 million words annually with application of the new inventions, and I understand only five million words are transmitted.

28. The first step for the Commonwealth and Dominion Governments to take is to summon a meeting of the Postmasters-General of the Empire to deal with the question.

29. The meeting should be held in Australia, New Zealand, or Canada, or even in Ceylon.

30. If it is resolved to have land telegraph lines, which cost only £30 a mile, in place of cables, costing at least £200 a mile, and political frontiers for telegraph lines abolished, a near approach to the ideal penny a word would at once be secured.

31. The German Government charges a halfpenny a word for inland messages throughout Germany and Austria, but 2½d a word on English telegrams passing through Germany to India.

32. The flash of this message instantly passes over the face of Europe (often on its way to Australia), from one end to the other, yet it has to pay toll more than once on its way to the various foreign Governments. It seems to me to be as reasonable to tax a sunbeam on a river.

33. Telegrams from London to India "overland" are now sent automatically, and not an individual touches them en route, notwithstanding the enormous distance between those points.

34. It is said that we ought to take into consideration vested interests before dealing ruthlessly with the cable companies.

35. Vested interests alone stand in our way. When that astute old octopus "de mortuis nil nisi bonum" grasped in his tentacles all the cable systems of the world, he saw the danger of allowing the land line to India, 4000 miles, costing £30 per mile, interfering with his cable to India, 8000 miles, costing £300 per mile. He at once got possession of the Indo-European land line, and to-day charges the British people the same rate, 2s a word, whether the message is sent by cable or land line, from London to Karrachi, in India.

36. One of the governing thoughts of my life is how to bring the people of the mother country and the people of Australia into more intimate communion.

37. We want a cable post for the million.

38. The Commonwealth and Dominion Governments are in full sympathy with the movement. Will the powerful press, the Parliament, and the people of Australasia declare unmistakably for this reform? The cost will be half the cost of a Dreadnought, and the benefits will be at least equal, making for peace, progress, trade, and family affection.

39. One may be pardoned for picturing to oneself the happiness that would result from a really low cable tariff—friend able to communicate with friend half-way round the globe, parents receiving constant news from their adventurous children, joys and sorrows shared as if no broad ocean rolled between.

40. Every statesman sees in the proposal which I have put before you one more step onwards along that pathway which leads us past mountains of difficulties, out beyond the dreary wastes of error and doubt, to the conception of a brighter and happier world.

I am, etc.,
J. HENNIKER HEATON.

OLYMPIC GAMES.

WHAT IS AUSTRALIA DOING?

VIGOROUS PREPARATIONS ABROAD.

For no previous Olympic Games have the nations of the world commenced their preparations so long beforehand as for those which will take place at Berlin three years hence.

A few days since cables were despatched to the remotest corners of the globe, announcing that the German Emperor had opened the venue of the games—the Stadium which has been erected on Grunewald racecourse. With the energy so characteristic of him the Kaiser has thrown himself heart and soul into the movement, and the athletes of Germany are already busily engaged preparing themselves for what promise to be the most vigorously contested Olympic Games yet held. The German Olympic Committee has the Crown Prince a keen member.

England means to show Germany that her athletic sons and daughters are as good as ever they were, and with that object in view has engaged leading athletes to conduct searching elimination tests, whereby none but the cream of England's talent will compete at Berlin. Furthermore, an Olympic Committee has been selected, and amongst its members are to be found the aristocrats of the English sporting world. Money has been guaranteed in plenty, and one man of title, who directs a well-known London newspaper syndicate, has promised the sum of £20,000 as a contribution towards the funds that will be needed.

EUROPEAN NATIONS.

France is agreed that she cannot afford to lose athletic prestige at the hands of her neighbour—Germany—and the French Government has provided concrete evidence of support in the shape of a £15,000 grant.

Italy, which produced the diminutive Dorando, the hero of the 1908 Olympic Games at Shepherd's Bush, London, has sent scouts to all parts of the country to try and secure runners, jumpers, cyclists, and others of international promise.

Other European nations—Sweden and Norway particularly—are also at work on the same lines.

America sent nearly 250 representatives to Stockholm, but she is satisfied she can accomplish something more. The President has placed himself at the head of an influential committee, and money is said to be rolling in already for the purpose of "discovering" and training men of athletic talent.

In view of the preparation that is proceeding in other parts of the world, the question arises, "What is Australia doing in the way of preparing herself for the Olympic Games of 1916?"

SWIMMERS ACTIVE.

A "Herald" reporter sought the views of several leading men on Saturday. Of these Messrs. Alex. Thompson, W. W. Hill, and E. S. Marks were Australasian representatives at the last Olympic games at Stockholm.

From the statements made by these gentlemen, it appears that nothing is being done of a progressive nature, save in the case of the swimming organisations. Athletes are awaiting the conference of Australasia, to be held in Melbourne in January next. Meanwhile the opponents of whatever team is selected are being actively prepared in other parts of the world.

"I quite agree that rowing men should be up and doing," said Mr. Alex. Thompson. "Before we even think of looking for men we have three big questions to decide. The first is whether Australia is to have a central body to control the representatives of the States, secondly, whether the rowing crew is to be one representative of the Commonwealth or of one of the States only; and then comes the resolution of the Amateur Rowing Association of England regarding teams whose expenses are raised by public subscriptions.

"Rowing men all over Australia are unanimously agreed that they will be represented on the Spree in 1916, and that the sooner a start is made with the project the better. For the last games it was no easy matter to choose an eight from New South Wales even fit to represent Australian rowing against the pick of the world, and if it is the intention of the rowing men of Australia to be represented in Berlin by a crew chosen from all of the States, then, I say, the earlier we set about the task the better. The difficulty does not lie in the selection of the men, but in getting them to understand each other's methods and style. Why the New South Wales crew did so well at Stockholm was because it was chosen from a single State. I am of opinion that Victoria could send an eight that would do Australian rowing more credit than would an eight chosen from all parts of the Commonwealth. However brilliant the men were constituting a Commonwealth crew, they might never succeed in obtaining the combination and unison that is absolutely essential. Victorian oarsmen row practically one style throughout the State, and at the present time she has some capital men. A Commonwealth crew would need at least three months' constant practice before entering an Olympic contest."

Another point Mr. Thomson emphasises is the necessity there is for the formation of a central body to control the Australian representatives.

CONFERENCE IN JANUARY.

The honorary secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union of Australasia, Mr. E. S. Marks, who accompanied the Australian representatives to the last Olympic Games, said he was afraid that the earliest steps Australia would take in the way of preparing herself for the Olympic Games at Berlin would be at the conference the athletic associations of all the States and New Zealand would hold in Melbourne in January next. There was little doubt that this question would then be discussed.

"So far as athletics are concerned," he added, "New South Wales has no world-beaters to send to Berlin. Therefore it is up to us to look for the hundreds of good men who are available. They will need all the training possible, and now is the time to commence. England is calling in the assistance of prominent athletes to help on her preparations, and I think we ought to do the same thing here. All these matters will, no doubt, be dealt with at the Melbourne conference."

MR. HILL'S STATEMENT.

"We have commenced to fit our representatives for the Berlin Olympic games," said Mr. W. W. Hill, secretary of the Australian Swimming Union. "The Australian Association, in conjunction with the New Zealand Amateur Swimming Association, do not mean to lose the teams championship which we gained at Stockholm without a struggle. The various associations have under consideration at the present time the advisability of altering their list of champions in order to provide for events that will be held in Berlin, but which at present are not included in the list of championships contested in Australia. For instance, attention is being given by the New South Wales Association and other bodies to the question of introducing the backstroke and breast-stroke events in our championships in order to give our swimmers every opportunity of perfecting themselves in the strokes. It is also probable that consideration will be given shortly to the matter of holding a teams race of 800 metres—four men to each swim 200 metres—with the object of developing team swimming over this distance, which is the recognised distance for Olympic teams' races. At present we only provide for teams' races of 100 yards each man.

"Further, the New South Wales Association is considering the possibility of allocating a certain sum annually to be devoted towards the expenses of sending a team of swimmers."

Several well-known athletes who were also approached pointed out that the visit of the American team of athletes to Australasia in January next was handicapping those who were anxious to take action early in respect to the games at Berlin. They pointed out that the entertainment of the Americans would cost a great deal, and until their wants had been provided for it was almost impossible to do anything in another direction.

GREAT FUNERAL.

SUFFRAGIST PROCESSION.

ENORMOUS CROWD.

AN IMPRESSIVE SCENE.

LONDON, June 15, 5.20 a.m.

Three thousand women participated in the funeral procession in connection with the death of Miss Davison, who was killed by throwing herself in front of the King's racehorse.

As Mrs. Pankhurst was leaving her flat to attend she was rearrested, and conveyed to Holloway Gaol.

Eight white-robed suffragists in black sashes and armlets were conspicuous. The body was enshrouded in the suffragists' colours. The coffin was lined with cashmere and lace, with a plate outside inscribed, "Deceased's last message, 'Fight on. God will give victory.'"

A purple pall, with broad arrows embroidered on each side, bore a heart-shaped wreath of laurel, inscribed: "She died for women."

Captain Davison, brother, was the chief mourner.

The procession formed outside the Victoria station, and was divided into 11 sections, each with a band and banner-bearer.

The wreaths and flowers filled six coaches. Groups of processionists in white carried lilies, and others dressed in black carried irises; others again in purple carried laurel wreaths and other tributes.

A tall, fair-haired woman, dressed in white, and carrying aloft a gilded cross, led the cortege, the bands playing funeral marches.

Two carriages hidden with white flowers preceded the open hearse, escorted on either side by a guard of honour with lilies, followed by the relatives, Mrs. Despard, Miss Pankhurst, and other leaders of the movement, a few men, including Mr. Ben Tillett, and many hunger strikers, several surpliced clergymen, numerous society ladies, shop girls, factory hands, nurses in uniform, and women doctors and graduates in their academic gowns.

Enormous and respectful crowds lined the sunlit streets throughout the route.

Archdeacon Escreet conducted a service at St. George's Church, Bloomsbury. Thence the cortege proceeded to King's Cross, where it entrained.

SPANIARDS AND MOORS.

SEVERE FIGHTING.

MENACING TRIBES.

MADRID, June 14.

The commander of the Spanish warship, General Concha, which, after going ashore at Alhucemas, on the coast of Morocco, was fired on by 1000 moors, was among those who were killed.

The gunboat Lauria shelled the Moors, and rescued 63 Spaniards, including 13 wounded, who had fallen into the hands of the Moors. These included nine of the crew of the General Concha.

The Spaniards are now executing a combined movement from Tetuan, Arzila, and Alcazar, for the purpose of clearing out the menacing tribes. They are encountering a sharp resistance.

TANGIER, June 13.

Severe fighting has taken place within the environs of Ceuta, a forfeited town on the east coast of Morocco. The Moors were repulsed after eight Spanish officers and 100 men were either killed or wounded.

AEROPLANE DISASTER.

LONDON, June 14.

An aeroplane disaster occurred at Brooklands yesterday.

Gordon Bell was monoplaning, with Lieutenant Kennedy, a naval airman, as a passenger, and was flying at the rate of 80 miles an hour, when he banked too steeply, and whilst turning a corner a wing of the aeroplane touched the ground.

The machine was thrown nose forward, and was completely destroyed. Kennedy had his back broken, and Bell was injured seriously.

MARCONI SCANDAL.

MINISTERS EXONERATED.

A MAJORITY REPORT.

CENSURE FROM LORD CECIL.

LONDON, June 14.

The report of the committee which has been inquiring into the contract with the Marconi Company for an Empire chain of wireless stations has been presented.

Cabinet Ministers are exonerated from any action conflicting with their public duty.

The report finds that Ministers acted in a sincere belief that nothing they did conflicted with their duty to the Crown, and that there is no foundation for the charges, which appear to have originated at the Stock Exchange.

There is no evidence, it adds, in support of the allegation that any Minister exercised influence on behalf of the Marconi Company in securing the contract, or that any Minister took advantage of the knowledge he acquired officially.

The report condemns the publication of the charges against Mr. Lloyd George, Sir Rufus Isaacs, and Mr. Herbert Samuel, which it says are unfounded. It states that none of the purchases of shares by Sir Rufus Isaacs, or the ex-Liberal whip (Lord Murray of Elibank) were in any way corrupt.

Lord Robert Cecil, in a minority report, states that Ministers were not influenced in the discharge of their duties, and that they did not use their official knowledge for purposes of investment or speculation. But he adds that Sir Rufus Isaacs acted with grave impropriety in making an advantageous purchase of shares upon advice which was not available to the public, and thus unwittingly placed himself in a position where his private interests might have conflicted with his public duty. Lord Murray of Elibank, he considers, and Mr. Lloyd George, are open to similar censure.

The wireless agreement, the minority report proceeded, was an essential factor in the whole structure of the Marconi Company's finance. The American shares were at Mr. Godfrey Isaacs' disposal as agent for the English company, and his offer to Sir Rufus Isaacs might have been due to fraternal affection. But, in view of the rumours which had been circulated, and the attack in Parliament on the contract, an impression had been created that it was partly due to less creditable motives, and that there had been clearly a speculative element in the Ministers' transactions. It was the reticence of Ministers on the subject which had occasioned the persistent press rumours.

SIR ALBERT SPICER'S VIEWS.

Sir Albert Spicer stated in the original report that he considered it would have been better if Sir Rufus Isaacs had not acquired the American shares, because the relationship between the English and American companies was calculated to create a misconception. He added that if Ministers had furnished the facts subsequently disclosed much misunderstanding would have been averted.

PRESS COMMENTS.

The press comments on the committee's report are on party lines.

Each section accuses the other of creating an atmosphere of poisonous partisanship. But all the press welcome the exoneration of Ministers of the charges of corruption.

The "Chronicle" says that the opening for misconstruction of Ministers' actions should have been avoided. It refers to the extraordinary lack of knowledge exhibited by Mr. Lloyd-George and Lord Murray of Elibank regarding Stock Exchange affairs.

The "Times" expresses the opinion that the mistake and the indiscretions would have been avoided if Ministers had not been thinking more of money-making than of their responsibility and dignity of office.

The "Daily Mail" expresses the view that the Marconi Contracts Investigation Committee was a tribunal of political factions, and no proper court to deal with the honour of public men. It adds that the committee's verdict was not impartial, and proceeded on deeply biassed lines.

MARCONI COMPANY'S PROFITS.

The annual report of the Marconi Company shows a profit of £34,400 for the year. A dividend of 10 per cent. is recommended, together with the carrying forward of £3100. Exclusive of warships, 1700 vessels were fitted with the company's system of wireless telegraphy.

PEOPLING THE DOMINIONS.

EMIGRATION TO AUSTRALIA.

"WILL ASSUME LARGE PROPORTIONS."

LONDON, June 14.

The "Times" explains that the recent check to emigration to the Commonwealth is partly due to the dearness of money curtailing Australian development.

The best opinion, the paper adds, indicates that emigration to Australia will soon assume large proportions.

"NO CHECK OF ANY KIND."

STATEMENT BY MR. HOLMAN.

Referring to the above cable, Mr. Holman said last night: "I am a little at a loss to know the precise meaning of the observations by the "Times." There has been no check of any kind, as the money spent on immigration indicates. Certain special steps taken a year or so ago to obtain the skilled workmen necessary to carry on the duplication of the main lines at full speed have ceased because the necessary labour has been secured, but the regular work of the Immigration Department is going on as vigorously as ever, and it is likely to be more effective than before owing to the recent amalgamation in London."

A SUBWAY DISASTER.

ELEVEN MEN KILLED IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, June 14.

Thirteen workmen employed in the construction of a new subway were overwhelmed by a cave-in of tons of rock.

When, by means of dynamite, the rock was cleared off eleven of the men were found to be dead. Two escaped seriously injured.

THREE HUNDRED LIVES LOST.

DISASTROUS FLOODS IN INDIA.

LONDON, June 14.

It is reported that three hundred lives have been lost as a result of floods in the Palitana district of Bombay.

STEEL WORKS AT MONTREAL.

LONDON, June 14.

The firm of Armstrong, Whitworth, and Co. have obtained an area of 70 acres near Montreal, with a view to erecting steel works at a cost of £200,000, and ultimately employing 2000 men.

Operations will begin in May next.

STORMING A HOUSE.

SEVERE FIGHTING.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 14.

Zia Bey, the supposed assassin of Shefket Pasha, the Grand Vizier, was traced to the house of a British subject at Pera, a suburb, where he had taken refuge, together with a number of accomplices.

A detachment of infantry and cavalry surrounded the block of buildings in which the house was situated, while soldiers, gendarmes, and firemen climbed on to the adjacent roofs.

The assassins refused to surrender, and fired at the troops with their revolvers. They wounded Lieutenant Hilmi and Samuel Effendi, a magistrate.

The fusillade lasted an hour, until the back stairs leading into the house were captured.

Gendarmes forced their way through the roof of the house, and the house was then taken. Ali Bey, a fire brigade lieutenant, Kazim Effendi, a Circassian captain, and Chevki Bey, who are believed to have been in league with Zia Bey, were the first to surrender.

Several Mauser rifles and pistols were found in the house.

None of the assassins were wounded. The arrests total 150.

Talaat Bey and Enver Bey fear that they will be murdered, and elaborate precautions are being taken.

AN UNHEEDED WARNING.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 14.

It is stated that Shefket Pasha, the late Grand Vizier, received a warning the day previous to his murder, but he did not heed it, and deprecated the adoption of special precautions for his safety.

HIGH PERSONAGES INVOLVED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 15.

The persons arrested on a charge of being implicated in the assassination of Shefket Pasha include Danish Bey (ex-Minister for the Interior), Hamid Effendi (President of the Court of Justice at Pera), and Ismail Hakki Pasha (the Opposition leader).

BRITISH AMBASSADOR'S PROTEST.

LONDON, June 15.

Reuter's Agency states that Sir Gerard A. Lowther, British Ambassador at Constantinople, has protested to the Porte against the violation of the rights of a British subject by the attack on the house at Pera. HOME RULE.

UNIONISTS' CAMPAIGN.

SPEECH BY SIR EDWARD CARSON.

LONDON, June 13.

Sir Edward Carson, the leader of the Irish Unionists, in the course of a speech against the Home Rule Bill delivered in Glasgow last evening, advised his fellow countrymen to arm themselves as well as they could in order to repel the attempt which was being made to filch from them the elementary rights of citizenship.

If any violence resulted from his speeches, he added, he was willing to be made responsible. Honour and conscience were more valuable to him than a Privy Councillor's oath, and he would prefer to be stripped of all honours in order to be of service to his countrymen.

ONE A MINUTE.

MEDICAL EXAMINATION ON RAND MINES.

JOHANNESBURG, June 13.

The Government Director of Native Labour, reporting on the high mortality in the Rand mines, states that the mines' medical service is shockingly inadequate. The doctors, he says, refuse to pay night visits to the natives, however serious the case may be.

He states, further, that the doctors attend the mine hospitals for one hour daily, and the natives are examined at the rate of one per minute.

The Director recommends that the Government should take action in regard to the matter.

POISON IN TEA.

TWO WOMEN CHARGED.

ALLEGED CONSPIRACY.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

Two young women, Clarice Maud Cowell, aged 26 years, a saleswoman at Cole's Book Arcade, and Elizabeth Louisa Barry, aged 28 years, employed at the Hopetoun Tea Rooms, appeared at the City Court yesterday, charged with having conspired to kill and murder Florence Mary King.

The two accused cried bitterly, and Cowell murmured, "He ruined my life. He came into my life, and broke my heart." They both bent their heads and covered their faces, and as the hearing of the case proceeded continued weeping. Some minutes elapsed before they sufficiently recovered to pay some attention to what was being said. Police officers stood beside Cowell to support her should she fall.

Detective Elijah Napthine said yesterday, in company with Detective Brophy, I arrested the accused. It is alleged that on June 7 the accused Barry called at the house of Mrs. King, at 6 Eastbrook-street, Ascot Vale, and said to Mrs. King: "My name is Mrs. Rogers. I have come from Echuca. Mr. King's brother, who keeps an hotel at Echuca, at which place I stopped last night, gave me a parcel to bring down to you. I have seen your husband at the Flinders-street railway station, and he asked me to bring the parcel out to you. Mrs. King asked her to have a cup of tea. Just then Mrs. King's child came into the room, and the woman expressed a dislike to children. Mrs. King took the child out of the room. She returned, and as soon as she sipped the tea she noticed a strange taste, and something in the cup. After some conversation Barry left the house. Mrs. King later acquainted her husband of her discovery concerning the tea, and on subsequent examination it was found to contain strychnine. The matter was reported to the police. Yesterday Detective Brophy and I spoke to Cowell. Some intimacy, it appears, had existed between Cowell and Mrs. King's husband. Cowell denied all knowledge of anything that had taken place at Mrs. King's house on June 7. We saw Barry at her place of business. In consequence of what was said to her, Barry made a statement to the effect that she and Cowell had conspired to poison Mrs. King some six weeks ago. The two women had met by appointment in Melbourne, and went to Collingwood, where they purchased at a chemist's shop a quantity of strychnine. The same evening they bought a skirt, a blouse, and a sweater. They decided a week later as the date on which they would go to Mrs. King's house. Eventually they met, and Barry went to Mrs. King's place. What occurred there I have just related. We afterwards read over Barry's statement to Cowell, and after some time Cowell admitted it was true. Cowell also said she had been cruelly treated by King, who had ruined her, and had absolutely broken her heart, and, further, that she had wanted to get rid of Mrs. King. I ask for a remand till June 20."

The two women, who were weeping hysterically, were allowed to leave the court. They were afterwards attended in the cells by a female officer of the Salvation Army.

An application was made for bail by Mr. Ridgeway, who suggested that the women were in such a state that they ought to be released to the care of their friends.

The magistrate said the women could be treated in the gaol hospital, and in their own interest they should not be released.

COMPULSORY TRAINING.

A LIVELY MEETING.

SPEAKERS HOWLED DOWN.

ADELAIDE, Sunday.

Pandemonium reigned for about 20 minutes during addresses by members of the Freedom League in the Botanic Park this afternoon. The meeting had been called by advertisement "to protest against the imprisonment of Campbell Glennie, and others like him, who are not Quakers." Glennie is about 18 years of age, and for having declined to submit himself to medical examination in accordance with the Defence Act was recently sentenced to 14 days' imprisonment.

The more youthful element saw in the gathering a grand opportunity for diversion, and set about to get it. Much excitement prevailed when a middle-aged dame began to whack some of the young men with her gingham, and again when a section of the crowd hustled a well-known anti-Defence Act spokesman off a deal-box upon which he was standing, and bore the perch away in triumph. Shouts of derision were raised when the Commonwealth system of universal training was likened to Continental conscription, and the hubbub reached its climax when a speaker referred to the cadets as "conscripts marching in the livery of murder."

The crowd began to close in around the speakers, and the chairman (Mr. O. Bennett) said: "There are ladies in the centre of the ring, and you young fellows are getting a bit rough. Have the manliness not to push. If this is a sample of what military training can do for you it is a pity for Australia." (Uproar.)

Mr. C. W. Green submitted a motion protesting against Glennie's imprisonment, and urging a repeal of the compulsory clauses. He said it was all very well for the crowd to laugh and crack jokes, but Glennie was rotting in a prison cell. (Voices: "What rot" and "It's his own fault.")

Mr. J. F. Hills, M.A., was for some minutes unable to make his voice heard. He was pushed off the box, but promptly mounted it again. This occurred several times, and on each occasion Mr. Hills stepped nimbly up again, until finally some of the crowd ran off with the box, amid roars of laughter.

A lady began to whack some of the intruders with an umbrella, and ended by going in pursuit of the box.

At the time the meeting was declared closed the motion had not been put to the vote.

FEDERAL CABINET.

STATEMENT BY MR. FISHER.

MELBOURNE, Saturday.

On Saturday Ministers spent the morning in clearing up their offices. Shortly after noon several of them gathered in the Prime Minister's room for half an hour, when they broke up.

Mr. Fisher, in reply to questions, said: "We have held no more meetings. Ministers simply forgathered; we did not even have a 'talkie-talkie.' There is absolutely nothing to report, and nothing can occur to-day or to-morrow. Perhaps I may have something to tell you on Monday. But I won't promise that."

ALLEGED GAMING-HOUSES.

RAID BY DETECTIVES.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

Eight detectives yesterday made a raid on two offices situated in Collins-street, which, it is alleged, were used as common gaming houses. Ten persons, two of whom were women, were arrested on various charges; while large amounts of money and correspondence were seized.

One of the offices was occupied by Frederick O'Neill, and the other by E. Kelly. It is alleged by the police that the post and telegraph offices have been freely used by accused persons as a medium for illegal betting. The letters and telegrams seized yesterday, it is stated, included communications from people residing in almost all of the States of the Commonwealth.

GOLF.

AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP.

WON BY SCOTSMAN.

Mr. W. C. Sturrock, who won the amateur golf championship of New South Wales on Saturday, by defeating the holder of the title, Mr. E. L. Apperly, is a Scotsman, and has only been in Sydney since October last.

Born at Edinburgh in 1881, Mr Sturrock, before proceeding to Edinburgh University, where he qualified as a solicitor, was a scholar of George Watson's College. He is secretary of the New South Wales Coastal Steamship Owners' Association.

As a golfer Mr. Sturrock won no championships in the United Kingdom, but was always regarded as a capital player amongst the best amateur company. He was a member of the Mortonhall Club, Edinburgh, whose professional was Watt, the Scottish champion. Mr. Sturrock competed in the Scottish and British amateur championships, but was unsuccessful on both occasions. He is now a member of the Dobroyde Club.

Last week was a most trying period for golfers. Matches had to be postponed on account of rain, and when they did take place it was under conditions not conducive to good golf. The final on Saturday was contested on a water-logged course, but the winner overcame all obstacles, and won in splendid style. A feature of his play is an absence of flourish in his stroke, as compared with that of his opponent, Mr. Apperly; but his driving is very powerful and accurate.

HIGH SCHOOLS.

RAILWAY PASSES FOR PUPILS.

DECENTRALISING POLICY.

The extension of the secondary system of education, and the establishment of country High Schools, have brought about a somewhat anomalous position in connection with railway passes to High School pupils to travel during vacation.

When the Sydney High Schools were the only Public High Schools in the State, teachers were able to certify that all pupils in the country were attending the nearest High School to their homes, and were thus eligible for railway passes. Now that a number of High Schools have been established in various country districts, the position is altered considerably, for a number of students at the Sydney High School who, when admitted were attending the nearest High Schools to their homes, find that this is not now the case. It seems hardly fair, however, to ask these pupils to at once leave the Sydney schools where they are being prepared for definite examinations, in order to attend the country High School that may be nearest to their home. It has been decided, therefore, that application for a pass to travel during the vacation, which commences next Friday, June 20th, may still be made in the case of students who were enrolled prior to 1913, and who have hitherto been allowed free passes during the vacation. In cases where such pupils are not attending the nearest High School, the application form must be altered by the omission of the words "which is the nearest High School to the residence of," and be endorsed "specially authorised." In the case of students, whether ordinary pupils, scholars, or bursars, who have been enrolled this year, application should not be made for free railway passes unless the teacher can certify that the pupils are attending the nearest High School to their homes by the most direct route.

While the alteration has to be made in conformity with the railway regulations, Mr. Carmichael on Saturday pointed out that, after all, it was only in accordance with the department's policy of decentralising secondary education. While there was a district High School staffed with highly qualified teachers, and capable in all respects of affording the same educational facilities as those existing in Sydney, it was only right to expect pupils residing in the district to attend the High School of their own district. If pupils were not content with the local High School, they could not expect to be afforded special privileges to enable them to attend a metropolitan High School.

SLANDERS.

MR. GRIFFITH'S PROTEST.

NEWCASTLE, Sunday.

After Mr. Griffith, Minister for Works, had laid the foundation-stone of the new works at Walsh Island yesterday, he said he regretted that the tone adopted since the Political Labour party came into power made it very difficult, particularly for a spending Minister, because their opponents had not confined themselves to legitimate attacks on policy and administration. He had been attacked in the House and outside the House. There had been a steady, quiet campaign of secret calumny and slander. "The other day a man went down to the South Coast in the garb of a socialist," continued the speaker, "and he said he was in a position to say that Mr. Griffith got £20,000 from Mr. Delprat to help to establish the works in Newcastle. A member of a municipal council had said the other day that Mr. Griffith had made £20,000 from buying land near where he was having a tramway constructed. A friend of mine in the Lands Office has been told that Jim M'Gowen has obtained, since he had been in office, money running into six figures, and that Mr. Griffith was not far behind him."

"A friend of mine," continued Mr. Griffith, "heard a man whom he did not know, standing beside the Northern train the other day, saying, 'It is not a matter of talk, it is not a matter of rumour, I have seen the documents that Mr. Griffith got £30,000 from Mr. Delprat.' A few months ago I travelled through a district with a local member," said Mr. Griffith. "I was shown a route for a railway, and I said that it was a good proposition, and that I would send it in to the Works Committee. That particular member was one of the Liberals, and up till then I regarded him as a personal friend. As soon as I had gone," continued Mr. Griffith, "that member got a group of half-a-dozen around him, and said, 'Mr. Griffith will consent to the railway, but by the time it gets through there will not be a penny left. Mr. Griffith is feathering his own nest, and I know he has made £40,000 on land. Mr. Griffith has also erected six cottages at Manly, and the bricks came from the Government brickworks."

Continuing, the speaker said that a charge had been made against him in Parliament, but when a Royal Commission was offered and the person who had made the charge had to come through on oath he backed down. The privilege of Parliament intended for gentlemen was to-day being abused. If they have a regular campaign of calumny being passed from mouth to mouth in time it might spread until the people do believe it, said the speaker.

A few months ago the Railway Commissioners had to resume a big joinery works at Rozelle. The Minister took it over from the Railway Department after it had been worked for eight months, and paid the Commissioners what they paid for it. A man in Wynyard-square met one of the proprietors and said that he happened to know that the proprietor had to pay £20,000 to Mr. Griffith to have his works resumed.

"I want to say," continued Mr. Griffith, "that I have not been making any money for myself. I have been engaged in a deadly war with the rings and trusts and combines, and it is because I am fighting them that these attacks have been made upon me."

THE AUSTRALIA.

CAN SHE ENTER PORT PHILIP?

HOW THE NEW ZEALAND FARED.

Will the battle-cruiser Australia—the flagship of the Australian naval unit, and the most powerful British warship to be stationed in the southern seas—be able to enter the port of Melbourne at the end of August, when her arrival in Australia is expected?

The problem, it is understood, is at the present moment under the consideration of the Commonwealth naval authorities, and it will have to be solved within the next few weeks. The vessel will probably leave England next month, and will travel to Australia, via South Africa, as the Union Government have requested that she shall, like the New Zealand, visit the principal South African ports, and provide an additional object lesson in Imperial unity and the importance of co-operation in imperial defence.

It is an open secret that the New Zealand had great difficulty in leaving Melbourne, and her departure was a source of considerable anxiety to both her commander and the harbour authorities. She entered Port Philip Heads drawing about 28ft. After coaling, however, in Hobson's Bay, she drew 30ft 9in. The harbour master expressed the opinion that no vessel drawing as much as 30ft should risk passing the Heads. By means of pumping water, and in other ways, Captain Halsey was able to reduce the draught to 29ft 9in, and, choosing the top of the tide and a calm sea, he navigated the ship safely through the Heads.

The Australia's tonnage is 19,200—400 tons more than her sister ship, and it can readily be understood that the authorities do not propose to run the risk of the Commonwealth's flagship scraping the "Lightning Rock."

DEPTH AT HEADS.

The present depth at the Heads is 37ft, but owing to what is known as the "scend" (the rise and fall of a vessel in a seaway), this is reduced by five or six feet in smooth, and by ten or twelve feet in rough, weather. It is proposed to deepen the entrance to 43ft, when vessels with 35ft or 36ft draught will be able to pass in safely. At the present rate it will, however, take six years before this is done, and meanwhile 30ft is the limit. The harbour authorities are spending only £5000 a year on deepening the entrance at Port Philip Heads. They explain that they are able to spend only half-an-hour at a time in slack water and calm weather for blasting the rock, which has to be removed so as not to interfere with the ingress and egress of vessels, and this practice has continued for the last ten years without inconvenience to shipping. It is contended, however, that rock-breaking appliances might be used with advantage, and that the urgency of the need for deepening the entrance demands much greater expedition than is now employed, even at the risk of a slight inconvenience to incoming and outgoing vessels.

Critics of the present system point out that in six years the need will be much greater even than it is now, as the tendency, both with warships and merchant vessels, is for the draught to be progressively increased. The new White Star boat Ceramic, which will soon be visiting Australia, for instance, draws 34ft 6in, and it is certain that she will not be able to enter the port of Melbourne fully loaded; or, indeed, any other Australian commercial port, except Sydney and Hobart. And this is only one of a series of powerful vessels which have already been built or will shortly be on the seas.

The authorities are acquainted with the facts, and do not hesitate to state them. It seems surprising, therefore, that more is not done to hasten the removal of the defects.

DOMINIONS COMMISSION.

In giving evidence before the Dominions Royal Commission recently in Melbourne, Mr. C. W. M'Lean, engineer in charge of Victorian ports and harbours, stated that the conditions of the port of Melbourne were not sufficient for accommodating the largest vessels likely to visit the port. "That," he added, "is a most unfortunate thing. We shall have to prepare for that. It is the increased draught of vessels more than the actual requirements that we have to think about. . . . It will be six years before we are able to accommodate vessels having a draught of 34ft. At present we cannot take on vessels with a larger draught than 30ft." Mr. A. C. M'Kenzie, engineer in charge of the Melbourne Harbour Trust, stated that the greatest depth in the inner anchorage was 24ft, and in the outer anchorage 30ft; at Port Melbourne pier 30ft, and at Williamstown piers 28ft.

Admiral Creswell spoke of the £5000 a year now being expended as an "exceedingly modest figure." He referred to the need for some supervision of the harbours of Australia by a joint board, which would look to the needs of the future. It is obvious that improvements made in Sydney, for instance, are only of limited value if the other harbours at which ships need to call are not improved at the same time. Commercial men complain that they cannot secure shipment of their goods. But this is due very largely to the fact that the vessels conveying them are able to leave certain Australian ports with only a restricted draught.

SYDNEY'S ENTRANCE.

According to the latest particulars issued by the Sydney Harbour Trust, the entrance at the Heads is described as "clear of danger, and the soundings are regular; the depth in mid-channel being 17 fathoms (102ft), sand. The depth at the entrance is not less than 80ft." The eastern channel now has a depth of 40ft at low water, and as it is entirely protected by South Head, very little sand need be allowed for. The western channel is being deepened to 40ft at low water. After passing through the channels, vessels are able to navigate in from 40ft to 50ft for a distance of about four miles. The depth of water at the wharfs ranges from 35ft to 60ft. Contrasted with the £5000 spent in deepening the entrance to Port Phillip Heads is a sum of nearly half a million pounds expended last year in improving the shipping facilities in Sydney Harbour.

The problem of the Australia is likely to concentrate attention on the whole subject, and if this is the case, much good may come out of the present undesirable state of affairs.

NORTHERN MINES.

TO APPLY FOR BOARD.

POSITION BECOMING CLEAR.

NEWCASTLE, Sunday.

The executive officers of the Colliery Employees' Federation have decided to make application for a wages board. "I am beginning to see a way through the maze," said one of the executive officers last night when speaking to a "Herald" reporter. He was not satisfied with the position, but took it as a force of circumstances. The very name of a wages board was invidious to him, for coupled with it was slowness and congestion in dealing with disputes.

It is understood that the small coal and afternoon shift questions are to be heard first, but it is not certain how the various disputes that crop up spasmodically in the district will be treated by the board. However, if the progress is not satisfactory it is intended to apply to the chairman of the wages board for a special tribunal to settle disputes, and probably the Lambton B. and Stockton Borehole troubles will come before that tribunal if it be established.

The trend of events in the mining industry since the joint conciliation committee was disbanded has been quite interesting. The proprietors have stood quietly by without troubling about the establishment of any tribunal. Some of them, however, advocated local agreements. The miners' representatives have been doing their utmost to bring some tribunal into operation, and are now about to receive what they least expected six months ago.

TRAM COLLISION.

THE BRAKES FAIL.

EXCITEMENT AT RAILWAY.

At about half-past 7 o'clock on Saturday morning the "out" tramway gradient at the Central Railway Station carried a runaway tramcar. It was empty of passengers. Just outside the park, near the Adelphi Theatre, a double-carriage tram stood stationary on the same line. It carried passengers.

The second car had been pulled up in order that the cow-catcher could be lifted. As the driver and a conductor were stooping before the car, a sudden noisy clanging of an alarm-bell was heard in the direction of the station.

The tram men stood aside. Passengers were peering anxiously from the car windows; some were leaving the cars.

Down came the runaway tram at the rate of about 15 miles an hour. All the driver—William Doak—could do, was to shout and look to final expedients. His brakes had failed to act.

It approached the passenger-laden cars with ominous haste. There followed a deafening crash, and the double tram shot forward about 20 yards. Passengers were hurled against one another, and on to the floors of the cars. Windows were shattered, and there was general confusion.

Beside the damaged cars William Doak, the driver, lay with a nasty gash bleeding on the top of his head. A passenger, Annie Belby, of Victoria-street, Darlinghurst, had an ugly wound over one of her eyes; and another passenger, John A. Quail, of Fleet-street, Carlton, was disfigured with face abrasions.

The injured persons were taken for treatment to Sydney Hospital in cabs. Doak's strained back muscles and cut head necessitated his retention.

TRAMS LEAVE RAILS.

SERVICE DISORGANISED.

Owing to two trams leaving the rails at the corner of Elizabeth and Liverpool streets, where line alterations are being carried out, traffic was partly disorganised for over an hour on Saturday afternoon. An empty tram, consisting of two cars, was first in trouble, but it was replaced by a gang of workmen who were hurried to the spot. Shortly afterwards a Zetland tram, bound to the station, while rounding the corner also jumped off the rails. Trams bound from the Quay towards the Railway, via Elizabeth-street, were unable to proceed past Liverpool-street, and the Eastern Suburbs service from the Railway Station was also inoperative for the time being.

HEIR TO A FORTUNE.

A HALF-CASTE MAORI.

ROMANCE OF WHALING DAYS.

A story that is invested with a good deal of romance is brought by the last New Zealand mail of a long search for the rightful heir of an American estate that is said to run into several millions of pounds. The inheritor of this immense fortune is a half-caste Maori named Horace Bennett, a middle-aged man, with a family of 13 children.

Away back in the early sixties an American sailor left his whaling ship while she was lying at the Bay of Islands, in the north of New Zealand, and journeyed to Whananaki, where he was hospitably received by the natives. From that time he became one of themselves, and later married the daughter of a chieftain. Some years later he died, leaving a family of five children, on one of whom—the present heir—he bestowed his father's Christian name, Horace.

It seems that in the period that has passed the whaler's father was unaware that he had grandchildren in New Zealand, and when he in turn died, a millionaire, he bequeathed his estate to the grandchild who bore his Christian name. Every effort was for some years made to locate the heir, but success in that direction was not attained till a few weeks ago.

The claimant says that his parent was of a reticent nature, but had occasionally in an indefinite way referred to family wealth. Asked what he would do with his fortune in the event of his claim being proved, Bennett quietly replied, "Educate my children; that is my one ambition."

STATE ELECTIONS.

LIBERAL LEAGUES' SELECTIONS.

The following candidates have been definitely selected to contest seats in the Liberal interest:—

Ashburnham: A. H. GRIMM.
Bingara: R. J. P. HIGGINS.
Castlereagh: H. T. BLACKETT.
King: H. E. MANNING.
Lachlan: A. C. MANNING.
Macquarie: R. W. D. WEAVER.
Mudgee: O. GILBERT.
Upper Hunter: M. ABBOTT.

ENMORE SELECTION.

DISSENSION DENIED.

Mr. W. H. Pritchard, president of the Enmore electoral conference, in a statement made on Saturday, denies that dissension exists in connection with the choosing of a Liberal candidate. In the Enmore electorate there are the Stanmore ladies, Stanmore, Enmore, Marrickville, South Annandale, Kingston, and Addison leagues, of which so far all but the last named have been approved by the central body as being constitutionally formed. The Addison League desires an extension of time in connection with the selection of a candidate, but the representatives of the other leagues are against this, being anxious that the selection should be made on the date agreed upon. Four attempts have now been made to obtain an extension of time, but beyond these attempts the electoral conference had very little trouble, and certainly no dissension.

THE SELECTION.

SETTLING DIFFICULTIES.

Complaints are being made in various quarters with regard to the selection of a candidate to run in the Liberal interest in the Enmore electorate. The matter was brought under the notice of the secretary of the Liberal League, Mr. Parkhill, on Saturday. He said that he was quite aware that there was a little feeling existing with regard to the selection, due to competition of the various candidates. "But," he continued, "the executive is doing its utmost to reconcile the different interests so that we shall have the best candidate available to contest the seat, and in order that the selection may be carried out with absolute fairness to all parties concerned. The time for receiving nominations from candidates has already been extended up to June 16. Further applications for extensions have been made on the part of newly-formed branches, and it will be for the council, after considering all the circumstances of the electorate, to decide whether such a course is necessary in the best interests of the party."

PADDINGTON LIBERALS.

There was a large attendance of members at last week's meeting of the Paddington Liberal League, held at the local Town Hall. The selected Liberal candidate for Paddington at the next State election, Alderman Reg. Harris, of the City Council, was present, and received the congratulations of the meeting. Mr. Harris replied to the felicitous speeches made, and said he would enter upon the contest with a determination to win back the Paddington seat to the Liberal party. It had been lost at the last election because of a lack of organisation, and a belief that Mr. (now Senator) C. W. Oakes' position was impregnable.

PAY SHEET.

BIG REDUCTION IN WAGES.

RESULT OF THE WET WEATHER.

THE WORKERS SUFFER.

The axiom "make provision for a rainy day" has been demonstrated in a very significant manner during the past fortnight.

The rain does not to any material extent interfere with office workers. It is different, however, with the labourer, the tradesman, and with those who are engaged in outdoor employment. To them a wet day means "no work, no pay;" and as we have had, practically speaking, continuous wet days for the last fortnight, the wage-earning powers of a very large section of the outdoor workers of Sydney and the districts affected have been almost completely suspended.

It is a very long time since the weekly pay-sheets have been so small as they were on the last two occasions. This applies to both Government and private enterprise. Such a serious loss makes a great inroad into the spending power of a large section of the community.

The housewife, the landlord, the shopkeeper, the merchant, and the Savings Bank accounts feel the position keenly, for when the earning power of the working community is curtailed the spending power is equally affected. That has been the position in which a very large section of the community has been placed. The wages of thousands of the citizens have been reduced quite 25 per cent. during the last fortnight.

GOVERNMENT WORKS REDUCED.

To give some idea of how many people are affected by such an unusually long period of rain, one has only to take the Public Works Department as an example. Last year the department controlled by Mr. Griffith, Minister for Works, paid away a little over £1,000,000 in wages. This year the amount will be about the same. That, of course, does not include salaries, but refers only to wages paid to workmen, mostly labourers, and to tradesmen. It represents a pay-sheet of nearly £20,000 per week. But during the last fortnight the pay-sheet of the department has been just about half the usual amount; and it would not have reached so high as it did but for the fact that jobs were found for carpenters and similar artisans, together with a few labourers, at indoor work. Still, it means, in this department alone, that over £20,000 less was paid in wages to employees during the last two weeks.

The Harbour Trust has a pay sheet of £3000 per week. This has been reduced by over a third within the last fortnight. That means that the employees drew £2000 less from the Harbour Trust than would have been the case if fine weather had prevailed.

The Water and Sewerage Board is not affected to the same extent in respect to their permanent employees as other departments, because of the fact that in wet weather the maintenance gangs have to be on deck to watch that the sewerage is working all right, and that the dams and reservoirs are not overflowing. The men employed on sewerage extension work and water main laying have, however, been stopped by the rain; so that in this direction alone an inroad was made into the pay sheets of the board's contractors.

The Railway Department is another large employer of outdoor labour. Mr. Johnson employs gangs on the deviation works on the Mountains, on the South Coast, and at Redfern. The earnings of these men, who number several thousand, has been practically nil for the fortnight. This means the loss of another few thousand pounds to the spending power of the people. The Tramway Department also shows small pay sheets for maintenance work.

BUILDING TRADE AFFECTED.

While the Government employees have sustained a heavy loss, those engaged in private enterprise have suffered equally, if not more so.

The building trade at the present time is brisk, but the pay sheets of the master builders have been reduced to quite half the normal expenditure within the fortnight, and many of the men have not earned 10s in two weeks. The wharf-labourers have not been able to unload a large percentage of cargo that had to be kept dry. The coal-lumper could not put wet coal into the bunkers of the steamers for fear of combustion. The municipal employee could not proceed with road making, asphalting, and other forms of outdoor work.

In many avenues of outdoor employment similar conditions prevailed, and thus thousands of men have taken home to their wives only a few shillings on the last two Friday nights.

Added to this there is the fact that for the last six weeks outdoor employees have had to suffer more or less through wet weather, so that the entire loss works out at a rather large sum on the debit side of the profit and loss account of the people of Sydney.

The tradespeople have had lately to give considerably more credit and receive less takings than usual. It was most noticeable in the spending power of the housewives on the last two Friday nights, which are the late shopping nights. Many little things had to be done without which usually find a place in the market basket. Even the landlord has to wait in many instances because of the rain.

SAVINGS BANK WITHDRAWALS.

The deposits in the savings banks during the last week or two have not been as great as in the previous week. In fact, there has been an increase in the withdrawals. Nothing coming in from the wage-earners has compelled the housewife to withdraw some of her savings. It is money that has been put away for a rainy day, and in that respect it has found its intended destiny. It is also astonishing to find the number of people who now have a "nest egg" in the bank, which has exploded the once too prevalent idea in this country that the people lived from hand to mouth, and trusted to luck to see them through. The housewives do not forget how they and their families suffered in the dull years which followed the bank smashes, droughts, and maritime and other strikes of the eighties and nineties. That was a disaster which taught the people the lesson of prudence and thrift, and as it has been followed by a long season of prosperity which they now enjoy they have learned a useful lesson by past experience. The result is that many a workman's family can now stand a financial strain much better than they could fifteen and twenty years ago.

It was once contended that the publicans were the people who reaped the benefit of an idle day through wet weather, that the outdoor employees, having no work to go to, found their way to the public-house. That certainly did apply in regard to the building and other trades twenty years ago, but it is not so to-day, at any rate, nor to the same extent. So that taken all round, the workmen of Sydney can now stand the strain of loss in wages through wet weather much better than their fathers could. At the same time, when there has been practically a fortnight of wet days, preceded by many more in the previous month, it can be easily understood what such a loss means to the spending power of the community.

DESERTED CHILDREN.

STARVING IN THE BUSH.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

A sad case of destitution came before the Daylesford Court yesterday, when Constable M'Namara, of Bullarto, presented five children, named Lyons, who had been deserted by their parents, and had been for a week in a starving and neglected state in the bush district of South Bullarto. The father left them six months ago, and the mother had lingered on with her family until a week ago, when she also disappeared. The eldest child was aged 11 years, and the youngest (twins) were only 18 months old. The Bench committed the children to the Neglected Children's Department.

AUSTRALIAN CRICKETERS.

GREAT PLAY AT MONTREAL.

BARDSLEY, 139 NOT OUT.

MONTREAL, June 14.

The Australian cricketers badly defeated the Montreal team.

In their first innings the Australians made 285 runs, and in their second 309, to which total Bardsley contributed 139 not out. The Montreal players made 85 in their first and 112 in their second innings.

The bowling of the Australians played havoc with the local men, the crowd applauding continuously.

The newspapers describe the Australians' second innings as the finest ever seen in Montreal.

ARGENTINE MEAT TRADE.

LONDON, June 14.

Reuter's Buenos Ayres correspondent states that the Minister for Agriculture is of opinion that he cannot take action on the frozen meat question, it being one affecting private concerns.

Mr. J. M. Robertson, Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Trade, in reply to a question in the House of Commons a few days ago, as to whether any action had been taken in regard to the operations of the American Beef Trust in South America, in order to safeguard the British meat supply, said that the Government was aware that apprehension had been caused among the British firms engaged in the Argentine trade, but he understood that the Argentine Government was considering the situation. Britain, he added, would view with satisfaction any steps the Argentine might take to secure unrestricted trade.

THE BALKANS.

ST. PETERSBURGH, June 13.

It is pointed out here that there are other compensations than that of territory open to Servia, such as commercial access to the Aegean Sea. A fear that she should lose this is the chief reason for Servia's objection to Bulgaria acquiring Monastir and the districts west of the River Vardar.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE.

SOFIA, June 15.

A severe earthquake was felt in Bulgaria and Southern Hungary. There were two bad shakes.

Some houses at Tirnovo collapsed, and several fatalities are reported.

NORTHERN UNION FOOTBALL.

TERMS OF ENGLISH VISIT.

LONDON, June 13.

The secretary of the Northern Union League, in the course of an interview, stated that the invitation from Sydney for a visit of a Northern Union team to Australia cannot be accepted, unless the colonial League proposes a basis for safeguarding mutual interests respecting the transfer of players. "This," he said, "is as essential as are the terms of the tour."

THE POSITION EXPLAINED.

The terms of the New South Wales League's invitation have not yet been forwarded to the home body. Last year an invitation was sent to the Northern Union for a visit this season, but the English authorities, after having all their demands met, declined the offer, and then set out as a basis for future negotiation that the League here should conform to some rules respecting the transfer of players. An agreement in this respect was in force for some time, but was annulled by the English body in consequence of the "Frawley case." No doubt the local League will be prepared to safeguard the interests of the home clubs respecting transfers, but there would appear to be an obstacle in the way in view of the different conditions under which the players participate in the game there and here. There the players are professional in every sense of the term, i.e., they really depend on football for their livelihood, and enter into contracts with the various clubs, in effect making themselves practically the property of the clubs; but in Australia the players, while in the majority of cases getting money from the game (on the co-operative basis), are not under contract, and they and the controlling body, too, deem themselves free agents with perfect liberty to go when and where they like. The New South Wales League, however, recognises the right of the English clubs to control the players under engagement to them, and will doubtlessly be prepared to safeguard the interests of those clubs.

The division of gate receipts is a matter on which the English Union set high store in the former negotiations. In 1910 the visitors received at the outset 65 per cent. of the gross receipts. Subsequently the percentage was reduced to 60. With ground charges, allowance to players, advertising, etc., to be met, the New South Wales League did not show a big surplus on that visit, whereas a profit of approximately £1500 was taken to England. In face of this, and also in view of the increased support now afforded the game here, it seems reasonable that the English percentage of the takings should be less than then. The New South Wales League has so far shown a capability to negotiate successfully in all matters handled, and will no doubt make ample provision for the 1914 season without giving away too much. It is stated that, failing an English visit next year, a Springbok team is sure to come. At present local enthusiasm must await the arrival of the official invitation in England.

INTERNATIONAL POLO.

NEW YORK, June 14.

America has again beaten England in the second of the three international polo matches arranged, and thus retains the cup.

America won by 4½ goals to 4¼.

[The second and deciding game has been won by the greater of two penalties, which in a measure is unsatisfactory. So far as goal-hitting was concerned, the teams played a tie. America may have been awarded half a goal for a foul, or two quarters for the same infringement of the rules as that which secured England a quarter goal. This is allowed against a side on which a player hits the ball over his own goal line.]

THE ILLAWARRA SEAT.

WOLLONGONG, Sunday.

The count of absent votes in connection with the Illawarra seat will, it is understood, be continued, and probably concluded to-morrow. There are about 200 votes to count, but it is not anticipated that the figures will be materially altered.

VICTORIA'S POSITION.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

The count of votes at the week-end enabled the Victorian Liberal candidates for the Senate to gain still further on the Labour candidates.

It is estimated now, however, that there are probably only between 3000 and 4000 more absentee votes to come, so that it seems doubtful whether the Liberals will be able to secure more than one seat out of the three.

Senator Russell (Labour) and Senator M'Coll (Liberal) appear to be sure of the first and second places respectively, and Mr. Barnes (Labour) still has a lead of over 1500 over Dr. Salmon (Liberal) for the third position.

ARBITRATION TREATIES.

UNITED STATES, JAPAN, AND BRITAIN.

WASHINGTON, June 14.

Viscount Chinda, Japanese Ambassador to the United States, has informed the State Department that Japan is ready to renew the existing arbitration treaty between the two countries.

The Senate is likely to offer considerable opposition to the renewal of the treaty, in consequence of the dispute regarding the treatment of Japanese in California.

Senator Chamberlain is opposing the renewal of the treaty with Britain, but if it is renewed he contends that the Panama tolls question should be removed outside the scope of questions to be submitted to arbitration.

THE SUFFRAGISTS.

A BOMB AT BECKENHAM.

LONDON, June 14.

A suffragist attempted to set fire to Eden Park station, Beckenham, Kent. The seats were saturated with paraffine, and a clockwork bomb was left there to explode.

THE HURST PARK FIRE.

LONDON, June 15.

Kitty Marion, the actress, and Clara Giveen, who are charged with setting fire to the stables and grand stand at Hurst Park racecourse, have been further remanded.

Evidence was given to the effect that they were seen together prior to the fire, each with a green portmanteau, and Marion was wearing a green coat. Both were seen immediately after the fire without their bags.

STRIKERS' BATTLES.

"A STATE OF WAR."

WASHINGTON, June 13.

Martial law has been abolished in the West Virginia coalfields.

The Senate committee, which has been investigating the conditions, found that a reign of terror prevailed, and the district was really in a state of war. Armed miners during the year had engaged in numerous pitched battles with the forces of law and order. Conciliatory measures have been suggested.

STATE MINE.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

After lasting eight days, the strike at the State coal mine is over, and the men will return to work to-morrow.

NEW STATE WORKS.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR THE FUTURE.

MINISTER AT NEWCASTLE.

NEWCASTLE, Sunday.

Another step in Newcastle's rapid industrial progress was made on Saturday, when Mr. Griffith, Minister for Works, laid the foundation-stone of the new Government workshops at Walsh Island. A few minutes later Mrs. Griffith and Miss Flowers hammered the first rivet into the keel of the new ferry for vehicle traffic between Newcastle and Stockton. In the afternoon Mr. J. S. T. M'Gowen and Mr. Flowers, M.L.C., Vice-President of the Executive Council, laid the foundation stones of the new hospital at Newcastle.

The day was a red-letter day for Newcastle. Many prominent citizens and heads of public departments and private companies, as well as members of Parliament and visitors from Sydney, were present to witness the ceremonies. The party was conducted over the island by Mr. A. E. Cutler, engineer-in-charge. Much work has already been done on the island, which consists of reclaimed land. Between 200 and 300 workmen are engaged there. Great interest was taken in the hydraulic drills which were boring through large steel girders, and also in the girders, which had either been placed in position, or were about to be fixed, for the foundations of a large engineering works. The island will, no doubt, in a few years' time be the centre of a busy port. Opposite, on the western side, are the new steel works of the Broken Hill Proprietary Co.

Mr. Griffith declared the foundation-stone well and truly laid. The works, he said, were in the near future going to be the most up-to-date engineering shops in the Commonwealth.

Mrs. Griffith and Miss Flowers each hammered a red-hot bolt, which had been placed in position by the workmen, into the keel of the new Stockton ferry, and, amid loud cheers, declared the rivets well and truly driven. An adjournment was then made to a large shed, where refreshments were served.

GOVERNMENT PIPE FOUNDRY.

In responding to the toast of the health of the Minister for Works, Mr. Griffith said that he had always strongly deprecated the old centralisation tactics of former Governments. The wiser policy was to distribute industries throughout the State. He was spending a great deal of money in developing Kembla for the southern coal trade, and he intended to spend much for Coff's Harbour and Newcastle to develop the North Coast railway and the Dorrigo plateau. He was doing something to remove some of the industries from the capital and bring them to Newcastle. The new works he had undertaken were the Government workshops, a dock—(applause)—and a pipe foundry to provide the pipes required by the Government.

Recently, continued the speaker, he had been compelled to give a contract for £500,000 for pipes, which he knew from investigations if the proposed foundry had been in operation could have been manufactured at a saving of £100,000. The pipe works would be commenced simultaneously with the engineering works, and for quite a comparatively small sum. The surplus would remain in the Treasury, and the work would be as economically and as well done as work for any contractor.

Mr. Griffith explained how it came about that the works on Walsh Island had been started. When the contract to supply the warships had been in operation for some time he found that there was a certain clashing between the State and Commonwealth departments. After two or three conferences with the Minister for Defence it was arranged to sell the works to the Commonwealth. The agreement had been drawn up, and the Commonwealth agreed to take over the plant and works for £800,000, and to pay £67,000 in cash for the work which had already been done to the warships by the State Government. That £67,000 was the money with which he had to establish the works at Walsh Island.

OTHER IMPERIAL WORKS.

He had heard a few weeks ago that negotiations were passing between the Commonwealth and the mother country with regard to other Imperial property. He had investigations made, and found that the dedication of the land occupied by those works was made to the Imperial Government on the condition of Sydney being the centre of the Imperial fleet. The Imperial station would be removed on the first of next month, and, consequently, that agreement would lapse, and that property would then belong to the State. Negotiations had been carried out in Melbourne between Mr. Davis and the Commonwealth Department, and it had eventually decided to give the State £600,000 for that property. The £800,000 for Cockatoo Island and the £600,000 for the other Imperial property would not be paid in cash, but would be passed to the account for properties transferred to States, and the Commonwealth would pay the State 3½ per cent. per annum. That meant £49,000 from the Commonwealth Government to the State every year.

PROPOSED STATE-OWNED STEAMER.

Already there was work in hand for the engineering shops on Walsh Island. The Stockton punt would be built there. An order had been received from the State Brickworks Department to build a steamer to carry limestone from the Manning to the works at Botany. He intended constructing three dredges. (Applause.) For the next three years there would be plenty of new work. A good deal of reliance would be placed upon the workmen, who would be given the best conditions, and he felt sure that full value would be given for the money paid in wages. He desired to be in a position in regard to those works to be able truthfully to assure the taxpapers that they were getting 20s worth of work for every £1 spent.

The area now occupied by the old workshops at the Dyke would be utilised by vessels bunkering coal, and coal-loading facilities would be provided as soon as the workshops were removed. He wished to congratulate the men who had been working on the island. The preliminary operations had been completed, and the works would be erected very rapidly. It would not be long before they were in full swing, and making pipes for the Government of the State.

He had been taxed over the arrangements he had made with the Broken Hill Proprietary Company to establish an iron industry at Newcastle. If he had been able to get hold of the two or three millions sterling that were necessary to construct such an industry, the Proprietary Company would never have had a look in. All the money that the State Treasurer could get for him was required for duplicating railways, opening up new country, irrigation schemes, and other works.

The Mayor of Newcastle (Alderman H. M. Shedden), who presided, said that they felt a great favour had been bestowed upon Newcastle by the Government's action in starting such works.

Mr. W. C. Grahame, M.L.A. for Wickham, proposed the health of the Minister, and in doing so said that he believed that the Minister was doing the right thing in handing over the dockyards to the Commonwealth at a fair valuation, so that they should at all times establish in New South Wales the whole of the Federal works. Newcastle had gained the works to be erected on Walsh Island by that move. In the near future the works would employ something like 2000 men.

Mr. A. R. Gardiner, State member for Newcastle, said that before the present Government came into power they went from end to end of this State preaching the great policy of decentralisation. That policy had been given effect to in what had been taking place on Walsh Island. There was a possibility that the Government works, after Cockatoo Island had been taken over by the Commonwealth, being removed to some other place in Sydney Harbour, but Mr. Griffith said that there was a more suitable site at Newcastle.

Mr. J. Estell, member for Waratah, believed that the aspect of Newcastle had been materially changed since the opening up of mines in the Maitland district. They had to look for something else to keep Newcastle going, and the place was becoming a great industrial centre.

Mr. H. C. Langwill, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said that it seemed to him when he was watching the ceremony that day that Mr. Griffith was doing more than laying the foundation-stone of the engineering works, and Mrs. Griffith and Miss Flowers more than laying the keel of the ferry. It would really lead to Newcastle's prosperity and industrial progress.

Mr. W. Brown, member for Durham, and the Mayors of the municipalities of the district, also supported the toast.

MIDDLEMAN'S PROFIT.

LICENSED VICTUALLERS' MOVE.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

Members of the Licensed Victuallers' Association have formed a co-operative society for the purpose of purchasing everything direct through London agents, thus doing away with local middlemen's profits. Of the saving that will be effected by this course, a part will be returned to members in the form of a bonus, and a part will be allocated to a fighting fund.

There are six steamers in the bay this morning, the Mokau, Kiltobranks, Brundah, Burringbar, Wollongbar, and Excella. The steamer Promise, that called here when short of coal, went on to Brisbane the same day, the weather being too rough for her to take coal on board here. She had sufficient to take her to the northern capital. The weather to-day is fine. The wind has subsided, and the sea is moderate.

DISPENSARY FOR NEWCASTLE.

NEWCASTLE, Sunday.

At a special meeting of doctors held last night, when Mr. F. Flowers, M.L.C., Vice-President of the Executive Council, was present, it was decided that the tuberculosis dispensary should serve the needs of indigent cases only; that no charge be made to patients for treatment; that the compulsory notification of pulmonary tuberculosis be brought into force in the district by the Government.

Speaking at the laying of the foundation-stone of the hospital, Mr. Flowers said that the dispensary in Hay-street, Sydney, had been eminently successful. The way the white plague should be fought was not by curing those who had it, but rather by safeguarding those who had not got it.

SHOT WITH REVOLVER.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

TRAM ACCIDENTS.

A number of tram accidents were reported on Saturday night, the first of which was the case of Mrs. Cary, of Pine-street, city, who was knocked down by a Quay-bound tram, and died on the way to the hospital.

William Pringle, 25, residing in Redfern, was knocked down by a tram in Bent-street, city, and was admitted to Sydney Hospital in a serious condition, suffering from injuries to the head.

Another man named Frederick Rushworth fell from a tram near Yurong-street, and sustained injuries to the head that necessitated his admission to the hospital.

THE CITY PATROLMEN.

The City Council having determined to continue the services of the patrolmen to enforce the due observance of the bylaws, it is considered desirable by some of the aldermen that they should cease wearing uniforms, the belief being that more efficient performance of their duties would be secured by their being in plain clothes. A motion that the wearing of uniforms be discontinued will be brought forward at the council meeting to-morrow evening.

"PURCHASED" TELEPHONES.

As an outcome of the meeting held a few days ago to consider the resumption of telephone lines and instruments installed under the purchase system, 154 names of persons affected have been handed into the committee, which has taken the matter in hand. The Government recently notified subscribers who were using telephones under the purchase system that it was their intention to resume them, but it is not considered that the compensation offered is fair. In many cases as much as £35 was paid for the installation of instruments and wire, and the compensation offered varies from £1 downwards.

LATE MR. M. DRUMMOND.

Probate has been granted of the will of Mr. Matthew Drummond, of Bexley, lately of Young, grazier, who died on March 26 last. By his will, which is dated February 29 last, testator appointed his brother, John Drummond, his sole executor and trustee. He bequeathed to his wife his household furniture and personal effects, and also all his house property—that was to say, all real estate he died possessed of—other than his real estate in the Young district. He bequeathed to Alma Luida Ireland and Thelma Adelie Ireland, daughters of his wife, £1000 each, to be paid on their respectively attaining the age of 21 years. Testator also bequeathed the residue of his real and personal estate to his brothers and sisters equally. The net value of the estate for probate purposes was sworn at £42,255 18s.

NEWCASTLE HOSPITAL.

TO COST £66,000.

LAYING OF FOUNDATION STONES.

NEWCASTLE, Sunday.

Two foundation stones of Newcastle's new hospital were laid on Saturday afternoon by the Premier, Mr. J. S. T. M'Gowen, and Mr. F. Flowers, M.L.C., Vice-president of the Executive Council. The present building is out of date and unable to cope with the requirements of the city and district. The new structure will be among the most modern for hospitals in the State, and is estimated to cost £66,000. So far only £2000 has been granted, but Mr. Flowers explained that £25,000 would be passed during the next session of Parliament for the completion of the pavilion.

Mr. S. S. Cohen, president of the Hospital Committee, in presenting a trowel and mallet to the Premier, said that the laying of a foundation stone was nothing in itself, but it marked a step forward and it showed progress towards the goal which they had in their minds.

Mr. M'Gowen said that the new hospital would include, when the whole scheme of rebuilding was completed, three detached blocks having frontages and running at right angles to Pacific-street. About 50ft of space would lie between each. The administrative block would occupy the central position, and would be four storeys in height. The north ward pavilion (188ft x 52ft), which would be erected first, would consist of four floors. The total number of beds in the men's block would be 111. The south ward pavilion (104ft x 52ft) for women was arranged similarly to the north block, of three storeys in height, with two wards on each floor of 20 beds and 10 beds respectively, the total accommodation for female patients being 93 beds. The total accommodation of the hospital when completed would be 205 beds.

Continuing, Mr. M'Gowen said that the work of the modern hospitals was being increased. The facilities had to be greater and greater as the years passed. If the benevolent people did not subscribe the necessary money, the Government of the day would have to do it all. (Hear, hear.) If the Government had to do it, they would get the money from the people in the State.

Mr. Flowers was presented with a trowel by Mr. Wm. Lyne, vice-president of the hospital, and after he had laid the foundation-stone he said that he had seen most of the hospitals in the State, but ventured to say that he had not seen one so inadequate and so short of requirements as Newcastle's. Some time ago he came here to see if an expenditure of £5000 would be justified in patching up the old building. He had not been there an hour when he made up his mind that it would be shameful to spend another penny on the place unless it was absolutely necessary. The necessity of a new building was brought before the Public Works Committee by him, and within a few weeks that committee came to the decision that it was absolutely necessary to have an up-to-date and fully-equipped hospital for Newcastle. (Hear, hear.) He had got £2000 to make a commencement. There was going to be no cessation of the work until it was completed. (Loud applause.) Parliament would be asked to pass an Act of indemnity next session for £2000, and also for an additional £25,000 for the completion of that pavilion.

Mr. A. Edden, Minister for Mines, moved a vote of thanks to both the Premier and Mr. Flowers for laying the foundation-stones, and was supported by Dr. Beeston, M.L.C., Messrs. J. Estell, A. R. Gardiner, Ms.L.A., and the Mayor of Newcastle (Alderman H. M. Shedden).

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

LATE MR. J. BULLEN.

In memory of the late Mr. James Bullen, who had been a most energetic worker for the church since boyhood, a special service was held last evening in the Congregational Church, King-street, Newtown. There was a large attendance, the Rev. George Campbell occupying the pulpit. Mr. S. Arnold presided at the organ, and played Chopin's Funeral March and the Dead March from "Saul," and hymns suitable for the occasion were sung, also two solos, "Abide With Me" and "O, Rest in the Lord," by Mrs. Williams. The Rev. George Campbell, in the course of his sermon, paid a glowing tribute to the character of the late Mr. Bullen.

MR. G. F. CROZIER.

In the Methodist Church, Newtown, last evening, a special service to the memory of the late Mr. George Foster Crozier was held, The Rev. J. H. Holden officiated. Mr. Crozier was for many years identified with the church, and for some time was an alderman of Newtown. He also occupied the position of substitute returning officer for the district, and was a trustee of the Newtown School of Arts, of which he was one of the oldest members. The church was draped in mourning, and music appropriate to the occasion was rendered by Mr. W. Pogson, the church organist. The Rev. J. H. Holden spoke very highly of Mr. Crozier as a churchman and as a citizen, and said that he was a worthy pattern for others to follow.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

BRISBANE, Sunday.

At a sittings of the Methodist Conference of Australasia on Saturday, the report of the Foreign Mission Society was presented by the Rev. B. Danks, and adopted. The financial statement was also adopted. The general returns showed that there were 43,548 adherents—an increase of 4175. The membership was 40,999—an increase of 320. Mr. R. Beckett (Victoria) moved,—"That the board of missions be reconstructed upon new lines so as to provide representatives from the various States, and that mission districts be found a place on such board." Dr. Fitchett expressed himself as alarmed at the new principle, because the resolution involved numerical and financial seats, and the Methodist Church in all its legislative assemblies was a spiritual force. After discussion, the conference adjourned until Monday.

NO CONFERENCE.

BROKEN HILL, Sunday.

The delegates authorised by the Broken Hill branch of the Shop Assistants and Warehouse Employees' Federation to confer with the employers on Saturday afternoon, attended at the hour appointed, but none of the employers put in an appearance. When it became evident there was to be no conference the delegates proceeded to their room to discuss the situation.

YOUNG WOMAN INJURED.

MOLONG, Saturday.

A serious accident happened at the local railway station about 1 o'clock to-day. Violet England, daughter of a rabbit-trapper, just after unloading a cargo of rabbits, endeavoured to pull the horse and sulky away from the line, but the horse backed on to an approaching engine, which dragged the vehicle about 20 yards and threw the girl on to the line under one of the engine wheels, which passed over one of her feet, severing four of the toes. The horse was unhurt, but the sulky was smashed to pieces.

A GRAVE-DIGGER'S FALL.

PARKES, Saturday.

Robert Budd, the local grave-digger, while working at the cemetery yesterday, fell and sustained serious internal injuries. He was conveyed to the hospital, where he lies in a precarious condition.

SHOOTING ACCIDENT.

BOWRAL, Saturday.

Edward Bresnahan, of Avoca, was out shooting with a companion, when the latter fired at a rabbit. Mr. Bresnahan, who was about forty yards away, received part of the charge in his back, where over eighty pellets lodged. It is thought the charge ricocheted off a rock on the ground. Bresnahan was admitted to the hospital for treatment.

Of the Japanese companies the Nippon Yusen Kaisha is undertaking an Australian service once every four weeks, and individual shipowners maintain a monthly service. It is further stated that it cannot be guaranteed that shipping business, undertaken by Japanese, may not cease to exist in Australian waters.

JOCKEY KILLED.

PERTH, Sunday.

Charles Burgland, who was killed during the running of Gosnell's Purse at the Canning Park races yesterday when his mount, Magonel, fell, was a native of Victoria, aged 25 years. He was formerly known as Burge. He had promised his wife not to ride in the Canning Steeplechase, which followed immediately after that in which he was killed. It appears he was galloped on, and that the base of his skull was fractured.

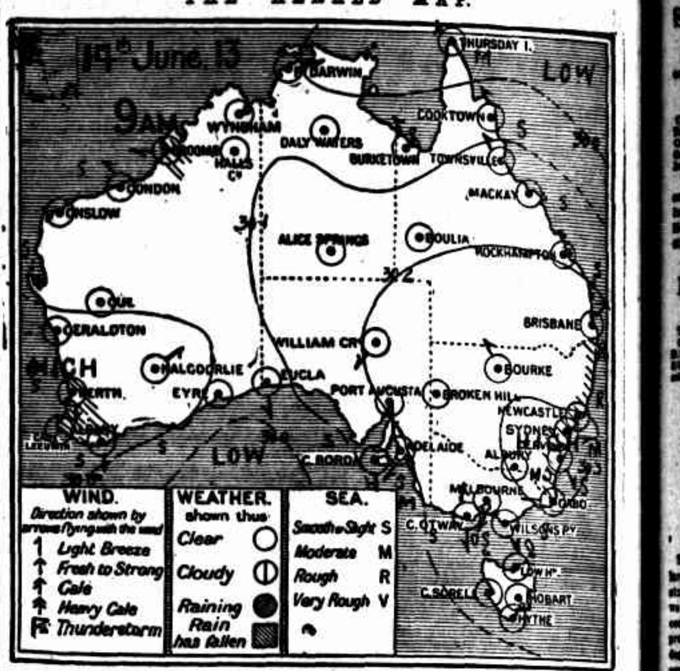
DEATH OF MR. W. KELLETT.

The death of Mr. William Kellett, which occurred at his late residence, Kildallon, Chatswood, on Friday last, removes another of this State's old and esteemed pioneers. In 1859, when the town of Mudgee was the centre of a great gold-mining industry, Mr. Kellett founded the business in that town, which is still carried on under the name of William Kellett and Sons, Limited. For more than half a century he was one of Mudgee's most prominent townsmen, being closely identified with its religious, political, and commercial development. For 40 years he was the superintendent of the Mudgee Methodist Sunday School, and during the greater part of that time he represented the Mudgee circuit at the annual Methodist conferences in Sydney. He was also well known for many years as the local accountant of the Mudgee branch of the Savings Bank of New South Wales.

Deceased was in his 78th year. He leaves two sons and two daughters, his wife having predeceased him seven years ago. Prior to the entrainment of the remains for Mudgee, where the interment will take place to-day, a service was conducted at the house by the Rev. J. H. Lewin, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Marsh and the Rev. Mr. Austin.

AUSTRALIAN WEATHER.

THE "HERALD" MAP.



The high pressure which has been controlling the weather over our State for the past day or two has diminished considerably, and has also lost in barometric values; the central readings only reach as high as 30.30 inches, and these are situated in the south-east districts of New South Wales. The Antarctic disturbance which has been hovering about the Leeuwin for the past week has now advanced eastward, and at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning was centrally situated over the Bight. With this distribution of pressure fine weather, with milder conditions, should rule generally.

INSECTS AS FOOD.

The food supply of savages includes some insects that are repulsive to civilised man. Mr. W. J. Rainbow, in a lecture on the subject delivered at the Australian Museum a couple of nights ago, said that the natives of New Caledonia collected large numbers of spiders, which they roasted and ate with much relish. In parts of South American Humboldt had stated that he had seen Indian children drag centipedes out of the earth and devour them. Beetles and beetle grubs were eaten by many people, civilised and savage, and the late Sir John La Forey, a noted epicure, had once declared that few dishes surpassed roasted grubs of the palm weevil. The aborigines of this country were exceedingly fond of many varieties of grubs, either raw or roasted. In Arabia and Turkey a species of beetle was, when fried in butter, esteemed as a great delicacy. Not only in ancient times were locusts regarded as valuable from a food point of view, but many people in Africa and Arabia still eat them, and declared that they were both strengthening and fattening. During the Boer War the gallant little garrison at Mafeking had added locusts to their bill of fare, serving them up in curry form, and by the aid of these insects they were enabled to eke out the provisions which were rapidly becoming exhausted, and so keep the flag flying. The destructive white ant was another insect which had contributed largely to the diet of man. The natives of Ceylon were fond of eating bees, as well as the honey produced, and some of the aborigines of New South Wales used to eat ants and ant-eggs, whilst butterflies were always a welcome addition to the larder.

A resident of Croydon complains of the late arrival of the morning trains from the western suburbs. Instead of things improving, he says, they are getting worse. On Saturday the 8.42 from Croydon to Sydney, "crawled along slowly at times, and seemed to be pulled up at out-of-the-way places. 'Quick' trains are invariably detained between Redfern and Sydney. We board certain trains expecting to be landed at Sydney within five minutes or so of the scheduled time, but when a train takes 40 minutes to go a 20 minutes' journey, it is more than bearable."

ACCOUNTANTS' DEGREES.

NEED OF LEGISLATION.

INVOKING THE COMMONWEALTH.

During the past week our columns have been largely taken up with a discussion upon the status of accountants. In the first instance, we pointed out the multiplicity of degree-conferring organisations, the fact that a large proportion of those who display so-called degrees have never earned them by the process of examination, that this is frightfully confusing to the investing public, who are their chief employers, and, further, that in existing conditions there would be an inevitable tendency towards the creation of still further degree-conferring bodies till the day arrived in which accountants' degrees would be as plentiful as those of doctors of dentistry in the United States, where they can be purchased for a few dollars. Our facts have in no wise been controverted, but certain explanations have been forthcoming which tend to account for the unsatisfactory state into which the profession has been allowed to drift. The root of the trouble appears to be the lack of a proper distinction between "public" and those who, for lack of a better title, may be classed as "private" accountants. As far as the investing public are concerned they are interested in "public" accountants only. If a private firm employs an accountant who is incompetent that is its affair, but if the shareholders of a public company secure the services of an accountant who is not qualified, then investors are apt to be prejudiced. Though we have little concern, therefore, with private accountants, they are largely responsible for the unenviable position in which the profession finds itself to-day. Some years ago, with a view of raising the status of accountancy, the public accountants formed two competing organisations, which afterwards amalgamated, joined with some interstate bodies of a similar kind, and formed a Federal Institute. For the most part members were public accountants. The foundation members certainly passed no examination, but with one or two exceptions they comprised the men highest up in the profession. Furthermore, they excluded non-practising or private accountants from their ranks. Other bodies grew up that did not do so. In Melbourne there is an organisation large in membership that has adopted a middle course. It says, in effect: "We will examine anyone who presents himself, and if he passes our test we will give him a certificate, but we will confer our degree only after the examinee has had a certain number of years' experience in a public accountant's office." It might have been wiser had the Sydney body adopted a similar policy. It would have lost nothing by doing so, and would have removed the impression of exclusiveness.

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE ACCOUNTANTS

There can be no doubt that the functions of a public and private accountant are not one and the same thing. It may be that in some cases the line between the two is a little hard to draw. Many private accountants are very efficient men. They are often entrusted with onerous duties, and are highly paid for their services. But this does not make them public accountants. They may even have passed difficult examinations, they may be full of book knowledge, and of practical knowledge, too, as far as their particular business is concerned. What they lack is that broad insight that only comes from experience, and from the analysis of the work of thousands of different bookkeepers in scores of different industries. To anyone conversant with the facts further elaboration is not necessary. It is true that some private accountants do a certain amount of public work in their spare time. Some are public accountants to-day, and private accountants to-morrow. These facts add to the complexity of the case. Much of the difficulty has arisen through the private accountants wishing that no distinction should be drawn between them and the public accountants. Yet, just as barristers from the nature of their duties belong to a higher branch of the legal profession than solicitors, so public accountants stand on a higher plane than private accountants. Had the latter when they commenced to organise themselves merely formed a body restricted to private accountants, and endeavoured to elevate that important branch of the profession, then all would have been well. This, however, was not done. The two branches are inextricably mixed, public and private, competent and incompetent, examined and unexamined, good and bad. To-day no one except the student knows who is who.

THE REMEDY.

There are three possible remedies. Either the State Parliaments might be approached with a view of securing legislative protection, or the Federal Parliament might be invoked through a medium of the State Parliaments, as provided for under the Constitution, or the various competing bodies might enter upon a struggle for supremacy on the lines of the survival of the fittest, waiting till the public became able to distinguish between the good and the bad. All three remedies are liable to objection. Were the State Parliament approached we should probably have different laws for each of the States, which would be a pity. Were the Federal Parliament approached it would probably be difficulty to get the various States of one mind, though were New South Wales and Victoria agreeable the other States would in all probability sooner or later fall into line. The third method is open to the objection that although it would probably work out all right in time, a generation or two would pass before the profession was on a satisfactory footing. Were legislation sought:—

1. An Act must provide for the registration of persons who are practising at the time the Act passes, as it would be impossible to get any legislation passed which would take from any person his means of livelihood.

2. Care must be taken to avoid the error made in New Zealand, where practically anyone applying could obtain registration under the Act.

3. Something must be done to prevent the formation of further bodies of accountants, and the creation of more accountancy degrees.

4. Provision must be made to enable existing accountancy bodies of any standing to continue, as it will not be possible to get the members of the leading bodies to agree to having their degrees taken from them, and being placed on the same level as members of a number of the recently formed institutes.

5. The newly-formed institutes must be watched carefully, otherwise they will strongly oppose the proposed legislation, and it would not take much opposition to prevent any bill from going through.

6. Another difficulty is to define exactly the scope of a public accountant's duties in order to enable it to be ascertained whether any particular person is a public accountant or

7. Another matter which will cause much discussion before it is finally settled is the treatment to be handed out to those members of existing bodies who are not public accountants or in the employ of public accountants.

8. Lastly, what restriction is to be placed upon persons sitting for the examinations?

"IS THERE A COMBINE?"

"Deeply Interested" writes:—

The matter in a nutshell is whether the accountancy profession in New South Wales is to be controlled and dominated by the one body, which not only refuses examination and admittance to commercial accountants, but arbitrarily refuses candidates to sit for an examination unless they are employed in (presumably) the office of members of their association. If this does not constitute a combine, what does? Much capital is made of the fact that a number of fellows of the other associations are not so, by examination. Have all the fellows in the original body qualified by exam. I venture to say that not 12 per cent. of them have. The aims of the association of which I am a member is primarily for the bringing together of accountants (not clerks) of mercantile and other institutions, for the higher education of one another, and the elevation of the profession as a whole, and not mainly for the tuition of auditors, which is virtually the object of the C.P.A.

Being unable to join the parent body through their conservativeness, it would be a dog in the manger policy to endeavour to obliterate associations of practical commercial accountants, and when the business world is cognisant of the facts it will certainly not redound to the credit of the parent body.

NOMINAL-SALARIED ARTICLED CLERKS

"Associate" writes:—

Business men, and the public as a community, should be greatly indebted to the article which appeared in your issue of the 9th instant.

The only surprise occasioned to the comparative few having full knowledge of the facts, is that such information has not been published long before.

That such a state of affairs should exist is scandalous—being both dangerous to the investing public, and unfair to those men who had ambition enough to study diligently and secure their diplomas by sheer merit.

It is of course obvious that any body forming requires a certain number of foundation members; but it is also obvious that it is not necessary for such members to comprise the number that they do, and, on the facts as stated by your correspondent, there was absolutely no necessity for the formation of some of the bodies already created, and which, as he asserts, are composed by the greater part of men who have not passed any examination whatever. If the majority of those so admitted were now forced to sit for the examinations at present conducted by the older bodies (or by their own bodies for that matter), I venture to submit the opinion that the examiners would, in many cases, find the results amusing. There are no doubt many able men included in the memberships of the societies, especially those who have been forced to earn their admission by examination; but, judging by the directory lists, such men would be in a decided minority.

The fact of the Australasian Corporation attempting by its restrictions to dictate terms as to who should be allowed to take up the profession, no doubt did accountancy generally a lot of harm. The policy adopted by that body seems to have been the means of providing its members with a good supply of nominal-salaried articled clerks, and no doubt formed an excellent excuse for the mushroom-like creation of its rivals. But when the laudable policy of the older (and one numerically much larger) bodies is taken into consideration, showing as it did then, and still does, encouragement to any students having pride enough to try and secure their degrees by properly qualifying, such excuse is largely negatived.

1. An old-established body admitting only men of proved character to its membership.

2. Before such admission requiring qualification by the passing of an examination of very high standard.

3. And at the same time throwing these examinations open to all ambitious students.

And the Victorian Institute is not the only body of standing that has been, and is, operating in this State. Who can say, therefore, that the continual creation of so-called accountancy bodies is either necessary or prudent.

CLOSE UNIONISM.

"Equity" writes:—

Sir,—The question of the status of accountants is by no means the simple matter some interested persons would have the general public believe. In this and in other States there have existed for some years, and still exist, coteries of accountants anxiously desirous of securing for themselves such a degree of exclusiveness and close unionism as would constitute a tyranny as regards the profession, and would not make for the good of the business community. In each of the States (with, I think, the exception of Tasmania) a few accountants originally met together and decided to form a close corporation which would issue degrees to its members, which degrees would probably influence the public in their favour, and bring them much business. These accountants admitted themselves as members of the corporation at the time without question, and quite without examination of any kind, but promptly slammed the door in the face of all other accountants who might be quite as well qualified as they themselves for admission in a similar manner. All future admission was to be by examination of a pretty stiff character, and this meant that men who had been accountants all their lives and were well on in years would have to study for months like youthful students again, furbishing up their knowledge in order to pass tests in theories which they, as practical men, with years of experience behind them, should not be expected to have to worry themselves about. The writer wonders how many of the gentlemen who originally formed themselves into the first Institute of Accountants that was started in this State could pass the examinations set by their own body. And, furthermore, because an accountant of years of varied experience is not practising independently, but holds a responsible position with a business firm or company, is surely no reason why he should not be given the opportunity of securing a degree in the same manner as the gentlemen in his profession who voluntarily constituted themselves founders of the institute. As a matter of fact, most of these public accountants depend largely on the skill and ability of those in their employ who most frequently have no letters after their names, and the ignorance and incompetence of some Fellows of Institute (the original institute) have sometimes amazed me. Monopolies are bad in the accountancy line as in most others. The practical man of honourable repute, with years of sterling work to his credit, is worth far more than the mere theorist all the time. Such a man should not be debarred from starting some day as a public accountant should he so desire, and he should be allowed to secure a degree on his satisfying the body of accountants he wishes to join of his competence and worthy character, to which his testimonials and personal references would testify.

ACCOUNTANT OR AUDITOR

"An Accountant" writes:—

Sir,—In your issue of to-day you comment on the writer's contention of "Auditor and the Doctor," and say: "We entirely disagree that all the work undertaken by an auditor should be personal, only that part need be personal which involves judgment and experience." With regard to the first portion of your comment I agree, but certainly not with the closing sentence. Accountancy and auditing are very wide apart. The duties of an accountant would be to see that the accounts in the books are correct: properly classified, so as to give a true state of profit and loss. Auditing would be to a thorough examination of revenue and expenditure, inspecting and checking all entries in the bank pass book, cash book, ledger, and vouchers relating to expenditure. These, I maintain, are the duties of the auditor, and should be personally performed by him, and not relegated to his irresponsible office boy or clerk. The shareholders in a company look to this being done, and pay for it.

RESTRICTING COMPETITION.

"Josephus" writes:—

Sir,—Your article dealing with accountants' degrees brings to mind recollections of similar articles dealt with so trenchantly by you a year or two back. Then I pointed out that the fundamental reason for inaugurating the original society here was to restrict competition. Naturally such an assertion will be repudiated by the founders. The move has had an opposite effect to that which it was intended to have, splitting, as it has done, the accountants and would-bes into many different bodies, some of which (owing to the natural law of "the survival of the fittest") have become extinct. The only proof left of their existence is their fossil-like diplomas, such fossils, like that of the "Pithecantropus erectus," serve only to show a stage of evolution, but to the community probably they are not as valuable.

Theoretical examination diplomas (university or otherwise) do not guarantee good auditors (who as a rule seldom examine the weakest spots for leakage in any business), therefore I cannot see how legislation can improve matters. The best recommendation for an auditor is his practical experience, and thorough inquiries should be made by firms before employing members of the profession on that account.

OUR RAILWAYS.

WHAT THE FARMERS WANT.

There are 36 separate motions relating to the management of the railways on the business paper of the annual conference of the Farmers and Settlers' Association of New South Wales, which is to open in Sydney on July 7.

It is desired that stock trains should be loaded lighter and should travel faster, and that where sheep vans or cattle waggons are booked a deposit of £1 per van or waggon should be paid, but that vans or waggons may be cancelled by giving at least three railway working days' notice to the Goods Manager, and the deposits refunded except 5s per truck, provided the goods manager and local stationmaster are satisfied that the explanations tendered are satisfactory. It is asked that in the case of special stock trains the engine be left on the train during the process of trucking and untrucking, for the purpose of moving trucks into position, and that, in the event of sheep and cattle trucks not being available for the removal of stock, ordinary trucks be made available for the purpose.

Those farmers interested in wheat production have a number of suggestions. They are of the opinion that lessees of grain sheds should be allowed to stock any cereal therein, and that any cereal sheds be allowed to be stacked on the stacking sites in the railway yards. It is urged that the Commissioner should instal weighbridges in all centres where at least 10,000 bags of wheat are produced, and that lessees of spaces in railway grain sheds should have the right after removing their grain to store other goods in the spaces leased by them during their tenancy. Such goods to be transmitted either to or from by rail, and to be non-inflammable and non-injurious to grain or railway property. The wheat farmers further set out that they deem it advisable that lessees in spaces in grain sheds should have power to sell wheat stored therein to local millers and that millers should be allowed to remove such wheat for grinding purposes. The Manilla representatives think that the Chief Commissioner should withdraw the charge of 6d a ton made last year for counting bags of wheat and other produce when being loaded and unloaded at railway stations.

Perhaps the most important suggestion is that the State Government be requested to provide more men and more money to enable the Chief Commissioner to hasten on and complete the duplication of the main lines with the least possible delay, and that the Government be further asked to provide more rolling stock on the railways, so that the producers may get their produce to market. It is also thought that the Government should institute a vigorous policy of railway construction and increased facilities in places where closer settlement has taken place. Other motions relative to the working of the railways are:—

That the Commissioner be asked to have second-class sleeping cars on all night passenger trains travelling a distance of 200 miles or over.

That the railway construction branch work, in conjunction with the Water Department, in making new stations and sidings, with a view of taking all earth from one hole, so as to supply water at station yards.

That the Commissioner take the risk of goods consigned to or from unattended sidings, as is done at attended sidings, and charge accordingly.

That the Railway Commissioner be asked to supply weight receipts free for all produce passing over his weighbridge.

That all weighbridges at country stations be attended by responsible railway officials in the grain season.

That an effort be made to secure a reduction in the freight on agricultural machinery.

That the freight on binder twine, bags, and oil be the same as for wheat.

That conference urge the Railway Department to construct grain sheds at country railway sidings where necessary.

That this conference urge that more liberal terms be granted to agricultural societies in the matter of guarantee of special trains than exist at the present time.

That the Commissioner be urged to provide chaff accommodation at the various chaff centres, and to allow more liberal terms where local associations are willing to meet them in the way of erecting sheds for the protection of chaff on railway lines.

That the Commissioner be asked to use his weighbridges for selling purposes, and that Government weights and measures inspector be empowered to test same.

That the Government be urged to proceed with the duplication of the main trunk railway lines with the least possible delay.

That local station masters should be advised by closing time each day what trucks are likely to be available the next day.

That the Commissioner arrange an approved system of allotting trucks to consignors.

That all orders for rabbit-proof netting supplied by the Government to P.P. boards be carried on rail at half-rates.

That the duplication and extension of country railway lines should be given preference over city tramways.

That the Commissioner should grant greater facilities in country districts in picking up and setting down passengers at crossings, sidings, and intermediate stations.

That all trunk lines be duplicated, and that this work and the building of new lines be done by contract.

That the Railway Commissioner should give better facilities for the sale and delivery of produce at the Sydney goods railway station.

That the Railway Commissioner be asked to make more and better provision for the handling of fertilisers.

That when trucks have been ordered and do not arrive the Railway Department should provide some means of storage and covering until trucks arrive.

That the Commissioner be approached with the following objects in view:—The issue of a drover's pass with consignments of one truck of stock, and provision of more suitable accommodation for drovers.

That a protest be made against the proposed increase in fares and freights on the railway.

COMMERCIAL.

VICTORIAN TRADE CONDITIONS.

The approach of stocktaking is having its usual influence, and trade in Victoria is at present of only moderate extent, pending the turn of the half-year. The tightness of money (according to "Dun's Gazette") continues to be felt in country trading circles, but apart from this the position is not an unsatisfactory one, as the farming districts have enjoyed the benefit of better grain crops than last season, the autumn has been favourable to the dairying industry, and prospects for the new season in all rural industries are of the most promising nature. The restriction of imports which has been in progress for some little time is beginning to produce some effects on the position of stocks, and this is expected to become more apparent as the winter advances. Amongst the wholesale houses the softgoods trade has continued rather sluggish, the second half of the autumn season not having come up to the experience of the first half. The ironmongery houses are experiencing a moderate demand, but trade in heavy lines is not of a very satisfactory character. Business in timber and other building materials is of moderate extent. A steady demand for grocery goods is going on, but the competition in the retail trade in town is a disturbing feature.

SOME SUGAR STATISTICS.

Some explanation of the low price of sugar abroad, granulated first marks being quoted at Hamburg at 12/1 per cwt, compared with 15/1 a year ago, and 12/7 two years ago, is furnished by the latest circular of Messrs. William Connal and Co., of Glasgow. According to that publication, in consequence of Cuban sugar being more firmly held, stocks in Cuba have accumulated to over 500,000 tons—a figure never formerly reached—and meltings by refiners have meantime been reduced to 40,000 tons per week, as the grocery trade decline to hold any surplus stocks, until the duty question has been settled. The reaping of the Cuban crop makes rapid progress, and with a continuance of favourable weather the full estimate of 2,300,000 tons may ultimately be attained. The sowing of the next beetroot crops has now been almost completed, and under comparatively favourable weather conditions. A moderate reduction in the area placed under cultivation is reported, probably on the average 3 to 5 per cent., but it is still too early to obtain accurate information. Visible supplies at the end of April were 3,864,000 tons, against 2,763,000 tons in 1912, and 3,222,380 tons in 1911.

THE NICKEL SUPPLY.

Sixty per cent. of the world's output of nickel comes from the Sudbury district, Ontario, Canada. Recently, it is reported, the Rothschilds purchased some valuable nickel-bearing lands in that district. At Sudbury the ore is mined and treated. It is first roasted in open-air heaps to expel sulphur and then smelted into a matte of nickel and copper. A great deal of this matte is shipped to Wales for final separation of the metals. The balance of nickel produced in the world nearly all comes from Caledonia, but the Ontario deposit is superior both in quality and extent. Nickel is necessary in the making of armour plates, and it has been suggested more than once that Canada, by limiting its output to Great Britain, would exercise a very potent influence on the peace of the world.

CONTROL OF ARGENTINE MEAT.

Some further particulars of the attempt to obtain control of the Argentine meat trade are given by the London "Daily Telegraph." "Lately the public have been treated," that journal writes, "to rosy accounts of a great fall in the price of Argentine beef, consequent upon the huge supplies that are arriving and are on the water for the English market. It is argued that this ample provision must inevitably tend to decrease wholesale, and subsequently retail, prices. As a matter of fact, there is very little likelihood of any reduction in prices for more than a short time. Up to about September last the seven great firms interested in the Argentina chilled beef trade had a working arrangement whereby the shipments to this country were regulated. The firms concerned were:—La Plata (owned by the Swift Beef Company), La Blanca (owned by the Morris and Armour Companies), the Smithfield and Argentine Meat Company (Ltd.), (English), River Plate Fresh Meat Company (Ltd.), (English), Messrs. James Nelson and Sons (Ltd.), (English), Sansinena's Frozen Meat Company (Argentina firm), Frigorifico Argentineo (Argentine firm). About two years ago there was great competition between these companies, meat was very low in price, and all were losing money heavily. Subsequently they came to terms, and undertook the shipping of certain proportional quantities. This arrangement went on for about a year, when developments arose, and the working agreement was disregarded. The English and Argentine concerns are believed to be in a thoroughly healthy state, and strong enough to withstand opposition, but in the meantime all the seven companies are suffering. Meat has depreciated 1½d per lb, which means that on the beef arriving in this country from the River Plate there will be a loss of something like £500,000 per month. Apparently an attempt is being made to crush out the smaller companies.

"It is estimated that about 20,000 quarters per week were shipped to Great Britain in May at a dead loss to the exporters, and in addition the home stock was seriously depleted. The public will enjoy the benefit of lower prices, and the advertisement is likely to put money into the pockets of the companies which survive the competition. A well-known authority has stated that there are far too many butchers' shops in the country, and that some of them would have to close their doors. The average wholesale price of chilled Argentine forequarters during the past twelve months has been from /3½ to /3⅞ per lb, and for hindquarters /4⅜ per lb, but during May it was expected the wholesale price would probably average from /2¾ to /3⅛. If the market maintains the present price the butcher will be doing well, but a great deal of his profit will be lost on the high price he will have to pay in the market for mutton and lamb. Competition will bring about a temporary reduction in price, but it is for the public and the trade to realise that the meat industry of England will in the future be largely in the hands of Americans."

FRENCH DEMAND FOR WHEAT.

Concerning the demand from France for wheat, which has been a feature of the season, Messrs. H. N. Bathgate and Co., of Bristol, wrote on May 9:—"This demand has taken a good many people by surprise, but, as a matter of fact, it ought to have been expected. Ever since the beginning of the season we have repeatedly referred to the overestimate of the French crop, and the fact that such a great deal of it was unfit for milling. In our half-yearly review of January 2 we stated that the opinion of a number of French correspondents pointed to a serious shortage in sound wheat, and we then stated that some estimates of the wheat fit for milling were as low as 30,000,000qr, while others ran as high at 36,000,000qr. Either estimate would show a large deficiency against requirements." Messrs. Bathgate were the first to call attention to the low milling quality of much of the German wheat crop. This was subsequently confirmed by official information, which put the crop at 85 per cent. milling and 15 per cent. feed corn. The German Minister of Agriculture, however, has not published an estimate of what is the percentage of the two sorts in an average year.

At Darling Harbour on Saturday 2242 tons of wheat and 118 tons of flour were manifested to arrive.

The amount of wool manifested to arrive at Darling Harbour on Saturday totalled 666 bales.

The wheat market was steady but inactive yesterday. For a South Australian cargo of January shipment 38/4½ was asked, for a New South Wales cargo of March shipment 38/3 was asked, and for a Victorian cargo of May shipment 38/ was asked.

Liverpool futures were quoted July 7/5⅝, October 7/4¼, December 7/4⅛ per cental.

Chicago futures were quoted July 91⅛c to 92⅛c, September 90⅝c to 91⅛c per bushel.

THE RUSSIAN CROP.

Reports regarding the Russian crop are generally satisfactory, and there is a prospect of a fair to average yield.

PRODUCE.

BUTTER STILL ADVANCING.

Another advance is to be made in the wholesale quotation for butter this morning. It was decided on Saturday by the controlling factors in the market to increase the value by 8 per cwt, thus making the price of choicest grocers' brands 120/ per cwt on the store floor, or 122 per cwt delivered in boxes. Agents do not anticipate any difficulty in maintaining quotations at the new level as production throughout the Commonwealth is declining at a rapid rate. Since May 29 wholesale prices have moved up 26/ per cwt.

RAILWAY MARKET.

A FEATURELESS SALE.

Nothing of interest occurred during the sales at the Redfern Railway Markets on Saturday morning. There was, perhaps, a slightly larger number of buyers present than is usual on a Saturday, but no briskness of competition was apparent from their presence. A substantial amount of wheaten chaff was offered. Bidding, however, was exceedingly disjointed, resulting in the passing of most of the consignments. As an example of the listlessness of the market the following incident may be quoted. A consignment of lucerne chaff from Wallangarra was offered, but bidding failed to go higher than 5/10. The truck was passed, the reserve price being 7/ per cwt. The best consignment of lucerne hay in the yard had to be passed at 6/8. Sales effected varied from 4/6 to 5. About 100 bags of maize were disposed of at 4/.

Produce placed in position for sale totalled 59 trucks, and consisted of:—Hay 2, chaff 34, maize 7, potatoes 6, pumpkins 1.

The following consignments were manifested to arrive:—Chaff 60 trucks, hay 10, potatoes 12, wheat 4, maize 2, pumpkins 1.

Sales effected were:—

Wheaten Chaff.—Raymond, Forbes (12806), 5/1; ex Forbes (9851), 1/5; ex Alannain (17234), 3/10; Allen, Ariah Park (2225), 4/6; Wells Bros., Springfield (9811), 111 bags 4/7, 15 bags 4/8; (2811), 4/8; Meurant and Blake, [illegible] (7117), 4/10; Koth, Uranquinty (5822), 4/5 per cwt.

Lucerne Chaff.—Robinson, West Tamworth (18131), dust 4/, chaff (with all faults) at any 5/ per cwt.

Lucerne Hay.—Johnson, [illegible] (18228), 5/; Kerch, Mudgee (745), 4/6; A. J. Cox, Mudgee (9244), brown 4/6; R. A. Lindsay, [illegible] (15796), 4/8; Thibault, West Tamworth (14160), 28 bags threshings 4/5 per cwt.

Maize.—Ex Wallangarra (9851), 4/; Galbraith, Wallangarra (17142), 10 bags, 4/ per bushel.

STOCK TRUCKINGS.

The following trucks have been ordered for the forthcoming sales:—For June 19, 593 sheep vans and 327 cattle waggons; and for June 23, 107 sheep vans and 203 cattle waggons.

MINING.

A DISTURBED WEEK.

COPPER AND SILVER STOCKS SLUGGISH.

ARDLETHANS COMMAND ATTENTION.

The chief features of the past week were the continued sluggishness of the copper and silver-lead-zinc sections of the market, and the consequent concentration of attention on the Ardlethan tin field.

The cause of the slackness in the former sections—copper and silver—was clearly attributable to the weakness of the London metal market, and the disturbed condition of the London Stock Exchange. The "hammering" of several prominent members of that body indicates a period of great unrest. This had its effect upon share values, and was reflected on the Australian Stock Exchanges.

A glance at the mean metal quotations ruling last Thursday, June 12, and a comparison with those 12 months ago, is interesting, for it shows that the managers of Australian mines producing the industrial metals have no cause to complain (except copper-smelters) of the price at which they are called upon to produce them. The position of copper is the least satisfactory. On Thursday last the "spot" quotation was £65/10/, and three months forward the same. Twelve months ago the spot price was £78/5/, and the three months £78/12/. In the case of lead, the position is very satisfactory. Last Thursday saw the spot price standing at £20/5/, as against £17/19/4½ a year ago. The tin-producing mines are also well situated. Last Thursday the "spot" and three months' price for tin was £208/5/. A year ago it was £207/5/, and £197/5/ respectively. A gratifying feature of Saturday's cable was the announcement that copper had recovered 7/6 to £65/17/6, and that lead had firmed another 2/6 to £20.

If the mines on the Ardlethan tin field maintain an average value all round of, say, 5 per cent. of metallic tin to the ton of ore, the outlook for them is encouraging, with the price of the metal ranging from £2 per unit upwards. It is interesting to learn that the Government has at last been seized of the importance of the developments on the Ardlethan field. It is stated by the Minister for Mines that he has received a communication from Mr. J. E. Davis (Director-General of Public Works), intimating that, in view of the report of the Government Geologist as to the probable duration of the tin fields at Ardlethan, approval has been given to the undertaking of the survey of a dam for the supply of water for mining purposes, and also for the sinking of a well for a domestic supply. Accordingly directions have been issued for the survey of the dam to be put in hand at once, whilst tenders will be invited at an early date for sinking a shaft for the domestic water supply.

The unfortunate strike amongst the copper miners on the Cloncurry field over the contract versus day labour question looks as if it was going to extend to the Mount Oxide and other mines now in an important developmental stage, and is having a depressing effect upon share market operations.

The market on Saturday was exceedingly stagnant. The business recorded was exceedingly small—less than has been recorded for a long time past. In these circumstances, an analysis of the transactions recorded would be of no importance.

MINING NOTES.

The manager of Stanthorpe Tin, Limited, advises that clean-up (No. 5) has been completed, and that 25cwt of tin oxide were secured for 96 hours' sluicing; also that good rains have fallen, and that he is now working two shifts full time.

The Broken Hill Proprietary Company, Limited, has received a cable message, dated London, June 12, giving the following quotations:—Silver, 2/3 5-16 (official quotation); lead, £20/7/6 (buyers' price); and shares, £1/15/9 (buyers' price); spelter, £22/10/ (buyers' price); and copper, £65/10/ (buyers' price).

The Queensland gold output for May totalled 23,509oz, or a decrease of 9267oz, compared with the corresponding month of the previous year. The output for the first five months of 1913 was 111,662oz, or 30,903oz less than for the like period of last year. Last month £1446 was paid in calls, whilst the distribution for the first five months of the year was £66,431, or £12,340 less than the record for the corresponding five months of 1912.

In connection with the proposed amalgamation of the Hercules and Primrose mines in Tasmania, Mr. P. S. Morse, manager Cockle Creek, made the suggestion that wet concentration should be adopted for the Hercules ore. By this means the lead and zinc could be separated, and the greater part of the zinc kept out of the smelting furnace. Following upon this suggestion, steps were taken to test the ore, a parcel being submitted for laboratory treatment to the Minerals Separation and De Bavay's Processes, Australia, Proprietary, Limited. This company's experiments have shown that the ore is commercially amenable to treatment, and a bulk test is now proposed, to secure more definite evidence on the subject. The laboratory experiment was carried out on ore containing 9 per cent. lead, 28.2 per cent. zinc, and 14 per cent. iron. The result was that 40 per cent. of the original ore was recovered as a concentrate, containing 4.25 per cent. lead and 50.1 per cent. of zinc, while of the balance, 41.9 per cent. was made into a lead-iron product, containing 15.7 per cent. lead, 15.4 per cent. zinc, and 22.9 per cent. iron. The report of the company states:—"The zinc concentrates are obviously a commercial product as they stand. The lead-iron product requires further investigation, but conceivably it might meet a ready market in its present state. We are experimenting further with this ore in the laboratory."

ARDLETHAN TIN FIELD.

ARDLETHAN, Saturday.

At the White Crystal main shaft good progress is being made. It has been timbered up and sunk to 33ft. Crosby's adit is in 86ft. The country is changing into fine-grained porphyry.

Stackpool's east lode shaft is down 21ft, with no change.

In the claim pegged by J. Sands one mile north of the Big Bygoo, ore has been found similar to that in Thom's shaft on the Big Bygoo, carrying 84 per cent. of tin oxide.

In the Homeward Bound splendid progress is being made, another drive in the north end of the shaft at a depth of 70ft revealing better ore than before found.

On Drumlish Hill picked samples assayed from 20 to 45 per cent. of metallic tin, and active prospecting operations are proceeding on other known lodes of good tin.

WESTERN AUSTRALIAN MINES.

KALGOORLIE, Saturday.

Bewick, Moreing, and Co. have cabled to London:—"Transvaal mine, No. 4 level, cut reef in main east crosscut from 16 to 20 feet from shaft. Average value 24/ per ton. Driving south commenced, from nought to four feet, assaying 32/ per ton over 42 inches."

BIG BYGOO, LIMITED.

The mine manager's report for fortnight ended 13th instant is as follows:—

Western workings:—Prospecting shaft in country sunk 21ft, total depth 28ft. Progress has been retarded owing to the intrusion of a hard porphyry bar in the east end of shaft, but is now, however, passing out to the east. The other portion of the shaft is in good sinking country, and at times carries a trace of tin.

Eastern workings:—No. 2 shaft: Crosscut east at 40ft extended 9ft, total distance from shaft 13ft, and is improving both in quality and appearance. There are at present over 2ft of solid ore in the face, rising from the bottom of the drive to over half-way up the face, of better quality than anything yet cut in this crosscut. A bulk sample taken from here assayed 15 per cent. metallic tin.

No. 3 shaft sunk 20ft, total depth 46ft. The sinking is in clean picking country, and does not carry tin. As soon as the shaft attains a depth of 50ft a crosscut east will be put in, and in about 10ft or 12ft of driving should cut the same formation as that in No. 2 shaft crosscut. A sample of the fine rubbly ore lying on the dump has been assayed for a yield of 10 per cent.

FRECKLES GONE.

"SIMPLE REMEDY FROM THE CHEMIST REMOVED THEM," SAYS SOCIETY LADY.

"The best skin specialists told me that nothing would remove my freckles, and that I would carry them to my grave," said a well-known society lady, "but I fooled them all with a new drug, telmo—double strength—that can be obtained from Messrs. F. Longmore and Co., Melbourne, and leading chemists, which cleared my skin and gave me a fine complexion."

The action of telmo is really remarkable, for when applied at night many of the freckles disappear entirely by morning, and the rest have begun to fade. An ounce is usually all that is needed, even for the worst case.

Be sure to ask your chemist for the double strength telmo, as this is sold under a guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.

TO THE ELECTORS OF DRUMMOYNE.

As you are aware, I have publicly announced myself as a Candidate for your suffrages at the next State Election. I have also informed the local Association that I am willing to abide by the result of the selection vote. It therefore depends upon you whether I shall again have an opportunity of re-entering public life. I presume that there will be no attempt to hurry on the selection vote, as the new rolls are not likely to be completed for some time to come. In the interval I sincerely trust that Liberal voters will enrol themselves as members of the local Association, in order that the selection vote polled may bear some reasonable proportion to the total number of Liberals in the constituency. A small poll reduces the system to a farce, and cannot be satisfactory either to the selected or the non-selected candidate. In the meantime I hope to address the Electors at the most important centres of the district. My next address will be delivered at the Masonic Hall, Drummoyne, SATURDAY NEXT, June 21st, at 8 o'clock.

W. M'MILLAN,
79 York-street.

SPORTING.

THE TURF.

Entries close at 4 p.m. to-day with the secretary, Mr. W. L. Davis, for the half-dozen events on the card for the Canterbury Park June Meeting, on the 28th inst, and for which 600 sovs prize money has been provided, equally distributed.

The weights for the Prince of Wales Meeting of the Rosehill Racing Club are promised this forenoon.

The Newcastle Jockey Club's postponed King's Birthday Meeting will be held this afternoon, and the bill of fare to be discussed foreshadows interesting sport. Metropolitan sportsmen, who intend to assist at the reunion, can reach the racecourse in ample time by the trains leaving the Central Railway Station for the north at 6.45, 7.55, and 9.10 a.m., while a special tram service runs between the Newcastle Railway Station and Broadmeadows. The return trip can be made the same evening by the southward-bound trains which start from the coaly city at 5.20 and 6.50 p.m.

The Australian Trotting Club holds a meeting at Victoria Park this afternoon, and, judging from the number of entrants, among whom are some of the best track performers in Australia, the sport should be well worth witnessing. The track is good going, and the general arrangements up to the customary standard. A special tram service lands visitors at the racecourse gates, and the ordinary traffic to Zetland will also be available. The first event is timed to start at 2.15 p.m.

The La Perouse gelding Monsieur, who, at the Rosehill First May Meeting, showed a good turn of speed by running second to Busra in the race over the battens, scored his first success in that branch of the game at Warwick Farm on Saturday. The field was reduced to seven, and the ex-New Zealander Fuss, who gained a winning bracket over the light timber at the Canterbury Park May Meeting, was the popular selection, with Monsieur next fancied. The favourite was tailed off in the early stages, and though she made up some of her leeway in the last half-mile, she finished a very poor third. Derale attempted to win all the way, and, with Monsieur as escort, set the pace until the last obstacle was crossed; then the son of La Perouse cut him down, and scored easily at the end. King Lucre came to grass over the obstacle three furlongs from home.

Scottish Boy, who won the Waters Handicap at the Gawler (S.A.) meeting, on Saturday, was bred by the Randwick trainer J. Burton, and is by Scottish King (son of Wallace) from Hautesse, by Haut Brion imp.).

The Farm Stakes at Warwick Farm on Saturday provided the most exciting finish of the afternoon. The field was one short of a dozen, and there was most money for the Riding Master gelding Manege, the best-backed of the others being Go Alone and Lurida. Red Velvet, Horse Marine, and Chariot formed the leading division to the home turn, where the favourite and Go Alone joined in, and a little further on Colbine put in an appearance. Chariot retired inside the distance, where Red Velvet was in charge, but a few strides further on Colbine and Go Alone closed upon the Rouge Croix colt, with Manege finishing very fast, and Colbine, on the rails, managed to get through in time to win by a very narrow margin from Red Velvet, Go Alone, and Manege, who were separated by very short intervals. The winner, who showed a good turn of speed in the Welter Handicap at the Canterbury Park May Meeting, is by Collinson (son of Marvellous) from Woodbine, whose name does not appear in the A.S.B.

The programme for the Prince of Wales Birthday Meeting of the Newcastle Jockey Club demands the attention of owners and trainers of racehorses to-morrow, when nominations close with the secretary, Mr. J. Grisdale. The five events on the card carry in the aggregate 650 sovs prize money, of which 150 sovs each goes to the Prince of Wales Handicap, Birthday Handicap, and Holiday Handicap; while the Pace Welter and Novice Handicap are each endowed with 100 sovs.

The Simmer colt Warradonga was the best-fancied of the fifteen competitors that took the track for the Liverpool Mile at Warwick Farm on Saturday, and there was also good money for the Murillo filly, Multum in Parvo, but only five others were really marketable, among them being Pensant, Webimble, and Dion. There was nothing, however, had a chance with Dion, who, practically, made all the running, and, drawing away in the straight, won with ridiculous ease by a dozen lengths from Salarino, who had paged him all the way. Dion was bred at the Havilah stud by Mr. Hunter White, under whose livery he earned a few winning brackets, but was recently purchased by his present owner, Mr. A. D. Swanson. He is by Louis XIII. (imp.) from The Muse, by Cranbrook from Calliope, by Welcome Jack from Satanella, by Panic, and was piloted by the New Zealand horseman C. Emerson. The favourite was well placed for the greater part of the trip, but could only get third to Dion and Salarino.

The principal event on the flat at Williamstown (Vic.) on Saturday—the Point Cook Handicap—was captured by the St. Clair-bred Brasseur, by Maltster from Wild Rose, by Melos from La Vivandiere, by Marvellous (imp.). Brasseur's victory was a welcome one to the ringmen.

The Juvenile Handicap at Warwick Farm on Saturday was responsible for a field of 18, and backers were well on the mark in their selection of Spurn, who was one of the first to get going, and was not afterwards headed. Best Scot and Tranquillian were the best backed of the others, and they escorted the winner all the way. Spurn, who was bred by Mr. H. S. Thompson, is by Ayr Laddie (imp.) from Scornful, by Bill of Portland (imp.) from Tea Rose, by Martini Henry, and this was her initial success under colours.

Mr. J. Underhill, secretary, Associated Racing Clubs, invites entries up to 5 p.m. to-day for the pony and galloway meeting, to be held at Rosebery on the 23rd inst. For the seven events on the card £640 prize money has been provided, of which £100 each goes to the Novice, Flying, Fourteen-two, and Rosebery Handicaps, and 80 sovs. to each of the other items.

The Warwick Handicap on Saturday attracted a dozen contestants, and J. Barden's stable furnished the favourite, N.S.W., while the ex-New Zealander, Sir Artegal, Strathroyale, and Prince Flavus were the only others backed for money. War Star (who was one of the first to find his legs), Strathroyale, and N.S.W. formed the leading division until three furlongs from home, where the favourite had the measure of the opposition, and, drawing right away from the distance, scored in hollow fashion. N.S.W. was bred at the Mungie Bundie stud, by Mr. John M'Donald, and is by San Francisco (imp.) from Vigil, by Trenton from Nightmare, by Panic, and is consequently a near relative to the renowned Wakeful.

Carbine's imported son, Pistol, was represented by a couple of winners at Gawler (S.A.) on Saturday, when Pistol King captured the Gawler Cup, and Londonderry the Roseworthy Welter.

For the third time in succession favourites were successful at Warwick Farm on Saturday, the last of the series being the three-year-old filly Minuo, who hails from C. Gallimore's stable. The field was only one short of two dozen, and the Merv gelding Kinetic was a staunchly-backed second favourite. Minuo was soon out in front, and remained there to the finish, though she had rather a close call from Tipple as they neared the judge's line of vision. Minuo was bred at the Brocklesby stud by Dr. Spooner Hart, and is by Misty II. (son of Petronel) from Minerva II. (half-sister to the Epsom winner, Maximize), by Metal (imp.) from Georgina, by Moorthorp (imp.), and was purchased as a yearling for 105 gns.

The New South Wales Trotting Club holds a meeting on the Epping racecourse to-morrow afternoon, when the customary means of reaching the convincing ground will be available.

ASCOT RACING CLUB.

OUTSIDERS WIN IN THE MUD.

Winners were difficult to find on Saturday at the Mascot course, which was very heavy after recent rains. Good racing was seen, but the times recorded were naturally slow.

The surprises of the afternoon were provided by Miss Field, in the Fourteen-two Handicap; Wisdom, who won the Fourteen-one; Inverell, in the Flying Welter; and Shaftesbury, in the High-weight Handicap. Sanlenda turned out twice. In the High-weight Handicap he failed to get placed, and in the Ascot Handicap he was well beaten by Simile Maid, after having led until the straight was reached.

WARWICK FARM RACING CLUB.

JUNE MEETING.

DION WINS LIVERPOOL MILE.

N.S.W. THE WARWICK HANDICAP.

The weather prospects for the Warwick Farm June meeting were by no means encouraging on Saturday morning, when a few light showers fell in the city, but there were gleams of sunshine towards midday, and, though still threatening, a fine afternoon was experienced. On the journey to the "Farm" there was ample evidence of the recent heavy rainfall in swollen creeks and sheets of water in the paddocks, and the racecourse shared in the general dampness; but, though heavy, and in some places very sloppy, the track was sound going, and the only mishap was a harmless fall in the race over obstacles. Considering the unpromising weather outlook and the counter attractions nearer the city, the attendance was a good one, and the arrangements for the comfort of visitors were up to the customary standard. The stipendiary stewards had not much to engage their attention. For allowing his mount to run over to the inner rail immediately after passing the point known as the "false rail," and interfering with Best Scot and Tranquillian, G. Whitehall, the rider of Spurn, was cautioned. Owing to the late hour at which proceedings commenced the light was beginning to fade when the last race was run, and for the first couple of furlongs it was very difficult to distinguish the colours. The general arrangements were ably supervised by the secretary, Mr. H. B. Dandé. Details:—

HURDLE RACE, a handicap of 75 sovs., second horse 10 sovs from the prize.—About 2m.

Messrs. Ward Bros.' br g Monsieur, by La Perouse—Minerva, 6yrs, 9st 3lb (F. Moore) 1
Mr. H. Fielder's b g Derale, 5yrs, 9st 7lb (G. Phillips) 2
Mr. H. S. Wilson's b m Fuss, aged, 9st 9lb (J. Hanslow) 3

Other starters: King Lucre, 10st 7lb (J. Bowerman); Light Brigade, 9st 10lb (J. Collitt); Eclat, 9st 9lb (Clifton); Nonda, 9st (E. M'Gee).

Betting: 5 to 2 v Fuss, 7 to 2 each v Monsieur and Derale, 6 to 1 each v Light Brigade and Eclat, 14 to 1 v King Lucre, 20 to 1 v Nonda.

Derale moved off in front, while King Lucre got badly away. Going along the back stretch Derale opened up a gap of four lengths from Monsieur, after whom came Light Brigade, Eclat, Nonda, and King Lucre, with Fuss bringing up the rear. Save that the gaps between the leading division became greater, there was no change as they raced along the river side, and Derale passed the stand for the first time eight lengths from Monsieur, who was a dozen lengths in advance of King Lucre, after whom came Eclat and Light Brigade, with Fuss and Nonda four lengths away. Save that Eclat rain into third place, there was no change as they raced past the homestead, along the back, and along the river side to the bend, where King Lucre fell, and Derale was still leading by a couple of lengths from Monsieur, with Eclat and Fuss 15 lengths away. Derale showed the way over the final obstacle to Monsieur, who, on landing, ran past the son of Playbill, and beat him home by four lengths. Fuss was 20 lengths away third, and 10 lengths in advance of Eclat, who was succeeded by Nonda and Light Brigade. Time, 3m 54s.

FARM STAKES, a handicap of 75 sovs, second horse 10 sovs. and third horse 5 sovs. from the prize. For all horses that have never won a race exceeding the value of 50 sovs. at the time of starting. Lowest weight 7st. 1m.

Mr. J. Sloane's b or br g Colbine, by Collinson—Woodbine, 6yrs, 7st 5lb (J. Townsend) 1
Mr. E. E. A. Oatley's b c Red Velvet, 3yrs, 7st 10lb (W. Connors) 2
Mr. G. Harriott's b g Go Alone, aged, 7st 3lb (C. Emerson) 3

Other starters: Sinceritas, 8st (W. Barnett); Lingo, 7st 11lb (J. Lightfoot); Manege, 7st 11lb, inc. 1lb over (W. Lillyman); Lurida, 7st 8lb (G. Pinn); Horse Marine, all. 7lb, car. 6st 11lb (J. Conway); Chariot, alld. 5lb, car. 6st 13lb (A. Thomas); Malter, 7st (A. Ferguson); Mothers' Day, alld. 7lb, car. 6st 7lb (J. Reynolds).

Betting: 3 to 1 v Manege, 4 to 1 v Go Alone, 5 to 1 v Lurida, 7 to 1 v Lingo, 8 to 1 v each Mothers' Day and Chariot, 10 to 1 v Colbine, 12 to 1 v others.

Red Velvet was smartest off the mark, but at the end of the first furlong was joined by Chariot, after whom came Horse Marine, Mothers' Day, and Sinceritas. A little further on Chariot took charge, and showed the way along the back from Horse Marine, Red Velvet, Mothers' Day, and Sinceritas. When they reached the half-mile post Horse Marine ranged up alongside Chariot, and they were followed at length intervals by Red Velvet and Sinceritas, with Go Alone and Mothers' Day at the head of the others. Rounding the bend Red Velvet ran up level with Horse Marine and Chariot, and Red Velvet swung into the straight, followed by Chariot, Go Alone, Manege, Colbine, and Horse Marine. Red Velvet was still leading at the distance, inside of which Colbine, Go Alone, and Manege closed upon him, and a well-fought-out engagement from the half-distance resulted in a head win for Colbine from Red Velvet, who had Go Alone at his girths. Manege was a neck away, and four lengths in advance of Sinceritas, Chariot, Mothers' Day, Horse Marine, and Lingo, who were clustered, with Malter last. Time, 1m 47s.

LIVERPOOL MILE, a handicap of 100 sovs., second horse 20 sovs. and third horse 10 sovs. from the prize.

Mr. A. D. Swanson's b g Dion, by Louis XIII. (imp.)—The Muse, 5yrs, 7st 4lb (C. Emerson) 1
Mr. T. J. Price's ch c Salarino, 3yrs, 8st 5lb (J. Lightfoot) 2
Mr. Harry Nicholl's br c Warradonga, 3yrs, 8st 9lb (W. Lillyman) 3

Other starters: Manakau, 7st 12lb (H. Curran); Brown Bracken, 7st 9lb (J. Stonnill); Webimble, 7st 8lb (J. Townsend); Firm, 7st 9lb, inc. 3lb over (P. Maher); Lucky Jack, allowed 7lb, carried 6st 12lb (A. Ferguson); May Dance, 7st 5lb, inc. 3lb over (W. O'Sullivan); Elfbolt, allowed 7lb, carried 6st 9lb (A. Callinan); Multum in Parvo, 7st, inc. 2lb over (R. Wallace); Moville, 6st 12lb, inc. 1lb over (A. Thomas); Pensant, 6st 11lb (G. Pinn); Lord Mervyn, 6st 7lb (N. Russell); Maygar, 6st 7lb (G. Meddick).

Betting: 7 to 4 v Warradonga, 5 to 2 v Multum in Parvo, 7 to 1 each v Pensant and Webimble, 8 to 1 v Dion, 10 to 1 each v Firm and Salarino, 20 to 1 each v Moville and others.

When they had settled into their strides Dion took charge, and with Salarino almost on terms passed the seven furlongs post with Warradonga and Firm next at the head of a clustered lot. Nearing the six furlongs post Dion drew out, and was followed at length intervals by Multum in Parvo, Warradonga, and Firm. Passing the five furlongs post Salarino was showing slightly in advance of Dion, and then at intervals of two lengths came Multum in Parvo, Firm, Warradonga, and Moville. Rounding the bend Dion resumed command from Salarino, Firm, and Multum in Parvo, and so they swept into the straight, but at the distance Dion drew right away, and increasing his advantage from that point won by a dozen lengths from Salarino, who was a neck in front of Warradonga. Firm was half a length away fourth, followed by Webimble, Elfbolt, Multum in Parvo, and Maygar, while Brown Bracken acted as whipper in. Time, 1m 45s.

Spurn, Ostea, and Best Scot were smartest off the mark, and Spurn showed the way past the half-mile post, and round the bend, with Best Scot, Tranquillian, Ostea, and Lord Castlereagh in pursuit. Without change they swung into the straight, and holding her own in the run home, Spurn won by a length from Best Scot, who was two and a half lengths in advance of Tranquillian. War Star and Strathroyale jumped off in front, and passed the judge's box closely followed by N.S.W., Prince Flavus, and Kilmeadon, with Locrine last, and so they turned out of the straight and ran past the homestead, but going along the back Strathroyale dropped back, and N.S.W. moved up to within a length and a half of War Star, while Harley and Locrine were whipping in. War Star showed the way past the five furlongs post a neck in advance of N.S.W., who was followed at intervals of two lengths by Prince Flavus, Strathroyale, Kilmeadon, and Sir Artegal. Along the river side War Star held command to the three furlongs post, where N.S.W. got her head in front. War Star being four lengths in front of Strathroyale and Prince Flavus. N.S.W. turned into the home stretch with a lead of two lengths, and drawing away in the run home won by eight lengths from Prince Flavus, who was three lengths in advance of War Star. Amazed made play, but at the end of the first furlong Kinetic and Minuo came through, and the pair passed the half-mile post with Amazed at their heels, with Tipple and Kenaway next. Rounding the bend Kinetic's place alongside Minuo was taken by Tipple, who had Kinetic at her girths, with Kenaway at the head of a big bunch. Minuo came into the home stretch closely pursued by Kinetic, Kenaway, and Tipple, and an exciting engagement from the distance resulted in a neck win for Minuo from Tipple, who had Kinetic at her girths. Ryrie, and Norman Beverage, here to-day. Narromine won easily by 11 goals to nil, although Warren played well against such a strong combination.

Les Webb played with his old-time brilliancy, and scored 8 goals; he was very accurate, and placed splendidly. Boxer Stevenson is regaining his old form rapidly after a season's absence from the game.

LACROSSE.

SATURDAY'S COMPETITION.

All A grade matches were played on Saturday, although the grounds were in a sloppy condition. Eastern Suburbs now lead Sydney by 2 points.

A Grade.

Eastern Suburbs beat Sydney, 8 to nil.
Mosman beat Manly, 8 to nil.
Petersham beat University, 5-1.
Burwood beat Birchgrove, 3-2.

B Grade.

St. George beat Petersham, 19-1.
Hurstville B beat Petersham Delawares, 6-1.
Birchgrove beat Mosman, 12-1.
Bexley beat Mosman Juniors, 15-3.

SYDNEY v EASTERN SUBURBS.

Played at Waverley Oval, No. 2, and resulted in a win for Eastern Suburbs by 8 goals to nil. Both teams had an unbeaten record, and great rivalry existed. The oval was covered with water, but a very fast game was played. In the first quarter Eastern Suburbs easily outplayed their opponents, and led at the first change by 3 goals to nil. The second quarter was more even, although Sydney passed very erratically. C. Thomas was brilliant in the Eastern Suburbs goal, and repeatedly saved his side. The local team added another goal before half-time.

On the resumption of play Sydney sparkled up, but their passing was again weak, and Eastern Suburbs, on the other hand, played coolly and well, their stickwork being irreproachable. In the final quarter the local men exhibited good combination, and added three goals to their tally. Yuille was the best player of the Sydney team, and as goalkeeper he saved the situation repeatedly. Of the Eastern Suburbs team, A. Thomas, Fulwood, and Southwick played well in attack, and Harry Dawson and Greenberg were prominent in defence. Mr. Langker refereed.

PETERSHAM v UNIVERSITY.

Played at Burwood, and resulted in a win for Petersham by 5 goals to 1. The game was fast, and the stickwork good, Petersham being the first to score. University were hard pressed during the second quarter, and the half-time scores were:—Petersham 2, University 1. Petersham in the second half played a good game, scoring 3 goals, and the students, who were shooting too far out, failed to score. For University, Todd (goal), Fry (cover point), and Rayson (point) formed a stubborn defence, and Ferguson was prominent in the forward line. Dyer and F. Miller in the defence, Salt in the attack, and Goalkeeper M'Cormick were the prominent members of the Petersham team.

MOSMAN v MANLY.

Played at Moore Park, and won by Mosman by 8 goals to nil. Sutherland was in good form for the winners, and fed his homes admirably. Mosman scored shortly after the face-off. Manly in the first half lost several opportunities through bad stickwork. Gurney was very clever in intercepting. Moorehouse, Summerland, and Allworth scored for Mosman, who led at the half-time by 5 goal to nil. Manly brightened up after the spell, Duret being conspicuous, but he was not backed up; and Walker, in goal, played well. Mosman added to their score by 3 goals in this half. Manly's forward line was not safe, the men repeatedly "fumbling" the ball. The prominent players of the winning team were Sutherland, Moorehouse, and Gurney.

BURWOOD v BIRCHGROVE.

Played at the Domain, and after a close and exciting game the former won by 3 to 2. In the first quarter each team scored twice, and in the second Gregory scored a goal for Burwood. Lewis, for the winners, fended with excellent judgment. Half-time scores:—Burwood 3, Birchgrove 2. There was no score in the second half. Langker, Young, and Noble, of the Birchgrove team, made great efforts, but their shooting was bad. Hughes, Rankin, and Gregory were the best players of the Burwood team.

B GRADE.

The majority of the contests in this section were suspended, in view of the military review; but at the last moment, when it was found that that function had been postponed, an effort was made to carry out the fixtures, and four contests were played.

St. George beat Petersham B at Kogarah by 19-1.

Bexley beat Mosman Juniors by 15-3, at Moore Park. The winners proved too heavy for their opponents.

Hurstville B beat Petersham Delawares by 6-1 at the Domain. The Petersham goalkeeper played well, and Hinwood was the best player for the winners.

Birchgrove beat Mosman by 12-1. Vale and Cartwright played well for the winners.

The open hill-climb promoted by the club, and which was arranged to take place under the auspices of the National Auto Cycle Association, on Artillery Hill, National Park, on Saturday, has been postponed until June 21, on account of the heavy and dangerous state of the roads.

SPEED PENNANT.

CLAIMED BY METEOR II.

By twice covering the 14 miles course from Rose Bay to Manly at an easy pace on Saturday afternoon, Meteor II., the 90-h.p. engined hydroplane, owned by Mr. Chas. H. Relph, established his right to the speed pennant, which, under a glasscase, adorns the walls of the clubhouse of the Motor Yacht Club, Rose Bay, and, moreover, to the title, "champion motor boat of Sydney Harbour."

Keen disappointment was felt among enthusiasts when it was noticed a few minutes before the schedule time of starting that among the large fleet of all types of craft assembled in the club waters only one of the competitors was present. Punctually to time Meteor II., amid a cloud of smoke and spray, was despatched on her lone trip down the harbour, but, save for an occasional spurt for the edification of the passengers of the ferry steamers, her engines were not opened out.

The official times were:—First trip, 20m 4¾s; second heat, 20m 52.5s. An average speed of approximately 29 miles an hour. Meteor II. (late Kangaroo) and her equipment have been frequently described in these columns. She was steered by Mr. Relph, who was accompanied by his 11 years old son, and the engines were controlled by Mr. W. Judges, who was associated with the craft when owned by Mr. Anthony Hordern.

It subsequently transpired that a badly poisoned arm had prevented Mr. Reg. Holmes from putting the finishing touches to his boat Peerless, and driving her down to the start. Messrs. Moseley and James' speedy N.S.W. paid another visit to the bottom of Lavender Bay earlier in the week, and in consequence could not be made ready in time.

The holder of the speed pennant is open to a 30-day challenge, and there is every likelihood of a race taking place as soon as Mr. Holmes has sufficiently recovered.

AN EXTENDED TOUR.

IN THE NORTH AND NORTH-WEST.

Driving a 20/30 h.p. Chalmers car, Mr. Robson, late of Gunnedah, has recently completed a 2000-mile motor tour in the north and north-western portions of this State. He also journeyed for some distance in Queensland.

Leaving Sydney five weeks ago, Mr. Robson drove west to Mudgee. Subsequently, passing through Coolah, Gunnedah, and Uralla, the car was driven northwards to Roma, Queensland, where Mr. Robson purchased a property. Brisbane was visited via Toowoomba. The return journey to Sydney was made through the North Coast country, passing through Tweed Heads, Newcastle, and Wiseman's Ferry.

"The roads throughout, especially over the Queensland border," says Mr. Robson, "were very bad, black soil being terrific round Dalby. Chains had to be used on the majority of the run, and in many places water was encountered as much as 2ft 6in deep. The roads from Newcastle to Sydney were in an appalling state, especially the other side of Wiseman's Ferry. The water this side of Windsor covered the whole road, and was over 2ft deep." Mr. Robson travelled many hundreds of miles in and around the districts through which he passed. The car was fitted with a compressed-air engine starter, and demountable rims, carrying 880 x 120 tyres. An Australian-made torpedo type body was fitted.

FIVE-MILE ROAD RACE.

BATHURST, Sunday.

A five-mile bicycle road race was held over Vale-road course this afternoon. Results:—W. Honeyman, 1; Watkins, 2; G. Foram, 3. J. Atkins put up the fastest time, with 12m 35s.

LAWN TENNIS.

INTERCLUB COMPETITIONS.

Another general postponement of matches on Saturday was added to the already lengthy list. The courts all round Sydney were too wet for play as the result of the heavy rains, and no other decision than to postpone was possible.

ATHLETICS.

NOVICE CROSS COUNTRY CHAMPIONSHIP.

EAST SYDNEY FIRST IN TEAMS' RACE.

K. Foster, of the East Sydney A.A.C., secured individual honours in the third annual five miles novice cross country championship, held at Rose Bay on Saturday. The East Sydney Club controlled the arrangements in connection with the event, and the promoting body reached first place in the team's race, and J. Rolph, of the Hornsby Churches' Association, was the winner of the sealed handicap.

The race started from Lyne Park, thence across country around the Rose Bay golf links to the tramway line, New South Head-road, near the convent, returning along the main road to Rose Bay baths. Lyne Park was inundated by the late rains, and the roads were in bad condition. There were 63 starters, the greatest number on record for this particular event, and 58 completed the course.

Foster won by thirteen seconds from the second man, in 33m 30s, seven and a half seconds slower than the record for the course, established by T. Frazer last year. The officials were:—Referee, Mr. A. Wood; starter, Mr. D. Levy, M.L.A.; judges, Messrs. T. Grey, J. P. Grinton, W. B. Alexander, J. S. Maitland, G. H. Matthews, C. T. Ferguson, G. P. Parke, H. Smith; timekeepers, Messrs. T. C. TEAMS' RACE.

East Sydney A.A.C.: K. Foster 1, A. C. Elliott 2, H. Buhl 5, C. Griffiths 8—16, 1; Hornsby Churches' Association, J. Rolph 3, F. Higgins 7, F. Cotton 13, P. Morton 16—39, 2; Marrickville Harriers, C. Fleming 4, N. Banks 17, B. Philpott 28, A. Philpott 30—79 3; Redfern Harriers, W. Adkin 9, F. Delaney 22, P. Coll 23, M. Fitzgerald 40—94, 4; South Sydney Harriers, T. Smith 12, R. Lock 31, W. Jones 34, R. Allinson 51—128, 5.

The Auburn-Rookwood, Botany, Cumberland, Fairfield, Leichhardt, Newtown, Western Suburbs, and Y.M.C.A. clubs did not furnish full teams.

The men went off at about 3.30, and the field was well bunched for the two laps round the park. As they left the grass, Lock, Abel, Gilchrist, Guan, Barnes, and Philpott were conspicuous. Going towards the golf links Elliott went to the front, and held a slight advantage from Foster, Chapman, Rolph, Smith, and Griffiths, and the field was already well stretched out. Foster was in front after half the journey had been completed, and Elliott was always his nearest opponent, with Rolph, Smith, and Griffiths following. The three leading men were not afterwards displaced, and Foster increased his advantage, winning by 200 yards, while Elliott just beat Rolph on the post for second honours, and Fleming was a long way behind in fourth place.

Results of previous races:—

Year 1911.—Individual winner, C. Foster (E.S.). Teams' race not held. Time, 33m 51s.

Year 1912.—Individual winner, T. Frazer (S.S.). Teams' race, South Sydney. Time, 33m 22½s.

HARRIERS' RACE.

WOLLONGONG, Sunday.

A harriers' race, under the auspices of the local Life Saving Club, was run off yesterday, the course being from the post-office to Mount Pleasant railway crossing and back, a distance of about three miles. There were seven starters, but only four finished, as follows:—Frank Sandon (scratch), 1; A. Smith (33 seconds), 2; T. Irwin (70 seconds), 3; H. Peterson (10 seconds), 4. The first, second, and third each received a gold medal. The winner's time was 18m 50s.

BASEBALL.

SATURDAY'S COMPETITION GAMES.

The majority of the games set down for Saturday were played. After the heavy rain the various grounds were very sodden, and not at all conducive to good baseball. The Petersham-University contest was a surprise to the local supporters, as the home team were hard pressed to avert defeat. Lane Cove and Waverley also played a tie at Waverley. Mosman-North Sydney beat the premiers 9-3 at Leichhardt. All things considered, the quality of the play in the district division was excellent.

DISTRICT DIVISION.

LEICHHARDT v MOSMAN-NORTH SYDNEY.

Played at Leichhardt Oval, and won by Mosman-N. Sydney by 9-3. The premiers were beaten by a better batting side. The Mosman strikers looked like getting runs all the time, Barlow, Rowlands, Phypers, and Woolcott batted well for winners. Wild throwing by Leichhardt's infield caused four runs in Mosman's third innings. Batteries: Mosman, H. P. Woolcott (p.), W. Phypers (c.); Leichhardt, H. Franks (p.), J. Franks (c.). Umpire, F. Roach.

Leichhardt: 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 2—3.

PETERSHAM v UNIVERSITY.

Played at Petersham, and resulted in a tie, after a 10-innings game, the last of which was played in the dark. Wenholz, pitcher for Petersham, was not at his best in the first innings, of which 'Varsity took full advantage, and scored four runs. This, however, was their only score. Farrar pitched well for 'Varsity, as did Wenholz, after the first innings, and Dean for Petersham. Barbour (first base) and Back (third) fielded well for University; Oram at first base made no errors for Petersham. Umpire, A. C. Coulter.

Petersham: 0, 2, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 0—4.

LANE COVE v WAVERLEY.

Played at Waverley, and resulted in a tie after a good game. The low scoring was remarkable, considering the nature of the ground and wet ball. Batteries: Lane Cove, P. Johnston (p.), C. W. Simmonds (c.); Waverley, P. Starey (p.), A. Colby (c.). Lane Cove's pitcher was the better of the two. The field work of both teams was good. Umpire, W. C. J. Kelly.

Waverley: 1, 0, 0, 0, 2, 0, 0, 0, 0—3.

PETERSHAM II v PETERSHAM JUN. A.

Played at Petersham, and won by the latter by 12-9. The Juniors played better than the local team. For the winners Panton pitched and played his position well; Moriarty was very sure at third base. In fact, all the infield handled the very wet ball splendidly, and Tonkins (catcher), throwing to second, was good. Petersham tried three pitchers. Cave (catcher) was easily the best of a weak infield. Umpire, R. Batty.

Petersham II.: 1, 0, 0, 8, 0—9.
Petersham Juniors A: 5, 0, 3, 3, 1—12.

ST. GEORGE v Y.M.C.A.

Played at Bexley, and won by St. George after a good game by 10-8. Only eight innings were played. Umpire, G. Stroud.

St. George: 3, 0, 2, 1, 1, 3, 0, 0—10.
Y.M.C.A.: 1, 0, 0, 0, 2, 1, 2, 2—8.

BROTHERHOOD v LANE COVE II.

Played at Longueville, and won by Lane Cove by 24-11. Umpire, J. D. Hay.

SUMMER HILL v LEICHHARDT II.

Played at Hammond Park, and won by Leichhardt by 12-11. Umpire, C. Mortley.

Summer Hill: 3, 3, 2, 0, 1, 2, 0—11.
Leichhardt II.: 0, 1, 7, 0, 4, 0, 0—12.

UNIVERSITY II. v SURREY UNITED.

Played at Hammond Park, and won by Surrey United by 26-2. Umpire, C. Mortley.

University II.: 1, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0—2.
Surrey United: 9, 4, 1, 2, 2, 2, 6—26.

B DIVISION.

PETERSHAM JUNIOR B v ENDEAVOUR.

Played at Petersham Junior ground, and won by Petersham. The Juniors showed more knowledge of the game. Umpire, D. Angus.

Petersham Junior B: 2, 2, 5, 0, 3—12.
Endeavour: 1, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0—2.

WAVERLEY IV. v ST. BEDE'S.

Played at Waverley, and won by Waverley by 19-3. Umpire, W. Chase.

Waverley IV.: 4, 4, 1, 1, 3, 0, 6—19.
St. Bede's: 1, 1, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0—3.

WAVERLEY III. v LEICHHARDT III.

Played at Leichhardt, and won by Leichhardt by 10-8. Umpire, W. Jones.

UNRULY SPECTATORS.

The report of Umpire W. C. J. Kelly with regard to the conduct of some of the spectators towards him on Saturday, June 7, on the occasion of the match Leichhardt v Paddington, at Leichhardt, will be dealt with on Tuesday night at the meeting of the association.

AN AMERICAN PLAYER.

Mr. J. J. Baschert, an American, has written to the association, expressing a wish to play baseball with one of the local clubs. If he has not resided in Sydney for six months, the permit committee should have no difficulty in finding him a place with one of the clubs.

BOWLS.

NO PLAY ON SATURDAY.

The recent heavy rains soddened the greens to such an extent that the various matches set down for Saturday had to be postponed.

HOCKEY.

BOHEMIANS v CORINTHIAN I.

Played at Marrickville oval and won by Bohemians by 5 goals to 4. For winners M'Laclan and Spies scored two goals each and Davenport one, while Hinton scored two and Bosworth and Theobald (one each) scored goals for the losers.

THE TRIAL GAMES.

The following have been selected to play in the practice match on Monday, 23rd:—

Whites.—Redgrave (Bandits), Terrey (University), Massey (Corinthians), Lloyd (Corona), M'Lachlan (Bohemians), Pigg (Bandits), Abel (Dalgetys), Shelley (Bandits), Molloy (Athenians), H. Flockhart (Corona), Cocks (Dalgetys).

Colours.—M'Kenzie (Corinthians), Ait (Dalgetys), Castles (Bohemians), Hall (Dalgetys), Hinton (Corinthians), Wood (Pilgrims), Buskin (Bohemians), Deffell (Corona), Batger (Bandits), M'Kenzie (Bohemians), Ames (Bohemians).

Emergencies.—Davenport (Bohemians), Cooper (Dalgetys), K. Flockhart (Corona).

ROWING.

LEICHHARDT CLUB.

The Leichhardt Rowing Club held a scratch four-oared race over the Drummoyne Bridge to rowing shed course on Saturday. The crews were:—Benns (stroke), W. Carroll, Brown, and Renauf; F. Mison (stroke), M'Intyre, L. Carroll, and Levy; M. Mison (stroke), Burton, Weatherley, and Tait; Wheeler (stroke), A. Symons, Bullen, and Trevillien.

Benns's crew won the final by a length. This was the last of the winter races in connection with the president's trophy, which has been won by W. Carroll, with V. Brown second.

BILLIARDS.

MARKERS' TOURNAMENT.

The above tournament will be continued this evening, at 7.30, at the parlours of Messrs. Heiron and Smith, 216 Castlereagh-street, when the following heats will take place:—G. Swift (rec. 200) v C. Clarke (Scotty) (rec. 300); L. Brown (rec. 240) v T. Wells (rec. 255).

NATIONAL CLUB TOURNAMENT.

The above club's tournament will be continued on Monday night, when the following games will be played:—

At 7.45 o'clock, E. G. Allen (rec. 120) v C. Horan (rec. 125); at 8.45 o'clock, A. Goddard (rec. 120) v Rowley Eaton (owes 10).

BOXING.

A HALF-MINUTE CONTEST.

The contest between Herb M'Coy and Joe Russell at the Stadium on Saturday night was one of the shortest on record, lasting as it did little more than half a minute—35 seconds to be exact. Both lads stripped in perfect condition, and a good match was expected, though M'Coy, who weighed 9st 10½lb to the other's 9st 5½lb, looked a size bigger than Russell. Both shaped confidently, and after a light exchange of blows M'Coy sent his right to the side of the head, and Russell went into a clinch. He was slightly dazed, and when the referee called "break" he stepped back with his guard open. Quick as lightning M'Coy whipped up his right to the chin, and Russell fell forward and was counted out.

GIBBONS BEATS AHERN.

NEW YORK, June 13.

Mike Gibbons, of St. Paul, knocked out Young Ahern, of Brooklyn, in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-rounds fight at Madison-square.

BRISBANE CONTESTS.

ATTEMPT TO SERVE INJUNCTION.

STATEMENT BY HOME SECRETARY.

BRISBANE, Sunday.

At the Palace Gardens on Saturday night a good attendance witnessed the boxing contest between Sol Jones, of Queensland, and Sid Stagg. Stagg's greater science enabled him to maintain an advantage, and he was awarded the verdict after a 20-rounds contest.

Prior to the contest commencing an attempt was made to serve an injunction on Jones, it being stated that he was under an agreement to box only under another management. Jones entered the ring from an unexpected quarter, and donned the gloves, whilst others kept the server of the injunction at a distance. Once the contest started the latter retired.

At the Olympia Stadium Frank Thorne secured the verdict over Tommy O'Brien after 20 rounds.

The Home Secretary stated yesterday that the order-in-council which has issued rescinding certain resolutions of the Brisbane and South Brisbane councils was preceded by the receipt of the following minute from the Commissioner of Police:—"I am of opinion that one stadium, properly conducted, is sufficient for the cities of Brisbane and South Brisbane, and that to increase the number of stadiums would ultimately result in degrading the sport of boxing. For obvious reasons I am further of opinion that no license should be granted for a stadium adjacent or close to licensed victuallers' premises." The Home Secretary, during the course of an interview, said that the very strictest supervision would be maintained over all contests taking place at the Stadium, which is being allowed to remain in operation.

THE SUBURBS.

NORTHERN SUBURBS' GARBAGE.

At the last meeting of the Mosman Council it was decided to appoint a special committee to confer with the North Sydney Council with reference to establishing a garbage destructor for the two municipalities.

The engineer of the North Sydney Council has been instructed to report a proposal that has been made for the towing of house refuse out to sea.

SNOWS'

doorways. For even in these days of much moisture there has been great activity in the store, and many shoppers passing in and out. This is not the result of

LAST WEEK OF DEMONSTRATIONS.

TO-DAY'S ATTRACTIONS.

HOW OUR SHIRTS AND PYJAMAS ARE MADE.
CARPENTERS' TOOLS DEMONSTRATION.
"LEO" WIRE MATTRESS MAKING.
KOHLER'S COCOA.
MUSIC BY THE LADIES' VENETIAN ORCHESTRA.

Commencing at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon, we're giving a Practical Demonstration of how our Shirts and Pyjamas are made, and to show visitors the various stages of manufacture, we have converted our No. 6 BROADWAY WINDOW into a Modern Factory, equipping it with all the machinery necessary for making Shirts and Pyjamas. Quite apart from the ordinary high-power machines, which are used in Shirt Manufacturing, we have installed two wonderful machines. The first is a Buttonhole Maker. Its sole object is to make Buttonholes, and when we tell you that it is capable of making 2500 finished Buttonholes in a day you will know it is something well worth coming to see.

The next machine is the Button Sewer, which sews on Buttons at the rate of 500 an hour. We would like visitors to see both these machines, as they play a very important part in the finish of our garments.

OUR LIBERAL GUARANTEE.

To prove that we make the best Ready-to-wear Shirts we give the following guarantee:—"Any shirt not giving satisfactory wear we guarantee to replace the garment."

Another Demonstration of the "LEO" MATTRESS will be given at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon. If you have not yet seen the machinery employed in Wire Mattress Making it will be time well spent in coming to see the Demonstration.

THE LADIES' VENETIAN ORCHESTRA.

In our Refreshment Room the Ladies' Venetian Orchestra will be in attendance this morning and afternoon.
